§ 10-79.1. * When any person shall be convicted of failing to leave seed trees uncut as required by § 10-76 or 10-76.1 of this article, the Judge of the County Court or the Judge of the Circuit Court, as the case may be, shall require the person so convicted to immediately post with the Court a cash deposit or a bond of a reputable surety company in favor of the State Forester of Virginia in the amount of five dollars for each and every seed tree adjudged to be in violation of this article.

The Judge of the County Court or the Circuit Court shall cause the said cash deposit or surety bond to be delivered to the State Forester who shall hold the said cash or surety bond in a special account, until it is used or released as hereinafter provided. The purpose of the cash or surety bond is to insure that the general cutover area on which seed trees are found to be in violation shall be planted with tree seedlings of the same species as the trees cut in violation of this article in a manner hereinafter specified.

For each tree found in violation under this article, one hundred tree seedlings shall be planted on the general cutover area on which seed trees are found in violation, in spots where seedlings, saplings or trees of the required species, as hereinafter specified, do not occur at the time of planting. Each seedling shall be planted in a separate hole, and the seedlings shall be distributed over the area in such a manner that no planted seedling shall be less than six feet distant from any other planted seedling, and seedlings shall not be planted closer than six feet to any sapling or tree which is liable to cast shade from direct sunlight over the planted seedling. The seedlings shall be planted during the period of the year when forest tree seedlings are customarily planted in the section of the State in which the cutover area is located. After receipt of the tree seedlings from the nursery, care shall be taken to keep the seedling roots in a moist, uninjured condition at all times previous to actual planting, and the seedlings shall be planted in a careful, workmanlike manner. Planted seedlings shall be of the same tree species as the seed trees found in violation, or if two or more seed tree species are found in violation, the species of the planted seedlings shall be in proportion to the seed trees found in violation. The above specified manner of planting and tree species planted shall be observed whether the planting is done by the person found in violation of this article, or by the State Forester.

A person convicted of violation of this article may, within one year next following date of conviction, plant tree seedlings on the general cutover area of the specie or species and in the manner hereinbefore specified. Upon completion of the planting, the person shall immediately notify the State Forester in writing that the area has been planted. The State Forester or his representative shall then inspect the area and if he finds the planting to be done in accordance with the specifications hereinbefore set forth, he shall notify the person in writing and return the cash deposit or surety bond to the person depositing it.

If, upon inspection, the State Forester finds that the general cutover area or any part thereof has not been planted in the manner and during the period of year hereinbefore specified, or that the area has not been planted previous to one year following date of conviction, the State Forester shall then plant the area during the next following planting season, and do such forest cultural work as he may deem necessary by reason of the delayed planting, keeping a careful and accurate account of all costs incurred, including a reasonable administrative cost. Following completion of the planting operation the State Forester shall prepare a certified statement showing the cost of planting, which cost shall be paid from the cash deposit, or if a surety bond has been deposited the State Forester shall proceed to collect the cost of planting from the bonding company. The State Forester shall then submit to the person making the deposit a certified debtor shall be eligible unless the indebtedness constitutes an irrevocable obligation to repay which is binding upon him during his lifetime at the time the insurance becomes effective upon his life.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either from the creditor's funds, or from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. A policy on which part or all of the premium is to be derived from the collection from the insured debtors of identifiable charges not required of uninsured debtors shall not include, in the class or classes of debtors eligible for insurance, debtors under obligations outstanding at its date of issue without evidence of individual insurability unless at least seventy-five per centum of the then eligible debtors elect to pay the required charges. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the collection of such identifiable charges must insure all eligible debtors, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(3) The policy may be issued only if the group of eligible debtors is then receiving new entrants at the rate of at least one hundred persons yearly, or may reasonably be expected to receive at least one hundred new entrants during the first policy year, and only if the policy reserves to the insurer the right to require evidence of individual insurability if less than seventy-five per centum of the new entrants become insured. The policy may exclude from the classes eligible for insurance classes of debtors determined by age.

(4) The amount of insurance on the life of any debtor shall at no time exceed the amount owed by him which is repayable in installments to the creditor, or ten thousand dollars, whichever is less. The amount of the insurance on the life of any debtor shall at no time exceed the amount of the unpaid indebtedness, or ten thousand dollars, whichever is less.

(5) The insurance shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of such payment.

2. That §§ 38.1-473, 38.1-474 as amended, 38.1-477.1, 38.1-477.2, 38.1-478 and 38.1-481 of the Code of Virginia are repealed.

3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any policy of group life insurance legally in effect on the effective date of this Act, or to any renewal or renewals thereof issued by the same carrier or to any reissue thereof by another carrier on substantially the same terms as the policy it replaces.

§ 38.1-428.1. In each such policy there shall be a provision that if the insurance, or any portion of it, on a person covered under the policy, other than a child of an employee insured pursuant to § 38.1-472.1, ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, such person shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance without disability or other supplementary benefits, provided application for the individual policy shall be made, and the first premium paid to the insurer, within thirty-one days after such termination, and provided further that,

(a) The individual policy shall, at the option of such person be on any one of the forms, except term insurance, then customarily issued by the insurer at the age and for the amount applied for;

(b) the individual policy shall be in an amount not in excess of the amount of life insurance which ceases because of such termination less the amount of any life insurance for which such person is or becomes eligible under any group policy within thirty-one days after such termination, provided that any amount of insurance which shall have matured on or before the date of such termination as an endowment payable to the person insured, whether in one sum or in instalments or in the form of an annuity, shall not, for the purposes of this provision, be included in the amount which is considered to cease because of such termination; and

In each such policy there shall be a provision that if the group policy terminates or is amended so as to terminate the insurance of any class of insured persons, every person, other than a child of an employee insured pursuant to § 38.1-472.1, insured thereunder at the date of such termination whose insurance terminates and who has been so insured for at least five years prior to such termination date shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer an individual policy of life insurance, subject to the same conditions and limitations as are provided by § 38.1-428.1, except that the group policy may provide that the amount of such individual policy shall not exceed the smaller of (a) the amount of the person's life insurance protection ceasing because of the termination or amendment of the group policy, less the amount of any life insurance for which he is or becomes eligible under any group policy issued or reinstated by the same or another insurer within thirty-one days after such termination, and (b) two thousand dollars.

§ 38.1-428.3. In each such policy there shall be a provision that if a person insured under the group policy dies during the period within which he would have been entitled to have an individual policy issued to him in accordance with § 38.1-428.1 or § 38.1-428.2 and before such an individual policy shall have become effective, the amount of life insurance which he would have been entitled to have issued to him under such individual policy shall be payable as a claim under the group policy, whether or not application for the individual policy or the payment of the first premium therefor has been made.

§ 38.1-428.4. In each such policy issued to a creditor to insure debtors of such creditor, where any part of the premium is paid by the debtors or by the creditor from identifiable charges collected from the insured

§ 2. The governing body of such county shall have the further power to exempt from such assessment, land which may be owned by any political subdivision, or which may not derive the required peculiar benefit from the construction of the sewer line, or curbs, gutters and sidewalks, on which such land abuts; or it may defer the assessment of such land until it shall appear that the land in question has become so peculiarly benefited.

§ 3. Whenever the amount proposed to be assessed against each landowner has been ascertained, all further proceedings as to notice of hearing or appeal shall be as determined by Chapter 20 of Title 15 of the Code of 1950 excepting as hereinafter otherwise provided.

§ 4. When such assessment has finally been established, the amount thereof, a brief description of the property assessed, and the name of the owner of record thereof, shall be certified by the governing body to the treasurer of the county, who shall collect the same and be accountable therefor, as in the case of other county taxes. Upon default in the payment of such amount, or any installment thereof, the land shall not be sold as in the case of general land taxes which have become delinquent, but in lieu thereof the treasurer may institute, in his own name, appropriate proceedings to enforce the payment thereof. From the date that the assessment has been certified to the treasurer, such amount shall be a lien upon the property thereby affected, which lien shall have priority over all other liens except that of county taxes regularly assessed. The treasurer shall maintain in his office, a firmly bound book, or books, wherein he shall cause to be recorded, immediately upon receipt of the certificate thereof, the name of the owner of each parcel of land against which such an assessment has been levied, a brief description of the land affected thereby, and the amount of the assessment thereon. He shall, likewise, record in such book any payment of, or on account of, the assessment, immediately upon receipt thereof; and upon the written request of any person, which request shall designate the parcel of land and the name of the owner thereof, the treasurer shall issue his certificate showing the amount of principal and interest then unpaid on the assessment against such parcel of land.

§ 5. The governing body of any such county is hereby vested with the power of eminent domain insofar as may be necessary for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, maintenance and repair of any part of such a sewerage system, or curb, gutter and sidewalk system, and in the exercise of such power is hereby vested with all of the authority to exercise such power as is given to the State Highway Commissioner of Virginia by Article 5 of Chapter 1 of Title 33 of the Code of 1950, except that the enhancement, if any, in value of the remaining property of the landowner by reason of the construction of any sewer line contemplated or made by such board shall not be shown as an offset against the damage, if any, resulting to such remaining property of such landowner by reason of such construction; nor shall the taking of any such property under the provisions of such article preclude the board from assessing the land abutting on such sewer line, in the same manner and to the same extent, that other property may be assessed under the provisions of this act.

It shall be the duty of the Commonwealth's attorney to notify the juvenile and domestic relations court within three days after final adjudication if he deems action by the court of record necessary. Thereafter, the decision as to whether or not to present the case to the grand jury shall be in the sole discretion of the juvenile and domestic relations court. If the grand jury returns a true bill upon such indictment the jurisdiction of the juvenile court as to such case shall terminate. If a child fourteen years of age or over is charged with an offense, which, if committed by an adult, could be punishable by confinement in the penitentiary and such child is a fugitive from justice, then the juvenile and domestic relations court may nevertheless certify such child for proper criminal proceedings to the appropriate court as above provided. In no case shall any child under the age of fourteen be so certified, nor shall any such child be indicted or tried under the criminal laws of this State. The ages specified in this section refer to the age of the child or minor at the time of the alleged commission of the offense.

(B) Corporate charitable contributions.—No deduction shall be allowable under subparagraph (A) to a corporation for any contribution or gift which would be allowable as a deduction under subsection (n) were it not for the five per centum limitation therein contained and for the requirement therein that payment be made within a specified time.

(2) Nontrade or nonbusiness expenses.—In the case of an individual, all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year for the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

All interest actually paid within the taxable year on tax liabilities due to the State or the United States shall be deductible as interest.

(c) Taxes.—Taxes paid or accrued within the taxable year, except income taxes, inheritance taxes, and taxes assessed for local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed.

In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and lessee. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner

§ 55-210.9. All intangible personal property held for the owner by any State or federal court, public corporation, public authority, or public officer in this State, or a political subdivision thereof, that has remained unclaimed by the owner for more than seven years is presumed abandoned, provided, however, that this provision shall in no way affect the laws of this State relating to such property in the custody or control of any State court or on deposit or that may be deposited in a bank or other depository to the credit of any court in any cause, and provided further that if any federal statute provides for the distribution of any unclaimed property subject to the jurisdiction of a federal court, this statute shall not apply.

§ 55-210.10. All intangible personal property, not otherwise covered by this act, including any income or increment thereon and deducting any lawful charges, that is held or owing in this State in the ordinary course of the holder's business and has remained unclaimed by the owner for more than seven years after it became payable or distributable is presumed abandoned.

Reciprocity for Property Presumed Abandoned or Escheated Under the Laws of Another State

§ 55-210.11. If specific property which is subject to the provisions of §§ 55-210.3, 55-210.6, 55-210.7, 55-210.8 and 55-210.10 is held for or owed or distributable to an owner whose last known address is in another state by a holder who is subject to the jurisdiction of that state, the specific property is not presumed abandoned in this State and subject to this act if:

(a) It may be claimed as abandoned or escheated under the laws of such other state; and

(b) The laws of such other state make reciprocal provision that similar specific property is not presumed abandoned or escheatable by such other state when held for or owed or distributable to an owner whose last known address is within this State by a holder who is subject to the jurisdiction of this State.

(b) The report shall be verified and shall include:

(1) the name, if known, and last known address, if any, of each person appearing from the records of the holder to be the owner of any property of the value of fifty dollars or more presumed abandoned under this act;

(2) In case of unclaimed funds of life insurance corporations, the full name of the insured or annuitant and his last known address according to the life insurance corporation's records;

(3) The nature and identifying number, if any, or description of the property and the amount appearing from the records to be due, except that items of value under fifty dollars each may be reported in aggregate;

(4) The date when the property became payable, demandable, or returnable, and the date of the last transaction with the owner with respect to the property; and

(5) Other information which the State Treasurer prescribes by rule as necessary for the administration of this act.

(c) If the person holding property presumed abandoned is a successor to other persons who previously held the property for the owner, or if the holder has changed his name while holding the property, he shall file with his report all prior known names and addresses of each holder of the property.

(d) The report shall be filed before November one of each year as of June thirty next preceding, but the report of life insurance corporations shall be filed before May one of each year as of December thirty-one next preceding. The State Treasurer may postpone the reporting date upon written request by any person required to file a report.

(e) If the holder of property presumed abandoned under this act knows the whereabouts of the owner and if the owner's claim has not been barred by the statute of limitations, the holder shall, before filing the annual report, communicate with the owner and take necessary steps to prevent abandonment from being presumed. The holder shall exercise due diligence to ascertain the whereabouts of the owner.

(f) Verification, if made by a partnership, shall be executed by a partner; if made by an unincorporated association or private corporation, by an officer; and if made by a public corporation, by its chief fiscal officer.

(g) The initial report filed under this act shall include all items of property that would have been presumed abandoned if this act had been in effect during the ten year period preceding its effective date.

§ 55-210.13. (a) Within one hundred twenty days from the filing of the report required by § 55-210.12, the State Treasurer shall cause notice to be published at least once each week for two successive weeks in an English language newspaper of general circulation in the county or city in this State in which is located the last known address of any person to be named in the notice. If no address is listed or if the address is outside this State, the notice shall be published in the county or city in which the holder of the abandoned property has his principal place of business within this State.

(b) The published notice shall be entitled "Notice of Names of Persons Appearing to be Owners of Abandoned Property," and shall contain:

(1) The names in alphabetical order and last known addresses, if any, of persons listed in the report and entitled to notice within the county as hereinbefore specified.

(2) A statement that information concerning the amount or description of the property and the name and address of the holder may be obtained by any persons possessing an interest in the property by addressing an inquiry to the State Treasurer.

(3) A statement that if proof of claim is not presented by the owner to the holder and if the owner's right to receive the property is not established to the holder's satisfaction within sixty-five days from the date of the second published notice, the abandoned property will be placed not later than eighty-five days after such publication date in the custody of the State Treasurer to whom all further claims must thereafter be directed.

(c) The State Treasurer is not required to publish in such notice any item of less than twenty-five dollars unless he deems such publication to be in the public interest.

(d) Within one hundred twenty days from receipt of the report required by § 55-210.12, the State Treasurer shall mail a notice to each person having an address listed therein who appears to be entitled to property of the value of twenty-five dollars or more presumed abandoned under this act.

(e) The mailed notice shall contain:

(1) A statement that, according to a report filed with the State Treasurer, property is being held to which the addressee appears entitled.

(2) The name and address of the person holding the property and any necessary information regarding changes of name and address of the holder.

(3) A statement that, if satisfactory proof of claim is not presented by the owner to the holder by the date specified in the published notice, the property will be placed in the custody of the State Treasurer to whom all further claim must be directed.

§ 55-210.14. Every person who has filed a report as provided by § 55-210.12 shall within twenty days after the time specified in § 55-210.13 for claiming the property from the holder pay or deliver to the State Treasurer all abandoned property specified in the report, except that, if the owner establishes his right to receive the abandoned property to the satisfaction of the holder within the time specified in § 55-210.13, or if it appears that for some other reason the presumption of abandonment is erroneous, the holder need not pay or deliver the property, which will no longer be presumed abandoned, to the State Treasurer, but in lieu thereof shall file a verified written explanation of the proof of claim or of the error in the presumption of abandonment.

§ 55-210.15. Upon the payment or delivery of abandoned property to the State Treasurer, the State shall assume custody and shall be responsible for the safekeeping thereof. Any person who pays or delivers abandoned property to the State Treasurer under this act is relieved of all liability to the extent of the value of the property so paid or delivered for any claim which then exists or which thereafter may arise or be made in respect to the property. Any holder who has paid moneys to the State Treasurer pursuant to this act may make payment to any person appearing to such holder to be entitled thereto, and upon proof of such payment and proof that the payee was entitled thereto, the State Treasurer shall forthwith reimburse the holder for the payment.

§ 55-210.16. When property is paid or delivered to the State Treasurer under this act, the owner is not entitled to receive income or other increments accruing thereafter.

§ 55-210.17. The expiration of any period of time specified by statute or court order, during which an action or proceeding may be commenced or enforced to obtain payment of a claim for money or recovery of property, shall not prevent the money or property from being presumed abandoned property, nor affect any duty to file a report required by this act or to pay or deliver abandoned property to the State Treasurer.

§ 55-210.18. (a) All abandoned property other than money delivered to the State Treasurer under this act shall within one year after the

The State Treasurer may decline the highest bid and reoffer the property for sale if he considers the price bid insufficient. He need not offer any property for sale if, in his opinion, the probable cost of sale exceeds the value of the property.

(b) Any sale held under this section shall be preceded by a single publication of notice thereof, at least three weeks in advance of sale in an English language newspaper of general circulation in the county or city where the property is to be sold.

(c) The purchaser at any sale conducted by the State Treasurer pursuant to this act shall receive title to the property purchased, free from all claims of the owner or prior holder thereof and of all persons claiming through or under them. The State Treasurer shall execute all documents necessary to complete the transfer of title.

§ 55-210.19. (a) All funds received under this act, including the proceeds from the sale of abandoned property under § 55-210.18, shall forthwith be deposited by the State Treasurer in the Literary Fund of the State, except that the State Treasurer shall retain in a separate trust fund an amount not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars from which he shall make prompt payment of claims duly allowed by him as hereinafter provided. Before making the deposit he shall record the name and last known address of each person appearing from the holders' reports to be entitled to the abandoned property and of the name and last known address of each insured person or annuitant, and with respect to each policy or contract listed in the report of a life insurance corporation, its number, the name of the corporation, and the amount due. The record shall be available for public inspection at all reasonable business hours.

(b) Before making any deposit to the credit of the Literary Fund the State Treasurer may deduct: (1) any costs in connection with sale of abandoned property, (2) any costs of mailing and publication in connection with any abandoned property, and (3) reasonable service charges.

§ 55-210.20. Any person claiming an interest in any property delivered to the State under this act may file a claim thereto or to the proceeds from the sale thereof on the form prescribed by the State Treasurer.

§ 55-210.21. The State Treasurer shall consider any claim filed under this act and may hold a hearing and receive evidence concerning it. If a hearing is held, he shall prepare a finding and a decision in writing on each claim filed, stating the substance of any evidence heard by him and the reasons for his decision. The decision shall be a public record.

(b) If the claim is allowed, the State Treasurer shall make payment forthwith. The claim shall be paid without deduction for costs of notices or sale or for service charges.

§ 55-210.22. Any person aggrieved by a decision of the State Treasurer or as to whose claim the State Treasurer has failed to act within ninety days after the filing of the claim, may commence an action in the circuit or corporation court of the county or city wherein the property claimed is situated to establish his claim. The proceeding shall be brought within ninety days after the decision of the State Treasurer or within one hundred eighty days from the filing of the claim if the State Treasurer fails to act.

§ 55-210.23. The State Treasurer, after receiving reports of property deemed abandoned pursuant to this act, may decline to receive any property reported which he deems to have a value less than the cost of giving notice and holding sale, or he may, if he deems it desirable because of the small sum involved, postpone taking possession until a sufficient sum accumulates. § 55-210.24. The State Treasurer may at reasonable times and upon reasonable notice examine the records of any person if he has reason to believe that such person has failed to report property that should have been reported pursuant to this act.

§ 55-210.25. If any person refuses to deliver property to the State Treasurer as required under this act, he shall bring an action in a court of appropriate jurisdiction to enforce such delivery.

§ 55-210.26. (a) Any person who wilfully fails to render any report or perform other duties required under this act, shall be punished by a fine of one hunded dollars for each day such report is withheld.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. That §§ 63-73 as amended, 63-241, 63-351 as amended, and 16.1-178 of the Code of Virginia, be amended and reenacted as follows:

§ 16.1-178. If the court shall find that the child or minor is within the purview of this law it shall so decree and by order duly entered proceed as follows:

(1) Take custody and place the child or minor on probation, under such conditions as the court shall determine.

(2) Leave the child or minor in his own home under the supervision of the court with or without taking custody; or take custody and place the child or minor temporarily in a suitable home, under supervision of the court, pending final disposition of the case.

has jurisdiction or, at the discretion of the court, to the local board of the county or city in which the child has residence if other than the county or city in which the court has jurisdiction, which board shall accept such child for care and custody; provided, however, that * such local board if one other than in the county or city in which the court has jurisdiction, shall not be required to accept such child until it has been given reasonable notice of the pendency of the case and an opportunity to be heard. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the commitment of a child to any local board of public welfare in the State when such local board consents to the commitment.

(4) Take custody and commit the child or minor coming within the provisions of paragraphs (g), (h) and (i) of subsection (1) of § 16.1-158 of this law to the * care and custody of the State Board of Welfare and Institutions if the child's or minor's behavior is such that the court deems it cannot be satisfactorily or adequately dealt with in his own locality or with its resources. All children intended to be placed in one of the industrial schools of the State shall be committed to the State Board of Welfare and Institutions, it being the purpose of this law that the Director shall determine which children or minors shall be so placed.

(4½) Take custody and commit the child or minor to the care and custody * of a person within the degree of relationship to the child as specified in paragraph (d) of § 63-141 of the Code of Virginia if, after an investigation of the suitability of such commitment, the court finds that it would be for the best interests of the child and the State.

(5) Take custody and commit the child or minor to the care and custody * of a private agency or organization approved and licensed by the State Board to care for * or place children or minors in suitable foster homes or institutions. No court shall commit a child or minor to an agency or organization out of the State without the approval of the Director.

(6) Commit the child or minor, if adjudged mentally defective, to a mental institution, in accordance with the provisions of the law.

(7) Refer or send the child or minor, if fourteen years of age or older, for proceedings and trial to a court having criminal jurisdiction, in accordance with the provisions of this law.

(8) In case of traffic violations the court may suspend an operator's license or require restitution in accordance with provisions of this law, or it may impose the penalties which are authorized to be imposed on adults for such violations.

(9) As disciplinary measure the court may impose a fine not exceeding fifty dollars upon a child or minor of working age or suspend his driving permit when such child or minor is found by the court to have violated the traffic laws of this State or a State or federal law or local ordinance. All sums so ordered to be paid may be paid by the child or minor in monthly or weekly installments; such child or minor may also be required to make restitution or reparation for damages resulting from his wrongful conduct.

(10) Order support or such other care and treatment, medical or otherwise, as the court deems to be for the best interests of the child or minor.

Commitment of a child by any court under any of the provisions of this section shall not per se confer the right upon the receiving agency to place such child for adoption. If proper studies indicate that it is for the child's best interest and that of the State that such child be separated permanently from its parent, parents or guardian, the order of commitment shall so state either in its original form or by subsequent proper revision thereof by the court, in which event the agency having custody of the child shall be free to make such permanent plans for the child as may otherwise be within the scope of the agency's authority.

The provisions of this section, insofar as they may affect a local board of public welfare or other agency in giving consent for the adoption of any child placed in its custody by order of a court, shall not operate to change or invalidate such consent in any adoption suit pending on July 1, 1960.

§ 63-73. Any local board of public welfare shall have the right to accept for placement in suitable family homes or institutions, subject to the supervision of the Commissioner and in accordance with rules prescribed by the State Board, such persons under eighteen years of age as may be entrusted to it by the parent, parents or guardian * , or committed by any court of competent jurisdiction. Such local board of public welfare shall, in accordance with the rules prescribed by the State Board and in accordance with the parental agreement or other order by which such person is entrusted or committed to its care, have custody and control of the person so entrusted or committed * to it until he is lawfully discharged, has been adopted or has attained his majority; and such local board shall have authority to place for adoption, and to consent to the adoption of, any child properly committed or entrusted to its care when the order of commitment or entrustment agreement between the parent or parents and the agency provides for the permanent separation of such child from his parent or parents.

§ 63-241. A licensed child welfare agency shall have the right to accept, for any purpose not contrary to the limitations contained in its license, such persons under eighteen years of age as may be entrusted or committed to it by the parents, guardians, relatives or other persons having legal custody thereof, or committed by any court of competent jurisdiction. The agency shall, within the terms of its license and the agreement or order by which such person is entrusted or committed to its care, have custody and control of every such person so entrusted or committed and accepted, until he is lawfully discharged, has been adopted, or has attained his majority.

A licensed child placing agency may place for adoption, and is empowered to consent to the adoption of, any child who is properly committed or entrusted to its care when the order of commitment or the entrustment agreement between the parent or parents and the agency provides for the permanent separation of such child from his parent or parents.

§ 63-351. No petition for adoption shall be granted, except as hereinafter provided in this section, unless there be written consent to the proposed adoption filed with the petition. Such consent shall be signed and acknowledged before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgements.

The consent of a parent for the adoption of his or her child shall not be valid unless the child be at least ten days old at the time the consent is signed.

A parent who has not reached the age of twenty-one shall have legal capacity to give consent to adoption and shall be as fully bound thereby as if said parent had attained the age of twenty-one years.

Consent by the child shall be necessary if the child is fourteen years of age or older.

Consent shall be executed:

(1) By the parents or surviving parent of a child born in wedlock; provided, however, if the parents are divorced and one has been divested of custody by terms of the divorce and does not consent to the adoption the petition may be granted without the consent of such parent; or

(2) By the mother of a child born out of wedlock. The consent of the father of a child born to an unmarried woman shall not be required unless such child becomes legitimate prior to the filing of the petition for adoption; or

(3) By the child placing agency or the local board of public welfare having custody of the child, with right to place him for adoption, through court commitment or parental agreement as provided in § 63-73 or § 63-241 of the Code; or

(4) If after hearing evidence the court finds that the consent of any person or agency whose consent is hereinabove required is withheld contrary to the best interests of the child, or if a valid consent is unobtainable, the court may grant the petition without such consent.

If the child is not in the custody of a child placing agency and both parents are deceased, the court, after hearing evidence to that effect, may grant the petition without the filing of any consent.

§ 18.1-55. In any criminal prosecution under § 18.1-54, or similar ordinance of any county, city or town, no person shall be required to submit to a determination of the amount of alcohol in his blood at the time of the alleged offense as shown by a chemical analysis of his blood; however, any person arrested for a violation of § 18.1-54 or similar ordinance of any county, city or town shall be entitled to a determination of the amount of alcohol in his blood at the time of the alleged offense as shown by a chemical analysis of his blood, provided the request for such determination is made within two hours of his arrest. Any such person shall, at the time of his arrest, be informed by the arresting authorities of his right to such determination, and if he makes such request, the arresting authorities shall render full assistance in obtaining such determination with reasonable promptness.

Only a physician, registered professional nurse or laboratory technician, shall withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content therein. The blood sample shall be placed in a sealed container provided by the Chief Medical Examiner. Upon completion of taking of the sample, the container must be resealed in the presence of the accused after calling the fact to his attention. The container shall be especially equipped with a sealing device, sealed so as not to allow tampering, labelled and identified showing the person making the test, the name of the accused, the date and time of taking. The sample shall be delivered to the police officer for transporting or mailing to the Chief Medical Examiner. Upon receipt of the blood sample, the Chief Medical Examiner or an assistant Chief Medical Examiner shall examine it for alcoholic content and shall execute a certificate which certificate shall indicate the name of the accused, the date, time and by whom the same was received and examined, and a statement that the container seal had not been broken or otherwise tampered with and a statement of the alcoholic content of the sample. The certificate, attached to the container shall be returned to either the police officer making the arrest, the department from which it came, or to the clerk of the court in which the matter will be heard.

Upon the request of the person who was given a chemical test of blood, the results of such test shall be made available to him.

An amount not to exceed five dollars to cover the costs of taking blood and making an analysis thereof shall be taxed as part of the costs of the case.

Other than as expressly provided herein, the provisions of this section shall not otherwise limit the introduction of any competent evidence bearing upon any question at issue before the court.

§ 18.1-56. When any blood sample taken in accordance with the provisions of § 18.1-55 is forwarded for analysis to the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, a report of the results of such analysis shall be made and filed in that office. Upon proper identification of such vial, tube or container, the copy of such certificate as provided for in § 18.1-55 shall, when duly attested by the Chief Medical Examiner, or any Assistant Chief Medical Examiner, be admissible in any court, in any criminal proceeding, as evidence of the facts therein stated and of the results of such analysis.

§ 18.1-57. In any prosecution for a violation of § 18.1-54, or any similar ordinance of any county, city or town, the amount of alcohol in the blood of the accused at the time of the alleged offense as indicated by a chemical analysis of the accused's blood in accordance with the provisions of § 18.1-55, shall give rise to the following presumptions:

§ 18.1-358. If a person on a Sunday be found laboring at any trade or calling, or employ his apprentices or servants in labor or other business, except in household or other work of necessity or charity, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five dollars for each offense. Every day any person or servant or apprentice is so employed shall constitute a distinct offense and the court in which or the judge by whom any judgment of conviction is rendered may require of the person so convicted a recognizance on a penalty of not less than one hundred or more than five thousand dollars, with or without security, conditioned that such person shall be of good behavior, and especially to refrain from a repetition of such offense, for a period not exceeding twelve months. This section shall not apply to furnaces, kilns, plants and other business of like kind that may be necessary to be conducted on Sunday, nor to the sale of gasoline, or any motor vehicle fuel, or any motor oil or oils, nor to the operation of motion picture theatres.

§ 18.1-359. The penalty imposed by the preceding section shall not be incurred by any person who conscientiously believes that the seventh day of the week ought to be observed as a Sabbath, and actually refrains from all secular business and labor on that day, provided he does not compel an apprentice or servant, not of his belief, to do secular work of business on a Sunday, and does not on that day disturb any other person.

§ 18.1-360. No railroad company, receiver, or trustee, controlling or operating a railroad, shall, by any agent or employee, load, unload, run or transport upon such road on a Sunday, any car, train of cars or locomotive, nor permit the same to be done by any such agent or employee, except:

(3) For the transportation of passengers and their baggage;

(4) When such cars, trains or locomotives constitute interstate freight trains exclusively, which trains may be run through the State of Virginia without stopping at local stations for interchange of freight; or

(5) For the transportation of live stock or articles of such perishable nature as would necessarily impair in value by one day's delay in their passage; provided, however, that if it should be necessary to transport live stock or perishable articles on a Sunday to an extent not sufficient to make a whole train load, such train load may be made up with cars loaded with ordinary freight.

But the State Corporation Commission may, at such times as necessity may require, either to meet an emergency or to save life or property, suspend the restriction of this section and authorize the running, loading or unloading on Sunday of freight trains on any railroad, and of any car or locomotive.

The State Corporation Commission may upon petition, duly verified, of any railroad company, either by general rule or special order, or both, authorize the running, loading or unloading on Sunday of freight trains on such railroad, and of any car or locomotive, for any of the causes in the provisions of this section.

The word "Sunday" as used in the preceding section shall be construed to embrace only that portion of the day between sunrise and sunset; and trains in transitu having started prior to twelve o'clock on Saturday night, may, in order to reach the terminus or shops of the railroad, run until nine o'clock the following Sunday morning, but not later.

§ 18.1-362. Any railroad company, receiver, or trustee violating the provisions of § 18.1-360 shall be deemed to have committed a separate offense in each county or corporation in which such car, train of cars, or locomotive shall run, or in which such car or train of cars shall be loaded or unloaded; and shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense.

§ 18.1-363. No steamboat company shall by any agent or employee load or unload on a Sunday any steamship or steamboat arriving at any port or landing on the bays, rivers, or other waters of this State or permit the same to be done by any such agent or employee except when such steamship or steamboat is for the transportation

(1) Of the United States mails,

(2) Of passengers and their baggage, or

(3) Of through freight in transitu, or of live stock, or of articles of such perishable nature as would be necessarily impaired in value by one day's delay in their passage. But nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing any steamship or steamboat arriving at any port or landing on the bays, rivers, and other waters of this State not its final point of destination from unloading any and all freight intended for delivery at such intermediate port or landing or from loading and taking on any and all freight intended for shipment from such intermediate port or landing to the final destination of such steamship or steamboat. Any steamship or steamboat company violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed to have committed a separate offense in each county or corporation in which such steamship or steamboat shall land and be unloaded and shall be fined in a sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense.

All persons appointed by the Chief Medical Examiner shall be responsible to him and may be removed by him for any reasonable cause.

§ 19.1-38. The salaries of the Chief Medical Examiner, and the technical and clerical personnel in the central office and laboratory, the expenses of maintaining the central office and laboratory, the cost of pathological, bacteriological and toxicological services rendered by others than the Chief Medical Examiner and his assistants, and the traveling and other expenses of the personnel of the central and district offices and laboratories, shall be paid by the State out of funds appropriated for the purpose.

§ 19.1-39. In order to provide proper facilities for investigating the causes of deaths as authorized in this chapter the State Health Commissioner may employ and pay qualified pathologists and toxicologists to make autopsies and such other pathological and chemical studies and investigations as may be deemed necessary or advisable by the Chief Medical Examiner, and may arrange for the use of existing laboratory facilities for such purposes whenever these are available.

§ 19.1-40. Each three years, the Chief Medical Examiner shall appoint for each county and city in the State one or more medical examiners to take office on the first day of October after appointment and to serve for terms of three years and until their successors are appointed by the Chief Medical Examiner and have qualified. All vacancies in the office of Medical Examiner shall be filled by the Chief Medical Examiner for the unexpired terms, and temporary appointments shall be filled by the Chief Medical Examiner. Each medical examiner shall be appointed from a list of two or more licensed doctors of medicine submitted by the component Medical Society of the county or city in which the appointment is to be made, or of the district in which the county or city is located. If no list of names is submitted by the society the Chief Medical Examiner shall appoint a medical examiner or medical examiners from the licensed medical doctors of such county or city. In the event the medical examiner of any county or city, on account of illness or enforced absence or personal interest is unable to serve in any particular case or for any period of time, the Chief Medical Examiner shall then designate some other qualified doctor of medicine in such county or city to serve in the place of the regular medical examiner in making any examination or report required.

§ 19.1-41. Upon the death of any person from violence, or suddenly when in apparent health, or when unattended by a physician, or in prison, or in any suspicious, unusual or unnatural manner, the medical examiner of the county or city in which death occurs shall be notified by the physician in attendance, by any law enforcement officer having knowledge of such death, by the undertaker, or by any other person present.

§ 19.1-42. Upon receipt of such notice the medical examiner shall take charge of the dead body, make inquiries regarding the cause and manner of death, reduce his findings to writing, and promptly make a full report thereof to the Chief Medical Examiner on forms prescribed for such purpose, retaining one copy of such report for his own and delivering another copy to the attorney for the Commonwealth of his county or city. Full directions as to the nature, character and extent of the investigation to be made in such cases shall be furnished the medical examiner by the Chief Medical Examiner, together with appropriate forms for the required reports and instructions for their use. For each investigation under this chapter, including the making of the required reports, the medical examiner shall receive a fee of ten dollars, this to be paid by the State, unless the deceased is a legal resident of the county or city in which his death occured, in which event such county or city shall be responsible for the fee.

§ 19.1-43. If in the opinion of the medical examiner or of the Chief Medical Examiner it is advisable and in the public interest that an autopsy be made, or if an autopsy is requested by the attorney for the Commonwealth or by the judge of the circuit or corporation court of the county or city wherein such body is, such autopsy shall be made by the Chief Medical Examiner, or by such competent pathologist or toxicologist as may be designated by the Chief Medical Examiner for the purpose. A full record and report of the facts developed by the autopsy and findings of the person making such autopsy shall be promptly made and filed with the medical examiner and in the office of the Chief Medical Examiner, and, if in the opinion of the Chief Medical Examiner or the medical examiner it is proper, or if requested by the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city where death occurred or of the county or city wherein any injury contributing to or causing death was sustained, a copy of the report of the autopsy shall be furnished such attorney for the Commonwealth.

If, in any case of sudden, violent or suspicious death, the body is buried without any inquiry by a medical examiner as to the cause and manner of death, or without any autopsy being held or performed, it shall be the duty of the medical examiner, upon being advised of such fact, to notify the attorney for the Commonwealth thereof, who shall communicate the same to the judge of the circuit or corporation court, as the case may be, and such judge may, by an order entered in the common-law order book of his court, require that the body be exhumed and an autopsy performed thereon by the Chief Medical Examiner or by a pathologist or toxicologist designated by him for the purpose, and the pertinent facts disclosed by the autopsy shall be communicated to the judge who ordered it, for such action thereon as he, or the court of which he is judge, deems proper.

§ 19.1-44. Under proper rules and regulations promulgated by the Chief Medical Examiner the facilities of the central laboratory and the services of its professional staff shall be made available to the medical examiners in their investigations under the provisions of this chapter.

§ 19.1-45. Reports of investigations made by the Chief Medical Examiner or his assistants or by medical examiners, and the records and reports of autopsies made under the authority of this chapter, shall be received as evidence in any court or other proceeding, and copies of records, photographs, laboratory findings and records in the office of the Chief Medical Examiner or any medical examiner, when duly attested by the Chief Medical Examiner or one of his Assistant Chief Medical Examiners, or the medical examiner in whose office the same are, shall be received as evidence in any court or other proceeding for any purpose for which the original could be received without any proof of the official character of the person whose name is signed thereto.

§ 19.1-46. After the investigation has been completed, including an autopsy if one is made, the dead body shall be delivered to the relatives or friends of the deceased person for burial. If no person claims the body it shall be turned over to the sheriff of the county or the sergeant or other like law enforcement officer of the city where death occurred for proper disposition. The expenses incurred by such officer in the disposal of the dead body shall be borne by the county or city where death occurred if the deceased person had no known place of residence within the State, but if the deceased person was a resident of Virginia at the time of death such expenses shall be paid by the county or city of residence. No such expenses shall be paid until allowed by the court of such officer's county or city. If the deceased person has estate out of which burial expenses can be paid, either in whole or in part, such estate shall be taken for such purpose before any expense under this section is imposed upon the county or city.

EXTRADITION OF CRIMINALS

ARTICLE 1

FUGITIVES FROM FOREIGN NATIONS

§ 19.1-47. The Governor shall whenever required by the executive authority of the United States, pursuant to the Constitution and laws thereof, deliver over to justice any person found within the State, who is charged with having committed any crime without the jurisdiction of the United States.

§ 19.1-48. The Governor, though not so required, may, in his discretion, deliver over to justice any person found within the State who is charged with having committed, without the jurisdiction of the United States, any crime, except treason, which by the laws of this State, if committed therein, is punishable with death or confinement in the penitentiary. Such delivery shall only be made on the requisition of the duly authorized officers or agents of the government within the jurisdiction of which the crime is charged to have been committed; and the Governor shall require such evidence of the guilt of the person so charged as would be necessary to justify his apprehension and commitment for trial had the crime charged been committed within this State. The expense of apprehension and delivery shall be defrayed by those to whom the delivery is made.

Congress enacted in pursuance thereof, the Governor shall have arrested and delivered up to the executive authority of any other of the United States any person charged in that state with treason, felony, or other crime, who has fled from justice and is found in this State.

§ 19.1-51. No demand for the extradition of a person charged with, or convicted of, crime in another state shall be recognized by the Governor unless in writing alleging, except in cases arising under § 19.1-55, that the accused was present in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the alleged crime and that thereafter he fled from such state, and accompanied: (1) by a copy of an indictment found, (2) by a copy or an information supported by an affidavit filed in the state having jurisdiction of the crime, (3) by a copy of an affidavit made before a magistrate in such state together with a copy of any warrant which was issued thereupon, or (4) by a copy of a judgment of conviction or of a sentence imposed in execution thereof together with a statement by the executive authority of the demanding state that the person claimed has escaped from confinement or has broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole. The indictment, information or affidavit made before the magistrate must substantially charge the person demanded with having committed a crime under the law of that state; and the copy of the indictment, information, affidavit, judgment of conviction or sentence must be authenticated by the executive authority making the demand.

§ 19.1-52. When a demand shall be made upon the Governor by the executive authority of another state for the surrender of a person so charged with, or convicted of, crime, the Governor may call upon the Attorney General or any other officer of this State to investigate or assist in investigating the demand and to report to him the situation and circumstances of the person so demanded and whether he ought to be surrendered.

§ 19.1-53. When it is desired to have returned to this State a person charged in this State with a crime and such person is imprisoned or is held under criminal proceedings then pending against him in another state, the Governor may agree with the executive authority of such other state for the extradition of such person before the conclusion of such proceedings or his term of sentence in such other state, upon condition that such person be returned to such other state at the expense of this State as soon as the prosecution in this State is terminated.

§ 19.1-54. The Governor may also surrender on demand of the executive authority of any other state any person in this State who is charged in the manner provided in §§ 19.1-73 to 19.1-75, with having violated the laws of the state whose executive authority is making the demand, even though such person left the demanding state involuntarily.

§ 19.1-55. The Governor may also surrender, on demand of the executive authority of any other state, any person in this State charged in such other state in the manner provided in § 19.1-51 with committing an act in this State, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the state whose executive authority is making the demand. The provisions of this chapter not otherwise inconsistent shall apply to such cases, even though the accused was not in that state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom.

§ 19.1-56. If the Governor decides that a demand for the extradition of a person, charged with, or convicted of, crime in another state should be complied with, he shall sign a warrant of arrest, which shall be sealed with the State seal, and be directed to the sheriff or sergeant of any county or city or to any peace officer or other person whom he may think fit to entrust with the execution thereof. The warrant must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance.

§ 19.1-57. Such warrant shall authorize the officer or other person to whom it is directed to arrest the accused at any time and at any place where he may be found within the State and to command the aid of all peace officers or other persons in the execution of the warrant and to deliver the accused, subject to the provisions of this chapter, to the duly authorized agent of the demanding state.

§ 19.1-58. Every officer or other person empowered to make the arrest, as provided in the preceding section, shall have the same authority, in arresting the accused, to command assistance therein as the sheriffs and sergeants of the several counties and cities of this State have by law in the execution of any criminal process directed to them, with like penalties against those who refuse to render their assistance.

§ 19.1-59. No person arrested upon such warrant shall be delivered over to the agent whom the executive authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge or trial justice in this State, who shall inform him of the demand made for his surrender and of the crime with which he is charged, and that he has the right to demand and procure legal counsel; and if the prisoner or his counsel shall state that he or they desire to test the legality of his arrest, the judge or trial justice shall fix a reasonable time to be allowed him within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. When such writ is applied for, notice thereof and of the time and place of hearing thereon shall be given to the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city in which the arrest is made and in which the accused is in custody, and to the agent of the demanding state.

§ 19.1-60. Any officer who shall deliver to the agent for extradition of the demanding state a person in his custody under the Governor's warrant in wilful disobedience to the last preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, shall be punished accordingly.

§ 19.1-61. The officer or persons executing the Governor's warrant of arrest, or the agent of the demanding state to whom the prisoner may have been delivered, may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail shall receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or person having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or person being chargeable with the expense of keeping.

§ 19.1-62. The officer or agent of a demanding state to whom a prisoner may have been delivered following extradition proceedings in another state or to whom a prisoner may have been delivered after waiving extradition in such other state, and who is passing through this State with such prisoner for the purpose of returning immediately such prisoner to the demanding state may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail shall receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or agent having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or agent, however, being chargeable with the expense of keeping, provided, however, that such officer or agent shall deliver to the jailor the warrant or legal order authorizing custody of the prisoner. Such prisoner shall not be entitled to demand a new requisition while in this State.

§ 19.1-63. Whenever: (1) any person within this State shall be charged on the oath of any credible person before any judge, trial justice, justice of the peace or other officer authorized to issue criminal warrants in this State with the commission of any crime in any other state and, except in cases arising under § 19.1-55, (a) with having fled from justice, (b) with having been convicted of a crime in that state and of having escaped from confinement, or (c) of having broken the terms of his bail, probation, or parole, or (2) complaint shall have been made before any such judge, trial justice, justice of the peace or other officer in this State setting forth on the affidavit of any credible person in another state that a crime has been committed in such other state and that the accused has been charged in such state with the commission of the crime, and, except in cases arising under § 19.1-55, (a) has fled from justice, (b) having been convicted of a crime in that state has escaped from confinement, or (c) broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, and that the accused is believed to be in this State, such judge, trial justice, justice of the peace or other officer shall issue a warrant directed to any sheriff or sergeant or to any peace officer commanding him to apprehend the person named therein, wherever he may be found in this State, and to bring him before any judge or trial justice who may be available in or convenient of access to the place where the arrest may be made, to answer the charge of complaint and affidavit. A certified copy of the sworn charge or complaint and affidavit upon which the warrant is issued shall be attached to the warrant.

§ 19.1-64. The arrest of a person may be lawfully made also by any peace officer or private person without a warrant upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of a state with a crime punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year. But when so arrested the accused shall be taken before a judge, trial justice, justice of the peace or other officer authorized to issue criminal warrants in this State with all practicable speed and complaint made against him under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in the preceding section; and thereafter his answer shall be heard as if he had been arrested on a warrant.

§ 19.1-65. If from the examination before the judge or trial justice it appears that the person held pursuant to either of the two preceding sections is the person charged with having committed the crime alleged and, except in cases arising under § 19.1-55, that he has fled from justice, the judge or trial justice shall, by a warrant reciting the accusation, commit him to jail for such a time, not exceeding thirty days, specified in the warrant as will enable the arrest of the accused to be made under a warrant of the Governor on a requisition of the executive authority of the state having jurisdiction of the offense, unless the accused give bail as provided in the next section, or until he shall be legally discharged.

§ 19.1-66. Unless the offense with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the state in which it was committed, any judge or trial justice or other person authorized by law to admit persons to bail in this State may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as he deems proper, conditioned upon his appearance before a judge or trial justice at a time specified in such bond and upon his surrender for arrest upon the warrant of the Governor of this State.

§ 19.1-67. If the accused is not arrested under warrant of the Governor by the expiration of the time specified in the warrant or bond, any judge or trial justice in this State may discharge him or may recommit him for a further period not to exceed sixty days, or such judge or trial justice may again take bail for his appearance and surrender, as provided in the preceding section, but within a period not to exceed sixty days after the date of such new bond.

§ 19.1-68. If the prisoner is admitted to bail and fails to appear and surrender himself according to the conditions of his bond, any judge or trial justice by proper order, shall declare the bond forfeited and order his immediate arrest without warrant if he be within this State. Recovery may be had on such bond in the name of the State as in the case of other bonds given by the accused in criminal proceedings within this State.

§ 19.1-69. If a criminal prosecution has been instituted against such person under the laws of this State and is still pending, the Governor, in his discretion, either may surrender him on demand of the executive authority of another state or hold him until he has been tried and discharged or convicted and punished in this State.

§ 19.1-70. The guilt or innocence of the accused as to the crime of which he is charged may not be inquired into by the Governor or in any proceeding after the demand for extradition accompanied by a charge of crime in legal form as above provided shall have been presented to the Governor, except as it may be involved in identifying the person held as the person charged with the crime.

§ 19.1-71. The Governor may recall his warrant of arrest or may issue another warrant whenever he deems it proper.

§ 19.1-72. Whenever the Governor shall demand a person charged with crime or with escaping from confinement or breaking the terms of his bail, probation or parole in this State, from the executive authority of any other state, or from the chief justice or an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia authorized to receive such demand under the laws of the United States, he shall issue a warrant under the seal of this State to some agent commanding him to receive the person so charged if delivered to him and convey him to the proper officer of the county or city in this State in which the offense was committed.

§ 19.1-73. When the return to this State of a person charged with crime in this State is required, the attorney for the Commonwealth shall present to the Governor his written application for a requisition for the return of the person charged, in which application shall be stated the name of the person so charged, the crime charged against him, the approximate time, place and circumstances of its commission, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the accused therein at the time the application is made, and certifying that, in the opinion of the attorney for the Commonwealth, the ends of justice require the arrest and return of the accused to this State for trial and that the proceeding is not instituted to enforce a private claim.

§ 19.1-74. When the return to this State is required of a person who has been convicted of a crime in this State and has escaped from confinement or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city in which the offense was committed, or the warden of the institution or sheriff or sergeant of the county or city from which the escape was made, shall present to the Governor a written application for a requisition for the return of such person, in which application shall be stated the name of the person, the crime of which he was convicted, the circumstances of his escape from confinement or of the breach of the terms of his bail, probation or parole and the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the person therein at the time application is made.

§ 19.1-75. The application shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the indictment returned, or information and affidavit filed, or of the complaint made to the judge, trial justice or other officer issuing the warrant stating the offense with which the accused is charged, or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence. The attorney for the Commonwealth, warden, sheriff or sergeant may also attach such further affidavits and other documents in duplicate as he shall deem proper to be submitted with such application. One copy of the application, with the action of the Governor indicated by endorsement thereon, and one of the certified copies of the indictment, complaint, information, and affidavits, or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to remain of record in that office. The other copies of all papers shall be forwarded with the Governor's requisition.

der the four preceding sections shall be paid out of the State treasury, on warrants of the Comptroller issued upon vouchers signed by the Governor, or such other person as may be designated by him for such purpose.

§ 19.1-77. A person brought into this State by, or after waiver of, extradition based on a criminal charge shall not be subject to service of personal process in civil actions arising out of the same facts as the criminal proceeding to answer which he is being or has been returned, until he has been convicted in the criminal proceeding, or, if acquitted, until he has had reasonable opportunity to return to the state from which he was extradited.

§ 19.1-78. Any person arrested in this State charged with having committed any crime in another state or alleged to have escaped from confinement, or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole may waive the issuance and service of the warrant provided for in §§ 19.1-56 and 19.1-57 and all other procedure incidental to extradition proceedings by executing or subscribing in the presence of a judge or trial justice within this State a writing which states that he consents to return to the demanding state; provided, however, that before such waiver shall be executed or subscribed by such person it shall be the duty of such judge or trial justice to inform such person of his rights to the issuance and service of a warrant of extradition and to obtain a writ of habeas corpus as provided for in § 19.1-59.

If and when such consent has been duly executed it shall forthwith be forwarded to the office of the Governor and filed therein. The judge shall direct the officer having such person in custody to deliver forthwith such person to the duly accredited agent of the demanding state, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to such agent a copy of such consent; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit the rights of the accused person to return voluntarily and without formality to the demanding state, nor shall this waiver procedure be deemed to be an exclusive procedure or to limit the powers, rights or duties of the officers of the demanding state or of this State.

§ 19.1-79. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by this State of its right, power or privilege to try such demanded person for crime committed within this State, or of its right, power or privilege to regain custody of such person by extradition proceedings or otherwise for the purpose of trial, sentence or punishment for any crime committed within this State, nor shall any proceedings had under this chapter which result in, or fail to result in, extradition be deemed a waiver by this State of any of its rights, privileges or jurisdiction in any way whatsoever.

§ 19.1-80. After a person has been brought back to this State by, or after waiver of, extradition proceedings he may be tried in this State for other crimes which he may be charged with having committed here as well as that specified in the requisition for his extradition.

§ 19.1-81. The provisions of this article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purposes to make uniform the law of those states which enact statutes similar thereto.

§ 19.1-82. This article may be cited as the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act.

(1) Counterfeit or spurious coin, forged bank notes, and other instruments or writings, or any tools, machines or materials for making them;

(2) Any obscene book, print, picture, figure, object or thing used or intended for use in violation of Article 3 of Chapter 4 of Title 18.1;

§ 19.1-85. No search warrant shall be issued until there is filed with the officer authorized to issue the same an affidavit of some person reasonably describing the house, place, vehicle or baggage to be searched, the things to be searched for thereunder, alleging briefly material facts constituting the probable cause for the issuance of such warrant and alleging substantially the offense in relation to which such search is to be made. Such affidavit shall be certified by the officer who issues such warrant to the county clerk of his county or to the court clerk, admitting deeds to record, of his city and shall by such clerk be preserved as a record and shall at all times be subject to inspection by the public. No such warrant shall be issued on an affidavit omitting such essentials, and no general warrant for the search of a house, place, compartment, vehicle or baggage shall be issued.

§ 19.1-86. Every search warrant shall be directed to the sheriff, sergeant, policeman or constable of the county or corporation in which the place to be searched is and shall command him to search the house, place, vehicle, baggage or thing designated, either in day or night, seize the property mentioned in such affidavit, and bring the same and the person in whose possession the same are found before a judge or court having jurisdiction of the offense in relation to which such search was made; provided, that in cities and towns having a police force the warrant may also be directed "to any policeman of said city or town" and shall be executed by the policeman or other officer into whose hands it shall come or be delivered.

§ 19.1-87. If any such warrant be executed by the seizure of property, or of any other of the things aforesaid, the same shall be safely kept by the direction of such judge or court, to be used as evidence, and thereafter be disposed of as provided by law; provided, however, that any such property seized under such warrant which is stolen or embezzled property shall be restored to its owner, and the things mentioned in § 19.1-84 may be burnt or otherwise destroyed, under such direction, as soon as

Any officer or other person searching any house, place, vehicle, baggage or thing otherwise than by virtue of and under a search warrant, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any officer or person violating the provisions of this section shall be liable to any person aggrieved thereby in both compensatory and punitive damages. Any officer found guilty of a second offense under this section shall, upon conviction thereof, in addition to the penalty hereinbefore provided, immediately forfeit his office, and such conviction shall be deemed to create a vacancy in such office to be filled according to law.

Provided, however, that any officer empowered to enforce the game laws may without a search warrant enter for the purposes of police inspection any freight yard or room, passenger depot, baggage room or warehouse, storage room or warehouse, train, baggage car, passenger car, express car, Pullman car or freight car of any common carrier, or any boat, automobile or other vehicle; but nothing in this proviso contained shall be construed to permit a search of any occupied berth or compartment on any passenger car or boat or of any baggage, bag, trunk, box or other closed container without a search warrant.

§ 19.1-89. Any justice of the peace or judge wilfully and knowingly issuing a general search warrant or a search warrant without the affidavit required by § 19.1-85 shall be deemed guilty of a misfeasance or malfeasance.

If such officer sees good reason to believe that an offense has been committed, he shall issue his warrant reciting the offense and requiring the person accused to be arrested and brought before a court of appropriate jurisdiction of the county or corporation, and in the same warrant require the officer to whom it is directed to summon such witnesses as shall be therein named to appear and give evidence on the examination. But in a city or town having a police force, the warrant shall be directed "To any policeman of such city (or town)", and shall be executed by the policeman into whose hands it shall come or be delivered.

a person charged with a criminal offense shall be in duplicate and the officer serving such process shall leave a copy with the person charged.

§ 19.1-93. No warrant for the arrest of any engineer of a railroad locomotive, fireman, hostler or other operator thereof charging any such person with manslaughter resulting from the striking and killing of any person by any such locomotive shall be issued except as hereinafter provided. Such warrant may only be issued if the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city where the offense occurred be satisfied that there is substantial evidence of criminal negligence on the part of such engineer, railroad locomotive fireman, hostler or other operator.

§ 19.1-94. If a person charged with an offense shall, after or at the time the warrant is issued for his arrest, escape from or out of the county or corporation in which the offense is alleged to have been committed, the officer to whom the warrant is directed may pursue and arrest him anywhere in the State; or any person authorized to issue process under § 19.1-90, of a county or corporation other than that in which the warrant was issued, on being satisfied of the genuineness thereof, may endorse thereon his name and official character, and such endorsement shall operate as a direction of the warrant to an officer of such endorser's county or corporation.

The authority of any officer of any county, city or town authorized by law to make arrests shall extend throughout the adjoining county, city or town in which it may be necessary to go, without a warrant, when actually in close pursuit of a person who has committed a misdemeanor in the presence and in the jurisdiction of such officer; and such authority shall extend throughout the State when in close pursuit of a person sought to be arrested on the ground that such person has committed a felony in this State, even though no warrant has been issued.

§ 19.1-95. All officers except sheriffs and their deputies, whose duties are to make arrests acting under the authority of any law of this State or any subdivision thereof, who shall make any arrest, search or seizure on any public road or highway of this State shall, in order to obtain any fee therefor, be dressed at the time of making any such arrest, search or seizure in a uniform which will clearly show him to casual observation to be an officer.

§ 19.1-96. Any such officer making an arrest, search or seizure when not so uniformed shall not receive, nor shall there be taxed for his benefit against the State or any subdivision thereof, or against any defendant, any fee, mileage, attendance, pay or any other charge, compensation or reward which inures to the benefit directly or indirectly of such officer, which he otherwise would be entitled to receive. This section shall not apply to officers making an arrest, search or seizure when there is a uniformed officer present at the time of the arrest.

Nothing in this or the preceding section contained shall apply to the fixed salary or compensation of any officer. And nothing in either of such sections shall render any such arrest, search or seizure unlawful.

§ 19.1-97. Any member of a duly organized state, county or municipal peace unit of another state of the United States who enters this State in close pursuit, and continues within this State in such close pursuit, of a person in order to arrest him on the ground that he has committed a felony in such other state shall have the same authority to arrest and hold in custody such person as members of a duly organized state, county or municipal peace unit of this State have to arrest and hold in custody a person on the ground that he has committed a felony in this State, if the state from which such person has fled extends similar privileges to any member of a duly organized state, county or municipal peace unit of this Commonwealth.

If an arrest is made in this State by an officer of another state in ac-

If the judge determines that the arrest was lawful he shall commit the person arrested to await for a reasonable time the issuance of an extradition warrant by the Governor. If the judge determines that the arrest was unlawful he shall discharge the person arrested.

The first paragraph of this section shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this State which would otherwise be lawful.

For the purpose of this section the word "State" shall include the District of Columbia.

§ 19.1-98. An officer arresting a person under a warrant for an offense shall bring such person before and return such warrant to a court of appropriate jurisdiction of the county or corporation in which the warrant is issued, unless such person be let to bail as hereinafter mentioned, or it be otherwise provided.

§ 19.1-99. When a warrant is issued in a county or corporation, other than that in which the charge ought to be tried, the court before whom the accused is brought, shall, by warrant, commit him to an officer, and such officer shall carry him to the county or corporation in which the trial should be, and there shall take him before, and return such warrant to, a court of appropriate jurisdiction thereof, unless otherwise provided.

§ 19.1-100. Members of the State Police force of the Commonwealth, the sheriffs of the various counties, and their deputies, the members of any county police force, the members of any duly constituted police force of any city or town of the Commonwealth and the special policemen of the counties as provided by § 15-562, provided such officers are in uniform, or displaying a badge of office, may, at the scene of any motor vehicle accident, or in the apprehension of any person charged with the theft of any motor vehicle, on any of the highways of the Commonwealth, upon reasonable grounds to believe, based upon personal investigation, including information obtained from eyewitnesses, that a crime has been committed by any person then and there present, apprehend such person without a warrant of arrest; and such officers may arrest, without a warrant, persons duly charged with crime in another jurisdiction upon receipt of a telegram, a radio or teletype message, in which telegram, radio or teletype message shall be given the name or a reasonably accurate description of such person wanted, the crime alleged and an allegation that such person is likely to flee the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth.

ARTICLE 2

EXAMINATION

§ 19.1-101. The judge or justice of the peace before whom any person is brought for an offense shall, as soon as may be, in the presence of such person, examine on oath the witnesses for and against him, and he may be assisted by counsel.

§ 19.1-102. A judge or justice of the peace may adjourn an examination or, in the case of a judge, a trial, pending before him, not exceeding ten days at one time, without the consent of the accused, and to any place in the county or corporation. In such case, if the accused be charged with a felony, unless it be a case in which only a light suspicion of guilt exists, he shall be committed to jail; otherwise, he may be recognized for his appearance at the time appointed for such further examination or trial, or for want of bail be committed to jail.

§ 19.1-103. Omitted.

§ 19.1-104. While a witness is under such examination all other witnesses may by order of the judge or the justice of the peace be excluded from the place of examination and kept separate from each other.

§ 19.1-105. When the judge or justice of the peace deems it proper the testimony of the witnesses may be reduced to writing, and, if required by him, shall be signed by them respectively.

§ 19.1-106. The judge or justice of the peace shall discharge the accused if he consider that there is not sufficient cause for charging him with the offense.

If a judge consider that there is sufficient cause only to charge the accused with an offense which the judge has jurisdiction to try, then he shall try the accused for such offense and convict him if he deem him guilty and pass judgment upon him in accordance with law just as if the accused had first been brought before him on a warrant charging him with such offense.

If a judge consider that there is sufficient cause to charge the accused with an offense that he does not have jurisdiction to try then he shall commit him to jail or let him to bail under § 19.1-111.

If a justice of the peace consider that there is just and sufficient cause for charging the accused with a misdemeanor he shall commit him to jail or let him to bail under § 19.1-110 and if he consider that there is just and sufficient cause for charging the accused with a felony he shall commit him to jail unless such justice have the power under § 19.1-110 to admit to bail for felonies when only a light suspicion of guilt falls on the accused, in which event, if he consider that such be the case, he shall commit him to jail or let him to bail under such § 19.1-110.

The justice shall require recognizance with or without sureties as he deems proper from all material witnesses against the accused and also for the accused if he desires it.

§ 19.1-107. If the accused be committed, it shall be by an order of the judge or justice of the peace, stating that he is committed for further examination on a day specified in the order. And on that day he may be brought before such judge or justice, by his verbal order to the officer by whom he was committed, or by a written order to a different person.

§ 19.1-108. Every examination and recognizance for a felony taken under this chapter, shall, by the person taking it, be certified to the clerk of the circuit court of the county or corporation court of the city in which the party charged is to be tried, or the witness is to appear, on or before the first day of its next session. If he fail he may be compelled to do so by attachment as for a contempt.

BAIL

§ 19.1-109. A person arrested on a capias to answer, or hear judgment on, a presentment, indictment or information for a misdemeanor, other than such as is mentioned in § 18.1-336 or on an attachment, other than an attachment to compel the performance of a judgment or of an order or decree in a civil case, may be admitted to bail by the officer who arrests him, the officer taking a recognizance in such sum, not being less than two hundred dollars unless by general or special order of the court a less sum be authorized, as he, regarding the case and estate of the accused, may deem sufficient to secure his appearance before the court from which the process issued at the time required thereby. The officer shall return the recognizance to the court on or before the return day of such process. If without sufficient cause he fail to make such return, he shall forfeit twenty dollars; and if he take insufficient bail, he shall be fined at the discretion of a jury.

§ 19.1-110. A justice of the peace before whom a person is brought charged with a misdemeanor or a felony, if only a light suspicion of guilt falls on him in the latter case, may, pending examination before him, or upon committing such person for trial, admit him to bail; provided that in any city where there is a police justice or a civil and police justice and in any county a justice of the peace may admit to bail only persons charged with misdemeanors and only before such persons have been arraigned or tried before a police justice, civil and police justice or trial justice. But in any such city or any county the police justice, civil and police justice or trial justice or the judge of a court of record in such city or county may authorize a justice of the peace to admit such person charged with felony to bail. If the offense be a felony, and there is good cause to believe such person guilty, he shall not be let to bail by any justice of the peace, nor shall any person in jail under an order of commitment be admitted to bail by any justice of the peace, except the one committing him, nor in a less sum than was required by such order.

§ 19.1-111. Any judge of a court not of record and the clerk or deputy clerk of any county court or municipal court may within their respective cities and counties admit to bail, upon recognizance with surety, persons charged with crime; but none of such officers shall admit to bail in any case after any court of record having jurisdiction to admit to bail in the case, or the judge thereof, has pending before him an application for bail or has refused to grant bail.

If any of such officers shall refuse to admit any person to bail or require excessive bail, then the court of record or the judge thereof having jurisdiction to admit to bail in such officer's county or city, upon petition of such person, shall at once order him to be brought before such court or judge in order that a motion may be made to admit him to bail, and upon such motion such court or judge may hear testimony and admit him to bail or remand him to jail.

No judge of a juvenile and domestic relations court, or court of limited jurisdiction as defined in Title 16.1 who receives a salary from his county or city, except in cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, shall, while he is holding court or immediately prior to or after holding court while he is at the place where his court is held, charge or receive any fee for admitting any person to bail or for any service whatever rendered by him in connection with any criminal case; but at all other times such officers may charge and receive from the person for whom such services are rendered the same fee for admitting to bail and other services as allowed by law to justices of the peace, except that in admitting to bail in felony cases the fee shall be two dollars. But, any city or county may provide by ordinance for such bail fees to be collected and paid into the treasury of such city or county.

§ 19.1-112. A court, or a judge thereof in vacation, in which any person is held and to be tried for a criminal offense, may, upon motion before such court, or upon a petition to the judge thereof in vacation, hear testimony and admit such person to bail before a conviction and when such petition is filed before such judge in vacation, he shall at once order such person to be brought before him, that he may hear the petition for bail. If bail be ordered, recognizance with surety may be taken by the judge or by the clerk or a deputy clerk of the court. If a circuit or corporation court, or a judge thereof in vacation, refuses to admit such person to bail, or requires excessive bail, then the Supreme Court of Appeals, or any one judge thereof in vacation, upon petition of such person shall at once order him to be brought before such Court or judge in order that a motion may be made to admit him to bail, and upon such motion the Supreme Court of Appeals, or such judge thereof in vacation, may hear testimony and admit such person to bail or remand him to jail. No other court or judge shall admit a person accused of a criminal offense to bail except as is otherwise expressly provided.

§ 19.1-113. If an applicant for bail is held for trial in a corporation court, and the court is not in session, and the judge thereof is sick or absent from the city, then the proceedings to secure bail which would have been proper as hereinbefore stated, before such court or the judge thereof in vacation, shall be allowed before the nearest circuit or corporation court to the city in which such person is held for trial, or the judge thereof in vacation. Upon the refusal of such court or judge to admit to bail, or upon excessive bail being required, like proceedings may be had in the Supreme Court of Appeals, or before a judge thereof in vacation, as if the action had been by the court in which such person is held for trial.

§ 19.1-114. The circuit court of each county, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall appoint one or more of the commissioners in chancery of such court, bail commissioners for such county. Such court or judge may appoint a justice of the peace to serve as a bail commissioner for such county.

§ 19.1-115. The Hustings Court of the city of Roanoke, or the judge thereof in vacation, or any court of record in the city of Newport News or the judge thereof in vacation, and any court of record in the city of Waynesboro, or the judge thereof in vacation, each may appoint one of the commissioners in chancery of the court bail commissioner for such city. Such bail commissioner shall have the same powers and duties in respect to the cities of Roanoke, Newport News and Waynesboro as bail commissioners for counties have in respect to their counties.

§ 19.1-116. A bail commissioner or the clerk of the circuit court of any county or city having criminal jurisdiction and the clerks of the corporation or hustings courts of the several cities may admit to bail upon recognizance with surety all persons charged with crime in their respective cities and counties; provided that no such clerk shall exercise any of the powers of a bail commissioner except when the proper bail commissioner is unable for any reason to act as such.

None of such officers shall admit to bail in any case after any court of record having jurisdiction to admit to bail in the case, or the judge thereof, has acted upon the application or pending proceedings before such court or judge to obtain bail.

If a bail commissioner or clerk refuses to admit any person to bail or requires excessive bail, then the court of record or judge thereof having jurisdiction to admit to bail in such clerk's or bail commissioner's county or city, upon petition of such person, shall at once order him to be brought before the court or judge in order that a motion may be made to admit him to bail, and upon such motion the court or judge may hear testimony and admit him to bail or remand him to jail; provided, however, that the clerk may refuse to hear such application.

Any such bail commissioner or clerk may admit to bail any person charged with a criminal offense, for the appearance of such person in any court in which such person is required to appear to answer for such offense, whether any such court be a court of the county or city of such bail commissioner or clerk, or of some other county or city in this State.

§ 19.1-117. If the bail commissioner, clerk or judge of the proper court be incapable for any reason of hearing such application, then application may be made to the bail commissioner of an adjoining county to the one in which the applicant is held for trial, and if bail be refused, or excessive bail be required by such commissioner, then application may be made to the Supreme Court of Appeals, or a judge thereof in vacation, as provided in § 19.1-112 in cases in which a circuit court, or the judge thereof in vacation, has refused to admit to bail, or has required excessive bail.

§ 19.1-118. In any case in which a person charged with a misdemeanor or felony is held in the jail of some county, city or town other than that in which he is to be tried upon such charge, he may be admitted to bail by any officer of the county, city or town in the jail of which he is so held in accordance with the provisions of law concerning the granting of bail in cases in which persons are so admitted to bail or recognizance, when held in the jail in the county, city or town in which they are to be tried. The provisions of this section shall apply to persons held in any such jail for any act committed prior to July first, nineteen hundred sixty, as well as to persons so held thereafter.

§ 19.1-119. A person charged with a misdemeanor and to be carried to another county or corporation shall, if he request it in the county or corporation wherein he is arrested, be brought before a court, judge, or justice of the peace thereof. In such case, if he desire it, such court, judge, or justice of the peace before whom he is brought may, without trial or examination, let him to bail, upon taking a recognizance for his appearance before the court or justice having cognizance of the case. The fact of taking such recognizance shall be certified by the court or officer taking it upon the warrant under which such person was arrested and the warrant and recognizance shall be returned forthwith to the clerk of the court or to the trial justice before whom the accused is to appear. And to such court, the judge or justice of the peace who issued such warrant shall recognize or cause to be summoned such witnesses as he may think proper.

§ 19.1-120. If the amount of the bail fixed by the bail commissioner or clerk be deemed inadequate, the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city in which the accused is held for trial may, on reasonable notice to the accused, move the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, to increase the amount of such bail.

§ 19.1-121. Although a party has been admitted to bail, if the amount thereof is subsequently deemed insufficient, or the security taken inadequate, the court having jurisdiction to try the case in which the bail was required, or the judge thereof in vacation, or the officer before whom the bail was given, may increase the amount of such bail, or may require new or additional sureties therefor, or both. Any surety in a bail bond or a recognizance for the appearance of one charged with crime may take from his principal collateral or other security to indemnify such surety against liability.

§ 19.1-122. Any bail commissioner or clerk, or any court or judge thereof in vacation, to whom application is made, as herein provided, shall at once order the person held for trial to be brought before such commissioner, clerk, court or judge, and upon motion shall hear testimony and admit to bail or remand him to jail.

§ 19.1-123. In all cases in which recognizances, at the suit of the Commonwealth, may have been, or shall hereafter be entered into, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court in which, or in the clerk's office of which, any recognizance is filed, to deliver to the bail on his applying therefor, a bail piece, in substance, as follows: "A. B. of the county (or corporation) of ....., is delivered to bail, unto C. D. of the county (or corporation) of ....., at the suit of the Commonwealth. Given under my hand, this .....day of....., in the year....."

§ 19.1-124. The fee of the commissioner or clerk for admitting a person to bail shall be two dollars. In no case shall the payment of such fee be made out of the State treasury.

ARTICLE 4

RECOGNIZANCES

§ 19.1-125. When a judge or justice of the peace considers that there is sufficient cause for charging the accused with a felony, unless it be a case wherein it is otherwise specially provided, the commitment shall be for trial, and the recognizance be for appearance in the court having jurisdiction of the offense, at such time as the case can be proceeded in before such court. The judge or justice of the peace shall return to the clerk of the court, as soon as may be, a certificate of the nature of the offense, showing whether the acused was committed or recognized therefor; and the clerk, as soon as may be, shall inform the attorney for the Commonwealth in such court of such certificate.

§ 19.1-126. A court, judge or justice of the peace letting any person to bail shall require recognizance to be given.

§ 19.1-127. Recognizances in criminal cases, where the offense is charged to have been committed against the Commonwealth, shall be payable to the Commonwealth of Virginia. Recognizances in criminal cases where the offense charged is a violation of a county, city or town ordinance, shall be payable to such county, city or town. Every recognizance under this title shall be in such sum as the court or officer requiring it may direct. If it be to answer for a misdemeanor or if required of a witness it shall be with or without security as the court or officer may direct; but in all other cases shall be with security deemed sufficient by the court or officer taking it.

§ 19.1-128. The condition, when it is taken of a person charged with a criminal offense, shall be that he appear before the court or judge before whom the proceedings on such charge will be at such time or times as may be prescribed by the court or officer taking it, and at any time or times to which the proceedings may be continued or further heard, and before any court or judge thereafter having or holding any proceedings in connection with the charge, to answer for the offense with which he is charged. And when it is taken of a witness in a case against any such person the condition shall be that he so appear to give evidence on such charge. And in either case it shall include a condition that the person or witness shall not depart thence without the leave of such court or judge. When taken for any other purpose than to appear so to answer or give evidence it shall be with condition that the person of whom it is taken shall keep the peace and be of good behavior for such time not exceeding one year as the court or officer requiring it may direct. If such court or officer direct, it may, when taken of a person so charged, be with condition for so keeping the peace and being of good behavior in addition to the other conditions of his recognizance. The recognizance shall remain in full force and effect until the charge is finally disposed of or until it is declared void by order of a competent court.

§ 19.1-129. When such recognizance is taken by a court of a person to answer a charge or of a witness to give evidence it shall be sufficient for the order of the court taking the recognizance to state that the party or parties recognized were duly recognized in such sum as the court may have directed with such surety as the court may have accepted for his or their appearance before such court at such time as may have been prescribed by the court to answer for the offense with which such person is charged or to give evidence, as the case may be.

§ 19.1-130. When a person charged with a criminal offense is admitted to bail by a court or an officer authorized by law so to do for his appearance before a court or judge having jurisdiction of the case, for a hearing thereon, he may instead of entering into a recognizance with surety give his personal recognizance and deposit, or cause to be deposited for him, in cash, the amount of bail he is required to furnish, with such court or officer, who shall give to the person whose funds are so deposited an official receipt therefor.

§ 19.1-131. In order that justices of the peace may be able to give such official receipts, it shall be the duty of the Auditor of Public Accounts to provide all such justices with official prenumbered receipt books in quadruplicate, consisting of an original and three carbon copies, the original

§ 19.1-132. If there be no default in the observance of the conditions of the recognizance, or if there be default and it be a case which may be tried in the absence of the defendant and he is so tried, and if, upon the trial of the case, the defendant be found not guilty, the money so deposited shall be refunded to the person making such deposit, or upon his order, but if the defendant be found guilty, the court or judge trying the case shall apply the money, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the payment of such fines and costs, or costs, as may be adjudged against the defendant, and the residue thereof, if any, shall be paid over to the person making such deposit, or upon his order; provided, that if there be an appeal from the judgment of a judge trying any such case, or if it be a charge of felony and be sent on for investigation by a grand jury, the money so deposited shall be paid over by such judge to the clerk of the court to which such appeal is taken, or to which the case is sent on for investigation by a grand jury thereof, who shall issue to such judge his official receipt therefor.

If there be default in any such recognizance, and if the case be not tried in the absence of the defendant and the money disposed of as hereinabove provided for, the forfeiture thereof shall be noted of record and proceedings had thereon, as provided by law, and the money so deposited shall be held subject to the order of the court upon the final disposition of such proceedings.

§ 19.1-133. Every recognizance shall include such a waiver as is required by § 49-12 in relation to the bonds therein mentioned and though such waiver be not expressed in the recognizance it shall be deemed to be included therein in like manner and with the same effect as if it was so expressed.

§ 19.1-134. A recognizance which would be taken of a person but for his being insane or a minor may be taken of another person and without further surety, if such other person be deemed sufficient.

§ 19.1-135. A person not giving, and for whom no other person gives, a recognizance required shall be committed to jail. He shall be discharged therefrom when such recognizance is given before the court or a conservator of the peace; or, if it be to appear and give evidence, when such evidence is given; or, if it be to keep the peace and be of good behavior, when the period for which it was required has elapsed; or, in any case, when the discharge of such person is directed by the court in whose jail he is.

§ 19.1-136. A person taking a recognizance out of court shall forthwith transmit it to the clerk of the court for appearance before which it is taken; or, if it be not for appearance before a court, to the clerk of the circuit court of the county or corporation court of the city in which it is taken; and it shall remain filed in the clerk's office.

§ 19.1-137. When a person, under recognizance in a criminal case, either as party or witness, fails to perform the condition thereof, if it be to appear before a court of record, his default shall be recorded therein, and if it be to appear before a judge of a court not of record, his default shall be entered by the judge of such court, on the page of his docket whereon the case is docketed, and he shall notify the attorney for the Commonwealth of the same. The process on any such forfeited recognizance shall be issued from the court before which the appearance was to be, and wherein such forfeiture was recorded or entered. Any such process issued by a judge when the penalty of the recognizance so forfeited is in excess of one thousand dollars shall be made returnable to the circuit court of his county, and when not in excess of one thousand dollars it shall be made returnable before, and tried by, such judge, who shall promptly transmit to the clerk of the circuit court of his county an abstract of such judgment as he may render thereon, which shall be forthwith docketed by such clerk.

If such recognizance so forfeited be not for such appearance, process thereon shall be issued from the court in which it was taken, or the court to which it was made returnable, and in a proceeding in one court on a recognizance entered in another a copy thereof shall be evidence in like manner as the original would be if it had been entered in the court wherein the proceeding is being had thereon.

The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to a case in which the defendant posted a cash bond and the case is tried in his absence and the money so deposited disposed of by the court or judge in the manner prescribed by law.

§ 19.1-138. If a person recognized to appear before a justice of the peace do not appear at the time so appointed, such justice shall certify the recognizance and the fact of such default to the circuit or corporation court at its next term, and like proceedings shall be had thereon as on breach of a recognizance for appearance before such court.

§ 19.1-139. If in any motion, action, suit or other proceeding made or taken in any court of this Commonwealth on a forfeited bail bond or recognizance, or to enforce the payment of the same in any manner or any judgment thereon, or to forfeit any bail bond or recognizance, it appear that the person for whose alleged default such bail bond or recognizance was forfeited or judgment rendered, or such motion is made or proceeding taken, was prevented from complying with the condition of such bail bond or recognizance by reason of his having enlisted or been drafted in the army or navy of the United States, then judgment or decree on such motion, action, suit or other proceeding shall be given for the defendant.

§ 19.1-140. When in an action or scire facias on a recognizance the penalty is adjudged to be forfeited the court may on an application of a defendant remit the penalty or any part of it and render judgment on such terms and conditions as it deems reasonable.

§ 19.1-141. No action or judgment on a recognizance shall be defeated or arrested by reason of any defect in the form of the recognizance, if it appear to have been taken by a court or officer authorized to take it and be substantially sufficient.

§ 19.1-142. Whenever a judgment is entered in any court of record in favor of the Commonwealth of Virginia upon a forfeited recognizance or bond, the clerk of the court in which the judgment is rendered shall certify an abstract of the same to the clerk of the court wherein deeds are recorded in the county or city wherein the judgment debtor resides or in any city or county in which he may own real property, who shall thereupon enter the abstract of judgment upon his judgment docket, for which service he shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents, payable out of the State treasury.

§ 19.1-143. A surety in a recognizance may, after default, pay into the court from which the process has issued, or may issue thereon, the amount for which he is bound, with such costs as the court may direct, and be thereupon discharged.

§ 19.1-144. A surety in a recognizance may at any time arrest his principal and surrender him to the court before which the recognizance was taken or before which such principal's appearance is required, or to the sheriff, sergeant, or jailer of the county or city wherein the court before which such principal's appearance is required is located; in addition to the above authority, upon the application of the surety, the court, or the clerk thereof, before which the recognizance was taken, or before which such principal's appearance is required, shall issue a capias for the arrest of such principal, and such capias may be executed by such surety, or his authorized agent, or by any sheriff, sergeant or police officer, and the person executing such capias shall deliver such principal and such capias to the sheriff or jailer of the county or the sergeant or jailer of the city in which the appearance of such principal is required, and thereupon the said surety shall be discharged from liability for any act of the principal subsequent thereto. Such sheriff, sergeant or jailer shall thereafter deliver such capias to the clerk of such court, with his endorsement thereon acknowledging delivery of such principal to his custody.

§ 19.1-145. If the surrender be to the court, it shall make such order as it deems proper; if the surrender be to a sheriff, sergeant or jailer, the officer to whom the accused has been surrendered shall give the surety a certificate of the fact. After such surrender the accused may be let to bail anew for the residue of the term, or to appear as before required, but unless and until he is so let to bail anew he shall be detained in jail as in other cases of failure to give bail.

CHAPTER 7

GRAND JURIES

§ 19.1-147. There may be a regular grand jury at one term in each year of the circuit courts of the counties and of the corporation or hustings courts of the corporations, to be designated by the judges of the courts, respectively, and special grand juries whenever ordered, as herein provided.

§ 19.1-148. The judges of such courts shall annually, in the month of June, July, or August, select from the citizens of each county of their respective circuits and in their several cities sixty persons twenty-one years of age and upwards, of honesty, intelligence and good demeanor and suitable in all respects to serve as grand jurors who shall except as hereinafter provided be the grand jurors for the county or city from which they are selected for twelve months next thereafter. Such jurors shall be selected in each county from the several magisterial districts of the county and in each city from the several wards of the city in proportion to the population thereof. The judge making the selection shall at once furnish to the clerk of his court in each county of his circuit or in his city a list of those selected for that county or city. The clerk, not more than twenty days before the commencement of each term of his court at which a regular grand jury is required, shall issue a venire facias to the sheriff of his county, or sergeant of the city, commanding him to summon not less than five nor more than seven of the persons selected as aforesaid (the number to be designated by the judge of the court by an order entered of record) to be named in the writ to appear on the first day of the court to serve as grand jurors. No such person shall be required to appear more than once until all the others have been summoned once, nor more than twice until the others have been twice summoned, and so on. No citizen over seventy years of age shall be compelled to serve as a grand juror. The clerk, in issuing the venire facias shall apportion the grand jurors, as nearly as may be, ratably among the magisterial districts or wards; but the circuit court of James City county, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall select the grand jurors for such court from such county and the city of Williamsburg in such proportion from each as he may think proper.

The clerk shall immediately upon the selection of the grand jury list advise in writing each woman whose name has been selected of the fact that her name has been selected for such purpose and that her name will be placed upon the list unless she notifies the clerk in writing fifteen days from the date of the notice sent by the clerk that she does not desire her name to be placed upon the list. The clerk shall not include on the grand jury list above mentioned the name of any woman who notifies the clerk in writing within such fifteen-day period that she does not desire her name to be placed upon the grand jury list.

§ 19.1-149. A special grand jury may be ordered at any time by a circuit court of a county or corporation, or corporation or hustings court of a corporation, or the judge thereof in vacation. The jurors shall be summoned from a list furnished by the judge. When a grand jury, regular or special, has been discharged, the court, during the term, may impanel another grand jury, which may be a special grand jury. A special grand jury may be summoned for and impanelled at a special term of the court as well as at a regular term. In the event a special grand jury has been impanelled to investigate any given condition or conditions, and has not completed its hearings before the end of the term of court at which it was impanelled, such special grand jury may, on order of the court, be continued from time to time and other grand juries, regular or special, may be impanelled by the court for the hearing of other matters.

§ 19.1-150. A grand jury, regular and special, shall consist of not less than five nor more than seven persons. Each grand juror shall be a citizen of this State, twenty-one years of age, and shall have been a resident of this State one year and of the county or corporation in which the court is to be held six months, and in other respects a qualified juror, and, when the grand juror is for a circuit court of a county, not an inhabitant of a city, except in those cases in which the circuit court of the county has jurisdiction in the city, in which case the city shall be considered as a magisterial district, or the equivalent of a magisterial district, of the county for the purpose of the jury lists.

§ 19.1-151. If a sufficient number of grand jurors do not appear, the court may order the deficiency to be supplied from the bystanders or from a list furnished by the judge to the sheriff or sergeant.

§ 19.1-152. From among the persons summoned who attend the court shall select a foreman who shall be sworn as follows: "You shall diligently inquire, and true presentment make, of all such matters as may be given you in charge, or come to your knowledge, touching the present service. You shall present no person through prejudice or ill-will, nor leave any unpresented through fear or favor, but in all your presentments you shall present the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you God". The other grand jurors shall afterwards be sworn as follows: "The same oath that your foreman has taken on his part, you and each of you shall observe and keep on your part. So help you God". Any witness testifying before the grand jury may be sworn by the foreman.

§ 19.1-153. If the foreman or any grand juror, at any time after being sworn, fail or be unable to attend, another may be sworn in his stead.

§ 19.1-154. The grand jury, after being sworn, shall be charged by the judge of the court and shall then be sent to their room.

§ 19.1-155. The grand jury shall inquire of and present all felonies, misdemeanors and violations of penal laws committed within the jurisdiction of the respective courts wherein they are sworn; except that no presentment shall be made of a matter for which there is no corporal punishment, but only a fine, where the fine is limited to an amount not exceeding five dollars.

§ 19.1-156. Every commissioner of the revenue, sheriff, constable or other officer shall promptly give information of the violation of any penal law to the attorney for the Commonwealth, who shall forthwith institute and prosecute all necessary and proper proceedings in such case, whether in the name of the Commonwealth or of a county or corporation, and may in such case issue or cause to be issued a summons for any witnesses he may deem material to give evidence before the court or grand jury. No attorney for the Commonwealth shall go before any grand jury during their deliberations except when duly sworn to testify as a witness, but he may advise the foreman of the grand jury or any member or members thereof in relation to the discharge of their duties.

§ 19.1-157. At least four of a regular or special grand jury must concur in finding or making an indictment or presentment. They may make a presentment or find an indictment upon the information of two or more of their own body, or on the testimony of witnesses called on by the grand jury, or sent to it by the court. If only one of their number can testify as to an offense, he shall be sworn as any other witness. When a presentment or indictment is so made or found, the names of the grand jurors giving the information, or of the witnesses, shall be written at the foot of the presentment or indictment.

§ 19.1-158. Although a bill of indictment be returned not a true bill the same or another bill of indictment against the same person for the same offense may be sent to, and acted on, by the same or another grand jury. No irregularity in the time or manner of selecting the jurors, or in the writ of venire facias, or in the manner of executing the same, shall vitiate any presentment, indictment or finding of a grand jury.

§ 19.1-159. A court whose officer fails without good cause when it is his duty, to summon a grand jury and return a list of their names shall fine him twenty dollars. A person summoned and failing to attend a court as a grand juror shall be fined by the court not less than five dollars, unless, after being summoned to show cause against the fine, he give a reasonable excuse for his failure.

§ 19.1-160. Every person who serves upon a grand jury shall receive the same compensation and mileage allowed jurors in civil cases by § 8-204 and the same shall be paid out of the county or corporation levy.

§ 19.1-161. The compensation, fees, mileage and allowances prescribed in this chapter for grand jurors selected or appointed for the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond shall be paid by the Commonwealth.

PRESENTMENTS, INDICTMENTS AND INFORMATIONS; PROCESS THEREON.

NECESSITY FOR INDICTMENT, ETC.

§ 19.1-162. An information may be filed upon presentment or indictment by a grand jury or upon a complaint in writing verified by the oath of a competent witness; but no person shall be put upon trial for any felony, unless an indictment or presentment shall have first been found or made by a grand jury in a court of competent jurisdiction or unless such person, by writing signed by such person before the court having jurisdiction to try such felony or before the judge of such court in vacation, shall have waived such indictment or presentment, in which event he may be tried on a warrant or information. If the accused be in custody, or has been recognized or summoned to answer such information, presentment or indictment, no other process shall be necessary; but the court may, in its discretion, issue process to compel the appearance of the accused.

§ 19.1-163. A person in jail on a criminal charge shall be discharged from imprisonment if a presentment, indictment or information be not found or filed against him before the end of the second term of the court at which he is held to answer, unless it appear to the court that material witnesses for the Commonwealth have been enticed or kept away or are prevented from attendance by sickness or inevitable accident, and except, also, in the case provided in § 19.1-228; and in those cases in which such criminal charge is one of felony, the second term of the court shall be construed to mean the second term thereof at which a grand jury was impaneled; but in all other cases of a criminal charge, it shall have no such restricted meaning. A discharge under the provisions of this section shall not, however, prevent a reincarceration after a presentment or indictment has been found.

FORM AND REQUISITES

§ 19.1-165. Judgment in any criminal case shall not be arrested or reversed upon any exception or objection made after a verdict to the indictment or other accusation, unless it be so defective as to be in violation of the Constitution.

§ 19.1-166. The prosecutions for offenses against the Commonwealth, unless otherwise provided, shall be by presentment, indictment or information. While any form of presentment, indictment or information which informs the accused of the nature and cause of the accusation against him shall be good the following shall be deemed sufficient for murder and manslaughter:

State of Virginia.....county (or city) to-wit: The grand jurors of the State of Virginia, in and for the body of the county (or city) of ....., upon their oaths present that A.....B....., on the ..... day of ....., nineteen ....., in the county (or city) of ..... feloniously did kill and murder one C.....D.....against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth.

A grand jury may, in case of homicide, which in their opinion amounts to manslaughter only, and not to murder, find an indictment against the accused for manslaughter and in such case the indictment shall be sufficient if it be in form or effect as follows:

State of Virginia.....county (or city) to-wit: The grand jurors of the State of Virginia, in and for the body of the county (or city) of ....., upon their oaths present that A.....B....., on the ..... day of ....., nineteen ..... in the county (or city) of ..... feloniously and unlawfully did kill and slay one C.....D....., against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth.

§ 19.1-167. In an indictment or accusation for perjury or subornation of perjury it shall be sufficient to state the substance of the offense charged against the accused, in what court or by whom the oath was administered which is charged to have been falsely taken, and to aver that such court or person had competent authority to administer the same, together with proper averments to falsify the matter wherein the perjury is assigned, without setting forth any part of any record or proceeding at law or equity, or the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed; but nothing herein shall be construed to allow, without the consent of the accused, a part only of any record, proceeding or writing to be given in evidence on the trial of such indictment or accusation. A distinct allegation, averment or statement in any part of the indictment that the defendant did corruptly swear falsely, or did, on the occasion mentioned in the indictment, commit willful perjury, shall be a sufficient allegation of the falsity of the oath alleged to have been taken.

§ 19.1-168. In a prosecution against a person accused of embezzling or fraudulently converting to his own use bullion, money, bank notes or other security for money it shall be lawful in the same indictment or accusation to charge and thereon to proceed against the accused for any number of distinct acts of such embezzlements or fraudulent conversions which may have been committed by him within six months from the first to the last of the acts charged in the indictment; and it shall be sufficient to allege the embezzlement or fraudulent conversion to be of money without specifying any particular money, gold, silver, note or security. Such allegation, so far as it regards the description of the property, shall be sustained if the accused be proved to have embezzled any bullion, money, bank note or other security for money although the particular species be not proved.

And in a prosecution for the larceny of United States currency or for obtaining United States currency by a false pretense or token, or for receiving United States currency knowing the same to have been stolen, it shall be sufficient if the accused be proved guilty of the larceny of national bank notes or United States treasury notes, certificates for either gold or silver coin, fractional coin, currency, or any other form of money issued by the United States government, or of obtaining the same by false pretense or token, or of receiving the same knowing it to have been stolen although the particular species be not proved.

§ 19.1-169. In a prosecution for forging or altering any instrument or other thing, or attempting to employ as true any forged instrument or other thing, or for any of the offenses mentioned in article 3 of chapter 3 of Title 18.1, it shall not be necessary to set forth any copy or facsimile of such instrument or other thing; but it shall be sufficient to describe the same in such manner as would sustain an indictment for stealing such instrument or other thing, supposing it to be the subject of larceny.

§ 19.1-170. Where an intent to injure, defraud or cheat is required to constitute an offense, it shall be sufficient, in an indictment or accusation therefor, to allege generally an intent to injure, defraud or cheat without naming the person intended to be injured, defrauded or cheated; and it shall be sufficient, and not be deemed a variance, if there appear to be an intent to injure, defraud or cheat the United States, or any State, or any county, corporation, officer or person.

§ 19.1-171. All allegations unnecessary to be proved may be omitted in any indictment or other accusation.

§ 19.1-172. No indictment or other accusation shall be quashed or deemed invalid:

(1) For omitting to set forth that it is upon the oaths of the jurors or upon their oaths and affirmation;

(2) For the insertion of the words "upon their oath", instead of "upon their oaths";

(3) For not in terms alleging that the offense was committed "within

(4) For the omission or misstatement of the title, occupation, estate, or degree of the accused or of the name or place of his residence;

(5) For omitting the words "with force and arms" or the statement of any particular kind of force and arms;

(6) For omitting to state, or stating imperfectly, the time at which the offense was committed when time is not the essence of the offense;

(7) For failing to allege the kind or value of an instrument which caused death or to allege that it was of no value;

(8) For omitting to charge the offense to be "against the form of the statute or statutes"; or

(9) For the omission or insertion of any other words of mere form or surplusage.

Nor shall it be abated for any misnomer of the accused; but the court may, in case of a misnomer appearing before or in the course of a trial, forthwith cause the indictment or accusation to be amended according to the fact.

§ 19.1-173. In a prosecution for a misdemeanor the name of the prosecutor if there be one and the county or corporation of his residence shall be written at the foot of the presentment, indictment or information when it is made, found or filed. In case the grand jury that brings in such presentment or indictment or the attorney for the Commonwealth that files such information fail to write the name of a prosecutor at the foot of the presentment, indictment or information, then the name of a prosecutor may be entered of record as such by the court on the motion of the defendant or the attorney for the Commonwealth at any time before the judgment.

§ 19.1-174. For good cause the court may require a prosecutor to give security for the costs and if he fails to do so dismiss the prosecution at his costs.

AMENDMENT

§ 19.1-175. An amendment of any defect in an indictment or presentment for a misdemeanor that does not change the nature of the offense charged may be made by the court before which the trial is had, at any time before judgment is entered; but if such amendment operates as a surprise to the defendant, he shall be entitled, upon request, to a continuance of the case.

§ 19.1-176. At any time before the defendant pleads a defective indictment for treason or felony may be amended by the court before which the trial is had in any manner that does not change the character of the offense charged. After such amendment has been made the defendant shall be arraigned on the indictment as amended and the trial shall proceed as if no amendment had been made; but if such amendment operates as a surprise to the defendant he shall be entitled, upon request, to a continuance of the case.

§ 19.1-177. If there be any defect in form in any indictment for treason or felony, it shall be competent for the court in which the case is pending for trial, after the defendant pleads, to amend the indictment, provided such amendment does not change the nature of the offense charged; and if, on the trial of any case, there shall appear to be any variance between the allegations of the indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall be competent for the court before which the trial is had to amend the indictment, according to the proof, provided such amendment does not change the nature of the offense charged; and after such amendment the indictment as amended shall be read to the accused, and he shall be allowed to plead anew, if he so desires, and the trial shall proceed in all respects, and with the same consequences, as if no variance had occurred, unless such amendment shall operate as a surprise to the defendant, in which case the defendant shall be entitled, upon request, to a continuance of the cause.

PROCESS

§ 19.1-178. When an indictment or presentment is found or made, or information filed, the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall award process against the accused to answer the same, if he be not in custody. Such process, if the prosecution be for a felony, shall be a capias; if it be for a misdemeanor, for which corporal punishment may be inflicted, it may be a capias or summons, in the discretion of the court or judge; in all other cases, it shall be, in the first instance a summons, but if a summons be returned executed and the defendant do not appear, or be returned not found, the court or judge may award a capias.

§ 19.1-179. § 8-44 shall apply to process in criminal, as well as in civil cases; and the court may, in the same case against the same person, award at the same time, or different times, several writs of summons or capias directed to officers of different counties or corporations. An officer having a capias under which the accused is let to bail shall give a certificate of the fact, which shall protect him against any other capias which may have been issued for the same offense. A summons shall be served by delivering a copy thereof to the party in person and the clerk issuing such summons shall deliver or transmit therewith as many copies thereof as there are persons named therein on whom it is to be served.

§ 19.1-180. No capias to hear judgment shall be necessary in any prosecution for a misdemeanor, but the court may proceed to judgment in the absence of the accused; and, if such judgment requires confinement in jail, the court may make such order as may be necessary for the arrest of the person against whom such judgment is and for the execution thereof. The proceedings upon such order shall conform, as nearly as may be to those upon a capias to hear judgment and all officers charged with its execution shall have the same powers, be charged with the same duties and be subject to the same responsibilities as provided by law in case of a capias to hear judgment.

§ 19.1-181. The clerk of every court shall forward, by mail, all process issued for the Commonwealth, directed to the officer of any county or corporation other than his own and pay the postage thereon which, on being duly certified by the court, shall be paid out of the State treasury.

§ 19.1-182. When process of arrest in a criminal prosecution is issued from a court during its session, either against a party accused or a witness, the officer to whom it is directed or delivered may execute it in any part of the State.

§ 19.1-183. An officer who, under a capias from a court, arrests a person accused of an offense not bailable or for which bail is not given shall deliver the accused to such court, if sitting, or to the jailor thereof, who shall receive and imprison him.

§ 19.1-184. On any indictment or presentment for a misdemeanor process shall be issued immediately. If the accused appear and plead to the charge, the trial shall proceed without delay, unless good cause for continuance be shown. If, being summoned, he fail to appear and plead and the indictment or presentment be founded on any provision of chapter 7 of Title 18.1, or on a violation of any provision of the laws relating to the public revenue, the court may render judgment in the same manner as if he had confessed the charge in court; and if the offense be punishable by a fine not fixed by law, a jury shall be impaneled to assess the same.

But on indictment or presentment for any other misdemeanor, after the summons has been executed ten days, the court may either award a capias or proceed to trial in the same manner as if the accused had appeared and pleaded not guilty; and any warrant charging any misdemeanor and returnable before a judge appointed under chapter 2 or chapter 3 of Title 16.1 upon which the accused has been summoned or recognized to appear before such judge and shall fail to appear in response to such summons or recognizance, may be tried by such judge as if accused had appeared and pleaded not guilty.

§ 19.1-185. There shall be no discontinuance of any criminal prosecution by reason of the failure of the court to award process or to enter a continuance on the record.

§ 19.1-186. A summons against a corporation to answer an indictment, presentment or information may be served as provided in §§ 8-59 and 8-60; and if the defendant after being so served fail to appear, the court may proceed to trial and judgment, without further process, as if the defendant had appeared and pleaded not guilty. And when, in any such case, publication of a copy of the process is required according to such sections, the expense of such publication may be certified by the court to the Comptroller, and shall be paid out of the State treasury; but the same shall be taxed with other costs and collected from the defendant, if judgment be for the Commonwealth, and be paid into the State treasury by the officer collecting the same.

TRIAL AND ITS INCIDENTS

JURISDICTION; SETTING CASES FOR TRIAL

§ 19.1-187. The circuit courts, except where otherwise provided, shall have exclusive original jurisdiction for the trial of all presentments, indictments and informations for offenses committed within the counties and within the cities which may not have corporation courts of their respective circuits.

§ 19.1-188. The judge of each circuit and corporation court shall fix a day of his court when the trial of criminal cases will commence, and shall make such general or special order in reference thereto, and to the summoning of witnesses, as may seem proper; but this section shall not be so construed as to deprive the court of the right to proceed with the trial of any case at the same term at which an indictment is found, provided the defendant is in actual custody or out on bail.

§ 19.1-189. Before every term of any court in which criminal cases are to be tried the clerk of the court shall make out a separate docket of criminal cases then pending, in the following order, numbering the same:

(1) Felony cases;

(2) Misdemeanor cases.

He shall docket all felony cases in the order in which the indictments are found and all misdemeanor cases in the order in which the presentments or indictments are found or informations are filed or appeals are allowed by magistrates and as soon as any presentments or indictments are made at a term of court he shall forthwith docket the same in the order required above.

All criminal cases shall be disposed of before civil cases, unless the court, by an order entered of record, shall direct otherwise.

§ 19.1-190. When an indictment is found against a person for felony or when an appeal has been perfected from the conviction of a misdemeanor, the accused, if in custody, or if he appear according to his recognizance, shall, unless good cause be shown for a continuance, be tried or arraigned and tried at the same term; provided that no trial shall be had on the first day of the term unless it be with the consent of the attorney for the Commonwealth and the accused, or his attorney.

§ 19.1-191. Every person against whom an indictment is found charging a felony and held in any court for trial, whether he be in custody or not, shall be forever discharged from prosecution for the offense, if there be three regular terms of the circuit or four of the corporation or hustings court in which the case is pending after he is so held without a trial, unless the failure to try him was caused:

(1) By his insanity or by reason of his confinement in a hospital for the insane for care and observation,

(2) By the witnesses for the Commonwealth being enticed or kept away or prevented from attending by sickness or inevitable accident,

(3) By the granting of a separate trial at the request of a person indicted jointly with others for a felony,

(4) By continuance granted on the motion of the accused or by reason of his escaping from jail or failing to appear according to his recognizance,

(5) By the inability of the jury to agree in their verdict, or

(6) Where there be no court held at the regular term or where there is court held and for any reason it would be injudicious, in the opinion of the court, to have jurors and witnesses summoned for that term, which reason shall be specially spread upon the records of the court.

But the time during the pendency of any appeal in any appellate court shall not be included as applying to the provisions of this section.

TRIAL WITHOUT JURY

§ 19.1-192. Upon a plea of guilty in a felony case, tendered in person by the accused after being advised by counsel, the court shall hear and determine the case without the intervention of a jury; or if the accused plead not guilty, with his consent after being advised by counsel and the concurrence of the attorney for the Commonwealth and of the court entered of record, the court shall hear and determine the case without the intervention of a jury. In such cases the court shall have and exercise all the powers, privileges and duties given to juries by §§ 18.1-16 through 18.1-20, 19.1-249, 19.1-251 to 19.1-254 and 19.1-292, or any other statute relating to crimes and punishments.

§ 19.1-193. In all cases of a misdemeanor upon a plea of guilty, tendered in person by the accused or by his counsel, the court shall, and upon a plea of not guilty, with the consent of the accused, given in person or by his counsel, and of the attorney for the Commonwealth, both entered of record, the court, in its discretion, may hear and determine the case without the intervention of a jury. In all such cases the court shall have and exercise all the powers and duties vested in juries by any statute relating to crimes and punishments.

When a person charged with a misdemeanor has been admitted to bail or released upon his own recognizance for his appearance before a court of record having jurisdiction of the case, for a hearing thereon and fails to appear in accordance with the condition of his bail or recognizance, he shall be deemed to have waived trial by a jury and the case may be heard in his absence as upon a plea of not guilty if the bond or recognizance states that nonappearance shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of trial by jury.

JURIES

§ 19.1-194. The clerk of the court in which the trial of a case of felony is to be had shall, as soon as may be, issue a writ of venire facias directed to the officer of the court requiring him to summon jurors for such trial from a list to be furnished him as provided in § 19.1-196.

§ 19.1-195. Any court in which a person accused of felony is to be tried, or the judge of such court in vacation, may at any time cause a venire facias to issue for his trial.

§ 19.1-196. The writ of venire facias in case of felony shall command the officer to whom it is directed to summon twenty persons of his county or corporation, to be taken from a list furnished him by the clerk issuing the writ, who are qualified in all respects to serve as jurors, to attend the court wherein the accused is to be tried on the first day of the next term thereof or at such other time as the court or judge may direct.

§ 19.1-197. At one term of the court only one jury shall be summoned, unless the court or judge thereof otherwise direct; and the jury so summoned may be used for the trial of all the cases which may be tried at that term, including civil cases as well as felonies and misdemeanors, and the court or judge shall personally select as many of the jurors as deemed necessary, whose names appear on the writ of venire facias, who shall attend court on any day during the term and serve as jurors in the trial of cases hereinabove referred to.

§ 19.1-198. The list mentioned in § 19.1-196 shall contain the names of twenty-four persons drawn for that purpose by the clerk of the court or his deputy from the names and box provided for by §§ 8-182 and 8-184. Such drawing shall be in the presence of the judge of the court, or in his absence of one of the commissioners in chancery provided for by §§ 8-187 to 8-189, and a reputable citizen not connected with the accused or the prosecution, or, in a case of homicide, with the deceased, who shall be called upon for that purpose by the clerk conducting the drawing. If the presence of the commissioner cannot be obtained, the drawing shall be in the presence of two reputable citizens not connected as aforesaid and called upon by the clerk. The clerk shall notify the commissioner of the time his attendance is desired and it shall be his duty to attend at such time at the clerk's office. The drawing, except as herein otherwise provided, shall conform as near as may be to the mode prescribed for drawing juries in civil cases.

§ 19.1-199. For good cause shown in any felony case the judge of the court, in term time or vacation, may direct more than twenty-four names to be drawn and placed on the list, and more than twenty persons to be summoned. He shall in such cases specify the number of names to be drawn and the number of persons to be summoned; the number drawn shall not be more than four in excess of the number to be summoned.

§ 19.1-200. If there is drawn from the box the name of a person who has died, removed from the county or city or is related to the accused or to the prosecutor, or, in case of homicide, to the deceased, or who is known to the clerk or other persons attending the drawing, if the case be in a circuit court of a county, to live within two miles of the place where the crime is charged to have been committed, such name shall not be placed on the list as they are drawn, and when twenty-four names have been so placed the drawing shall cease, and a copy of the list shall at once be made and signed by the clerk and the persons attending the drawing. Such copy shall be filed in the clerk's office. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to relate to the qualifications of jurors or to confer upon any accused any right to exact compliance with its provisions.

§ 19.1-201. No irregularity in any writ of venire facias, in the drawing, summoning, returning or impanelling of jurors, in making out or copying or signing or failing to sign the list or in drawing more persons than four in excess of the number to be summoned shall be cause for summoning a new panel or for setting aside a verdict or granting a new trial, unless objection thereto specifically pointed out was made before the jury was sworn, and unless it appears that such irregularity, error or failure was intentional or such as probably to cause injustice to the Commonwealth or to the accused; and no judgment shall be arrested or reversed for the failure of the record to show that there was a venire facias, unless made a ground of exception in the trial court before the swearing of the jury.

§ 19.1-202. If a person, indicted jointly with others for a felony, elects to be tried separately, the venire summoned for their trial may be used for him who is first tried and the court shall award a venire facias for the trial of the others, jointly or separately, as they may elect.

§ 19.1-203. Every sheriff and city sergeant, after executing a writ of venire facias for a petit jury, shall prepare a list showing the name, occupation and address of each venireman summoned and shall deliver the list to the clerk of the court from which such writ is issued. The clerk, upon request, shall exhibit such list to the parties or counsel; but no inaccuracy in the list shall constitute error.

§ 19.1-204. In any case of felony when a sufficient number of jurors to constitute a panel of twenty free from exception cannot be had from those summoned and in attendance, or when the venire facias or panel has been quashed for any cause, the court shall select from the names on the list provided for by §§ 8-182 and 8-184, the names of, and cause to be summoned, so many persons as may be deemed necessary to obtain a panel of twenty free from exception; and, if for any reason the list be found to have been unlawfully, illegally or improperly prepared, the court shall select from the persons who were eligible to have been placed on the list, and cause to be summoned, so many persons as may be deemed necessary to obtain a panel of twenty, free from exception, and the venire thus summoned, in either such event, may be used for the trial of all criminal cases to be tried at that term, both felonies and misdemeanors, in the same manner as if the venire had been obtained according to the provisions of §§ 19.1-196 to 19.1-202.

§ 19.1-205. If any person summoned under any venire facias authorized by this chapter fail to attend, as required, without sufficient excuse, he shall be fined by the court not less than five nor more than fifty dollars.

§ 19.1-206. Jurors drawn or summoned under chapter 11 of Title 8 shall be jurors as well for the trial of cases of misdemeanor as of civil cases, and all the provisions of that chapter except the provisions of §§ 8-193 to 8-202 and the provisions of § 8-204 which direct the compensation and mileage of jurors to be paid out of the county or corporation levy (which excepted provisions shall apply exclusively to jurors and juries in civil cases) shall extend as well to jurors and juries in cases of misdemeanor as to jurors and juries in civil cases. And §§ 8-174, 8-175, 8-178, 8-194, 8-199 to 8-201, 8-205 to 8-208, 3-215 and 8-216 shall apply to jurors and juries in all cases, criminal as well as civil. Eleven jurors shall constitute a panel in the trial of misdemeanors, but the jury therefor shall be composed of five.

No officer shall be allowed more than one fee for executing writs of venire facias on the same persons for the same term of court.

§ 19.1-207. In every case of a felony there shall be selected from the persons summoned, as aforesaid, a panel of twenty persons, free from exception, from which panel the Commonwealth may strike four and the accused four, and the remaining twelve shall constitute the jury for the trial of the accused. The striking off of jurors shall be done alternately, the Commonwealth beginning. If either the accused or the attorney for the Commonwealth fail to strike off any, or if they strike off a less number than above allowed, twelve of the panel, or of those remaining thereon, shall be selected by lot who shall constitute the jury.

§ 19.1-208. In every case of felony, the Commonwealth shall be allowed four peremptory challenges, and the accused four. In every case of misdemeanor, whether on an appeal from a court not of record or an original trial, the Commonwealth and the prisoner shall each be allowed three peremptory challenges. No other challenges shall be allowed except for cause. All challenges shall be tried by the court in which they are made.

§ 19.1-209. Persons indicted for felony who elect to be tried jointly shall be allowed to strike from the panel not more than four, but should the accused not agree as to the jurors to be stricken from the panel, the four jurors to be stricken off shall be ascertained by lot.

§ 19.1-210. A person whose opinions are such as to prevent his convicting any one of an offense punishable with death shall not be allowed to serve as a juror on a trial for such offense.

§ 19.1-211. No person residing within two miles of the place where the crime is alleged to have been committed shall be allowed to serve as a juror in any felony case in the circuit court of any county; provided, however, that the impanelling of such a juror shall not be cause for summoning a new panel, or for setting aside a verdict or granting a new trial, unless objection thereto specifically pointed out is made before the jury is sworn; and provided further, however, that such a juror may be impanelled and serve in any county having a population in excess of ninety-five thousand or in any county containing a town, the population of which is more than half the entire population of the county.

§ 19.1-212. In a criminal case in any court, if qualified jurors, not exempt from serving, cannot be conveniently found in the county or corporation in which the trial is to be, the court may cause so many of such jurors as may be necessary to be summoned from any other county or corporation by the sheriff or sergeant thereof, or by its own officer, from a list to be furnished either by the trial judge or by the judge of the circuit court of the county, or the corporation court of the city, from which the jurors are to be summoned.

§ 19.1-213. In any case of a felony the jury shall not be kept together unless the court otherwise directs.

§ 19.1-214. When the jury are kept together the court shall direct its officers to furnish them with suitable board and lodging, when so confined, to be paid out of the State treasury, the expense thereof to be determined by the court, not to exceed, however, for each juror, two dollars for each meal furnished, and not to exceed ten dollars for lodging. And the same amount shall be allowed, in either case, for the meals and lodging of sheriff, or his deputy, keeping such jury, to be paid in the same manner. But in no case, shall more be paid for meals or lodging than usually charged by the hotel or boardinghouse at which the jury is lodged.

§ 19.1-215. Whenever a jury is required to be kept together it shall be deemed a sufficient compliance although the court for good cause permits one or more of such jurors to be separated from the others, provided all such jurors, whether separated or not, be kept in charge of officers provided therefor.

§ 19.1-216. Whenever in the opinion of the court the trial of any criminal case is likely to be a protracted one, the court may, immediately after the jury is impanelled and sworn, direct the selection of one or two additional jurors, to be known as "alternate jurors". Such jurors shall be drawn from the same source and in the same manner and have the same qualifications as regular jurors, and be subject to examination and challenge as such jurors, except that the Commonwealth shall be allowed one peremptory and the accused person or persons one peremptory challenge. The alternate jurors shall take the proper oath or affirmation and shall be seated near the regular jurors with equal facilities for seeing and hearing the proceedings in the cause and shall attend at all times upon the trial of the cause in company with the regular jurors. They shall obey all orders and admonitions of the court and if the regular jurors are ordered to be kept in the custody of an officer during the trial of the cause, the alternate jurors shall also be kept with the other jurors and, except as hereinafter provided, shall be discharged upon the final submission of the cause to the jury. If before the final submission of the cause, a regular juror dies or is for good cause discharged or excused, the court shall order the alternate juror, if there is but one, to take his place in the jury box. If there are two alternate jurors the court shall select one by lot, who shall then take his place in the jury box. After an alternate juror is in the jury box he shall be subject to the same rules as a regular juror and the trial shall otherwise proceed as if such regular juror had not died or been discharged or excused.

§ 19.1-217. If a juror, after he is sworn, be unable from any cause to perform his duty, the court may, in its discretion, cause another qualified juror to be sworn in his place; and in any criminal case, the court may discharge the jury when it appears that they cannot agree in a verdict or that there is a manifest necessity for such discharge.

§ 19.1-218. Every person summoned as a juror in a criminal case shall be entitled to five dollars for each day of attendance upon the court and mileage at the rate of seven cents per mile for each mile of travel on each day of such attendance (except when they are kept together and their expenses are paid by the State) by most direct route in going to and returning from court; but such mileage shall in no case exceed four dollars per day; provided that each juror summoned from one county or city to try a criminal case in another county or city shall for his services, receive his actual expenses in addition to his per diem. If the same person attend as a juror in more than one criminal case on the same day he shall receive compensation and mileage in only one case. Amounts for attendance and mileage provided for in this section shall be paid out of the State treasury except as hereinafter provided.

When during the same day a person has served as a juror for which he is entitled to be paid out of the State treasury, and has also served as a juror for which he is entitled to be paid out of the county or corporation levy, the court shall divide equally the pay and mileage for the day between the State and county or corporation; and the sheriff of the circuit or sergeant of the corporation or hustings court, at the term of the court during which an allowance is made or has been made under this section, shall furnish the clerk of the court with a statement showing the number of names of the jurors in attendance upon the court and the number of miles, respectively, of travel, as aforesaid. In every case the claim of the juror for attendance and for mileage shall be verified by his affidavit.

§ 19.1-219. The compensation, fees, mileage and allowances prescribed in this article for jurors selected or appointed for the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond shall be paid by the Commonwealth.

tion in which the offender is found or to which he is sent by any judge, justice, or court; and if any person shall commit larceny, embezzlement or robbery beyond the jurisdiction of this State and bring the stolen property into the same he shall be liable to prosecution and punishment for his offense in any county or corporation in which he may be found as if the same had been wholly committed therein; provided, that if any person shall commit embezzlement within this State he shall be liable to prosecution and punishment for his offense in the county or city in which the offense occurred or in the county or city in which he was legally obligated to deliver the embezzled funds or property.

§ 19.1-221. If a mortal wound or other violence or injury be inflicted by a person within this State upon one outside of the same, or upon one in this State who afterwards dies from the effect thereof out of the State, the offender shall be amenable to prosecution and punishment for the offense in the courts of the county or corporation in which he was at the time of the commission thereof as if the same had been committed in such county or corporation.

§ 19.1-222. An offense committed on the boundary of two counties, or within three hundred yards thereof, may be alleged to have been committed, and may be prosecuted and punished, in either county, and any sheriff, deputy sheriff, or other police officer shall have jurisdiction to make arrests and preserve the peace for a like distance on either side of the boundary line between such counties.

§ 19.1-223. If a mortal wound, or other violence or injury, be inflicted, or poison administered in one county or corporation, and death ensue therefrom in another county or corporation, the offense may be prosecuted in either.

§ 19.1-224. A circuit court may, on motion of the accused or of the Commonwealth, for good cause, order the venue for the trial of a criminal case in such court to be changed to some other circuit or corporation court and in like manner the court of a corporation may order the venue to be changed to some other corporation or circuit court. Such motion when made by the accused may be made in his absence upon a petition signed and sworn to by him, which petition may, in the discretion of the judge, be acted on by him in vacation; and, whenever the mayor of any city, or the sheriff of any county, shall call on the Governor for military force to protect the accused from violence, the judge of the corporation court of the city or the circuit court of the county having jurisdiction of the offense shall, upon a petition signed and sworn to by the accused, whether he be present or not, at once order the venue to be changed to the corporation court of a city or the circuit court of a county sufficiently remote from the place where the offense was committed to insure the safe and impartial trial of the accused.

§ 19.1-225. When the venue is so changed, the court making the order may admit the accused to bail and shall recognize the witnesses and the accused if admitted to bail and the bail be given, to appear on some certain day before the court to which the case is removed; if the accused be not admitted to bail or the bail required be not given, the court shall remand him to its own jail and order its officer to remove him thence to the jail of the court to which the case is removed, so that he shall be there before the day for the appearance of the witnesses.

§ 19.1-226. The clerk of the court which orders a change of venue shall certify copies of the recognizances aforesaid and of the record of the case to the clerk of the court to which the case is removed, who shall thereupon issue a venire facias, directed to the officer of such court; and such court shall proceed with the case as if the prosecution had been originally therein; and for that purpose the certified copies aforesaid shall be sufficient.

PROCEEDINGS ON QUESTION OF INSANITY

§ 19.1-227. No person shall, while he is insane, be tried for a criminal offense; nor shall any person charged with a felony be committed to any hospital or other institution for the mentally ill except by order of the court of record, or judge thereof, which has, or would have upon certification and indictment, jurisdiction of the trial of the case.

§ 19.1-228. If, prior to the time for trial of any person charged with crime, either the court or attorney for the Commonwealth has reason to believe that such person is in such mental condition that his confinement in a hospital for the insane or a colony for the feeble-minded is necessary for proper care and observation, the court or the judge thereof may, after hearing evidence on the subject, commit such person, if a white person, to any State hospital for the insane best adapted to meet the needs of the case and, if a colored person, to the Central State Hospital, under such limitations as it may order, pending the determination of his mental condition. In any such case the court, in its discretion, may appoint one or more physicians skilled in the diagnosis of insanity, or other qualified physicians, and when any person is alleged to be feeble-minded may likewise appoint persons skilled in the diagnosis of feeble-mindedness, not to exceed three, to examine the defendant before such commitment is ordered, make such investigation of the case as they may deem necessary and report to the court the condition of the defendant at the time of their examination. A copy of the complaint or indictment, attested by the clerk, together with the report of the examining commission, including, as far as possible, a personal history, according to the form prescribed by the general board of directors of the State hospitals, shall be delivered with such person to the superintendent of the hospital to which he shall have been committed under the provisions of this section. As used in this section the term "court" shall be construed to include courts not of record and courts of record.

§ 19.1-229. If a court in which a person is held for trial see reasonable ground to doubt his sanity or mentality at the time at which, but for such a doubt, he would be tried, it shall suspend the trial and it may then proceed as prescribed in the foregoing section or it may impanel a jury at its bar to inquire into the fact as to the sanity or mentality of such person.

§ 19.1-230. If any such person so removed to the department for the criminal insane at the proper hospital is, in the opinion of the superintendent, not insane or feeble-minded, or when such person, if insane, has been restored to sanity, the superintendent shall give ten days' notice in writing to the clerk of the court from which such person was committed and shall send such person back to the jail or custody from which he was removed, where he shall be held in accordance with the terms of the process by which he was originally committed or confined.

§ 19.1-231. If the jury or commission find the accused to be sane at the time of their verdict, they shall make no other inquiry, and the trial in chief shall proceed. If the jury find that he is insane or feeble-minded at the time of their verdict, they shall further inquire whether or not he was insane or feeble-minded at the time of the alleged offense; if they find that he was also insane or feeble-minded at the time of the alleged offense the court may dismiss the prosecution and shall order him to be removed thence to the department of the criminal insane at the proper hospital, there to be detained until he is restored to sanity. If they find that he was not insane or feeble-minded at the time of the alleged offense, but is now insane or feeble-minded, the court shall order him to be confined in the department for criminal insane at the proper hospital until he is so restored that he can be put upon his trial.

§ 19.1-232. The superintendent shall from time to time, or as often as the court may require, inform the court of the condition of such person while confined in the hospital.

§ 19.1-233. The experts or physicians skilled in the diagnosis of insanity or feeble-mindedness or the physicians appointed by the court to render the foregoing professional service shall be paid at the rate of fifteen dollars per diem and mileage during the attendance upon court in the trial of such cases. Itemized account of expense, duly sworn to, must be presented to the court, and when allowed shall be certified to the Comptroller for payment out of the State treasury, and be by him charged against the appropriation made to pay criminal charges. Allowance for the per diem authorized shall also be made by order of the court, duly certified to the Comptroller for payment out of the appropriation to pay criminal charges.

§ 19.1-234. If, after conviction and before sentence of any person, the court see reasonable ground to doubt his sanity or mentality, it may impanel a jury or appoint a commission of insanity to inquire into the fact as to his sanity or mentality and may sentence him or commit him to jail or to a hospital for the insane, according as the jury or commission may find him to be sane or insane or feeble-minded.

§ 19.1-235. If any person, after conviction of any crime, or while serving sentence in the State penitentiary, or any penal institution, or in any reformatory or elsewhere, is declared by a jury or commission of insanity to be insane or feeble-minded, he shall be committed by the court to the department for the criminal insane at the proper hospital, and there kept until he is restored to sanity; and the time such person is confined in the department for the criminal insane at the proper hospital shall be deducted from the term for which he was sentenced to such penal institution, reformatory or elsewhere.

§ 19.1-236. The sheriff or sergeant of the court by which any of the orders as provided for in §§ 19.1-228, 19.1-229, 19.1-231, 19.1-234 or 19.1-235 shall have been made, or the proper officer of the penitentiary or reformatory, shall immediately proceed in the manner directed by § 37-76 to ascertain whether a vacancy exists in the department for the criminal insane at the proper hospital and until it is ascertained that there is a vacancy such person shall be kept in the jail of such county or corporation, or in such custody as the court may order, or in the penitentiary, or in the reformatory in which he is confined, until there is room in the department for criminal insane at such hospital. Any person whose care and custody is herein provided for shall be taken to and from the hospital to which he was committed by an officer of the penal institution having custody of him, or by the sheriff or sergeant of the county or corporation whose court issued the order of commitment, and the expenses incurred in such removals shall be paid by such penal institution, county or corporation.

§ 19.1-237. When the superintendent of a State hospital for the insane shall give notice to the clerk of the court, in pursuance of § 37-93, such clerk shall issue a precept to the officer of the court, requiring him to bring the prisoner from the hospital and commit him to jail.

§ 19.1-238. When a prisoner is brought from a hospital and committed to jail or when it is found by a verdict of another jury that a prisoner, whose trial or sentence was suspended by reason of his being found to be insane or feeble-minded, has been restored, if already convicted, he shall be sentenced, and if not, the court shall proceed to try him as if no delay had occurred on account of his insanity or feeble-mindedness.

§ 19.1-239. When the defense is insanity or feeble-mindedness of the defendant at the time the offense was committed, the jury shall be instructed, if they acquit him on that ground, to state the fact with their

If the jury so find the court shall thereupon if it deem his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, order him to be committed to one of the State hospitals for the insane and be confined there under special observation and custody until the superintendent of that hospital and the superintendent of any other State hospital or feeble-minded colony shall pronounce him sane and safe to be at large.

ARTICLE 6

CONDUCT OF THE TRIAL

§ 19.1-240. A person tried for felony shall be personally present during the trial. If when arraigned he will not plead or answer and does not confess his guilt the court shall have the plea of not guilty entered and the trial shall proceed as if the accused had put in that plea. But for the purposes of this section a motion for a continuance, whether made before or after arraignment, shall not be deemed to be part of the trial.

§ 19.1-241. In any case in which a person is charged with a felony and is not represented by counsel, the court, before accepting the plea of such person, shall by order entered of record appoint an attorney at law to represent him.

§ 19.1-242. The defendant in any criminal prosecution may plead as many several matters, whether of law or fact, as he shall think necessary, and he may file pleas in bar at the same time with pleas in abatement, or within a reasonable time thereafter; but the issues on the pleas in abatement shall be first tried.

§ 19.1-243. There shall be no plea of benefit of clergy, nor any distinction between murder and petit treason; but the last mentioned offense shall be punished as murder.

§ 19.1-244. Approvers shall not be admitted in any case.

§ 19.1-245. On the trial of any case of felony or misdemeanor and before any evidence is submitted on either side counsel for the Commonwealth and for the prisoner, respectively, shall have the right to make an opening statement of their case.

§ 19.1-246. In the trial of all criminal cases, whether the same be felony or misdemeanor cases, the court may, in its discretion, exclude from the trial any or all persons whose presence is not deemed necessary.

ARTICLE 7

PROOF; VERDICTS; SENTENCES

§ 19.1-247. In a prosecution for an offense committed upon, relating to or affecting real estate, or for stealing, embezzling, destroying, injuring or fraudulently receiving or concealing any personal estate it shall be sufficient to prove that when the offense was committed the actual or constructive possession, or a general or special property, in the whole or any part of such estate was in the person or community alleged in the indictment or other accusation to be the owner thereof.

§ 19.1-248. No person shall be convicted of felony, unless by his confession of guilt in court, or by his plea, or by the verdict of a jury, accepted and recorded by the court, or by judgment of the court trying the case without a jury according to law.

§ 19.1-249. If a person indicted of a felony be by the jury acquitted of part of the offense charged, he shall be sentenced for such part as he is so convicted of, if the same be substantially charged in the indictment, whether it be felony or misdemeanor. If the verdict be set aside and a new trial granted the accused, he shall not be tried for any higher offense than that of which he was convicted on the last trial.

§ 19.1-250. If a person indicted for murder be found by the jury guilty thereof, they shall in their verdict fix the degree thereof and ascertain the extent of the punishment to be inflicted within the bounds prescribed by §§ 18.1-22 and 18.1-23. If the accused confess the indictment to be true, the court shall hear the case without the intervention of a jury, and shall ascertain the extent of the punishment within the same bounds and give sentence accordingly.

§ 19.1-251. On any indictment for maliciously shooting, stabbing, cutting or wounding a person or by any means causing him bodily injury, with intent to maim, disfigure, disable or kill him, the jury or the court trying the case without a jury may find the accused not guilty of the offense charged but guilty of unlawfully doing such act with the intent aforesaid.

§ 19.1-252. In a prosecution for grand larceny, if it be found that the thing stolen is of less value than fifty dollars, the jury may find the accused guilty of petit larceny.

§ 19.1-253. In a prosecution for petit larceny, though the thing stolen be of the value of fifty dollars or more, the jury may find the accused guilty; and upon a conviction under this or the preceding section the accused shall be sentenced for petit larceny.

§ 19.1-254. On an indictment for felony the jury may find the accused not guilty of the felony but guilty of an attempt to commit such felony, or of being an accessory after the fact; and a general verdict of not guilty, upon such indictment, shall be a bar to a subsequent prosecution for an attempt to commit such felony, or of being an accessory after the fact.

§ 19.1-255. When there are several counts in the indictment one or more of which are faulty, the accused may demur to the faulty count or counts or move the court to instruct the jury to disregard them. If he does neither and a general verdict of guilty is found, judgment shall be entered against the accused, if any count be good, though others be faulty, unless the court can plainly see that the verdict could not have been found on the good count. If the accused demurs to the faulty count or moves the court to instruct the jury to disregard it and his demurrer or motion is overruled and there is a general verdict of guilty and it cannot be seen on which count the verdict was founded, if the jury has been discharged, it shall be set aside; but if it is manifest that it could not have been found on the bad count, the verdict shall be allowed to stand.

§ 19.1-256. When two or more persons are charged and tried jointly, the jury may render a verdict as to any of them as to whom they agree. Thereupon judgment shall be entered according to the verdict; and as to the others the case shall be tried by another jury.

§ 19.1-257. A person acquitted by the jury upon the facts and merits on a former trial, may plead such acquittal in bar of a second prosecution for the same offense, notwithstanding any defect in the form or substance of the indictment or accusation on which he was acquitted, unless the case be for a violation of the law relating to the State revenue and the acquittal be reversed on a writ of error on behalf of the Commonwealth.

§ 19.1-258. A person acquitted of an offense on the ground of a variance between the allegations and the proof of the indictment or other accusation, or upon an exception to the form or substance thereof, may be arraigned again on a new indictment or other proper accusation, and tried and convicted for the same offense, notwithstanding such former acquittal.

§ 19.1-259. If the same act be a violation of two or more statutes, or of two or more ordinances, or of one or more statutes and also one or more ordinances, conviction under one of such statutes or ordinances shall be a bar to a prosecution or proceeding under the other or others. Furthermore, if the same act be a violation of both a State and a federal statute a prose-

§ 19.1-260. The clerk of the circuit court of each county and of the circuit, corporation, or hustings court of each corporation shall keep a register of full and accurate descriptive lists of every person convicted in his own court of felony or other infamous offense. Such register shall be kept written up, well indexed. Each list shall be duly attested by such clerk, and the same shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable hours; provided, however, that in cities which have both a circuit and a corporation court such register shall be kept by the clerk of the corporation court only, but the clerk of the circuit court shall, within ten days from the date of conviction of any person in his court of any felony or other infamous offense, deliver to the clerk of the corporation court for record in such register an attested descriptive list of the persons so convicted in the form herein prescribed. For the service mentioned in this section the clerks shall each be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid out of the State treasury.

Whenever directed so to do by the judge of any court in which the case has been tried the sheriff, sergeant, or chief of police of such county or corporation shall cause to be taken the photograph with the records of the case; provided, however, that the costs of taking such photograph shall not be paid out of the State treasury.

A duly certified and attested copy of such descriptive list and such photograph may be used as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated or shown in any question of identity.

Such register shall be in the following form:

Name in full and aliases.	Present and last known residence.	Color.	Height, eyes, hair, and marks.	Apparent or known age.	Occupation.	Offenses.	Court in which convicted.	Date of conviction and page of record.	Whether judgment reversed and pardon granted, and date thereof.

§ 19.1-261. The judges of the respective courts shall take care that the provisions of the preceding section are punctually and properly carried out by their respective clerks.

§ 19.1-263. In a criminal case a summons for a witness may be issued by the attorney for the Commonwealth.

§ 19.1-264. In any case of felony or misdemeanor, the accused may be sworn and examined in his own behalf, and if so sworn and examined, he shall be deemed to have waived his privilege of not giving evidence against himself, and shall be subject to cross-examination as any other witness; but his failure to testify shall create no presumption against him, nor be the subject of any comment before the court or jury by the prosecuting attorney.

§ 19.1-265. Conviction of felony or perjury shall not render the convict incompetent to testify, but the fact of conviction may be shown in evidence to affect his credit.

§ 19.1-266. No person prosecuted for an offense under Article 2 of Chapter 6 of Title 18.1 shall be competent to testify against a witness for the Commonwealth in such prosecution, touching any such offense committed by him prior to the commencement of such prosecution; nor shall any witness giving evidence, either before the grand jury or the court in such prosecution, be ever proceeded against for any such offense committed by him at the time and place indicated in such prosecution; but such witness shall be compelled to testify, and for refusing to answer questions, may be fined by the court a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months.

§ 19.1-267. In a criminal prosecution, other than for perjury, or in an action on a penal statute, evidence shall not be given against the accused of any statement made by him as a witness upon a legal examination, unless such statement was made when examined as a witness in his own behalf. No judge or police justice shall be competent to testify against the accused in a court of record as to statements made by the accused on his trial by judge or police justice or on his preliminary examination before such judge or police justice.

§ 19.1-268. No judge or justice of any court, or clerk of either, or justice of the peace, or other person having the power to issue warrants or try cases shall be competent to testify in any criminal or civil proceeding, except proceedings wherein the defendant is charged with perjury, as to any matter which shall have come before him in the course of his official duties as such issuing or trying officer.

ARTICLE 2

WITNESSES FROM OR FOR ANOTHER STATE

§ 19.1-269. "Witness" as used in this article shall include a person whose testimony is desired in any proceeding or investigation by a grand jury or in a criminal action, prosecution or proceeding.

The word "State" shall include any Territory of the United States and the District of Columbia.

The word "summons" shall include a subpoena, order or other notice requiring the appearance of a witness.

§ 19.1-270. If a judge of a court of record in any state which by its laws has made provisions for commanding persons within that state to attend and testify in this State certifies under the seal of such court (1) that there is a criminal prosecution pending in such court or that a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence, (2) that a person being within this State is a material witness in such prosecution or grand jury investigation and (3) that his presence will be required for a specified number of days, upon presentation of such certificate to any judge of a court of record in the county or city in which such person is, such person shall fix a time and place for hearing and shall make an order directing the witness to appear at a time and place certain for the hearing.

§ 19.1-271. If at such hearing the judge determines that the witness is material and necessary, that it will not cause undue hardship to the witness to be compelled to attend and testify in the prosecution or grand jury investigation in the other state and that the laws of the state in which the prosecution is pending, or grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence (and of any other state through which the witness may be required to pass by ordinary course of travel) will give to him protection from arrest and the service of civil and criminal process, the judge shall issue a summons, with a copy of the certificate attached, directing the witness to attend and testify in the court where the prosecution is pending, or where a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence at a time and place specified in the summons. In any such hearing the certificate shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

§ 19.1-272. If the certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state to assure his attendance in the requesting state, such judge may, in lieu of notification of the hearing, direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him for the hearing; and the judge at the hearing being satisfied of the desirability of such custody and delivery, for which determination the certificate shall be prima facie proof of such desirability, may, in lieu of issuing subpoena or summons, order that the witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state.

§ 19.1-273. If the witness who is summoned as above provided, after being paid or tendered by some properly authorized person the sum of ten cents a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending and five dollars for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness, fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this State.

§ 19.1-274. If a person in any state which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence in this State is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this State, or in a grand jury investigation which has commenced or is about to commence, a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. The certificate may include a recommendation that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this State to assure his attendance in this State. This certificate shall be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found.

§ 19.1-275. If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this State he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending and five dollars for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness. A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this State a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

The judge issuing the certificate prescribed in § 19.1-274 may, by order, direct the clerk of the court involved to issue such warrant or warrants payable out of the State treasury, as may be necessary to make the tender hereinabove prescribed; and after the entry of such order, such clerk, upon application of the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city involved, or of the accused, if certificate for the attendance of witness has been issued by such judge on his behalf as authorized by § 19.1-313, shall issue such warrant or warrants and deliver them to the said attorney for the Commonwealth, who shall, forthwith, cause such tender to be made. Upon issuance of any such warrant or warrants said clerk shall deliver a certified copy of the court's order to the Comptroller, and the said warrant or warrants shall be paid out of the State treasury upon presentation.

Unless and until appropriate forms shall be obtained, such warrants may be issued on the regular forms provided for the payment of witness fees and allowances, but in such event the clerk issuing the same shall make a notation thereon that they were issued pursuant to the provisions of this section.

§ 19.1-276. If such witness, after coming into this State, fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this State.

§ 19.1-277. If a person comes into this State in obedience to a summons directing him to attend and testify in this State he shall not while in this State pursuant to such summons be subject to arrest or the service of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this State under the summons.

If a person passes through this State while going to another state in obedience to a summons to attend and testify in that state or while returning therefrom, he shall not while so passing through this State be subject to arrest or the service of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this State under the summons.

§ 19.1-278. This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of the states which enact it.

§ 19.1-279. This article may be cited as the "Uniform Act to Secure the Attendance of Witnesses from without a State in Criminal Proceedings".

CHAPTER 11

EXCEPTIONS AND WRITS OF ERROR

§ 19.1-280. A party in a criminal case, or proceeding for contempt, for whom a writ of error lies in the Supreme Court of Appeals, may except to an opinion of the court and tender a bill of exceptions, which, if the truth of the case be fairly stated therein, the judge shall sign; and it shall be a part of the record of the case.

§ 19.1-281. If a person sentenced by a circuit or corporation court to death or confinement in the penitentiary asks for time to apply for a writ of error, the court shall postpone the execution of its sentence for such time as it may deem proper.

In any other criminal case wherein judgment is given by any court and in any case of judgment for a contempt, to which a writ of error lies, the court giving such judgment may postpone the execution thereof for such time and on such terms as it deems proper. And in any case after conviction if the sentence, or the execution thereof, is suspended in accordance with this section, or for any other cause, the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, may, and in any case of a misdemeanor shall, let the prisoner to bail in such penalty and for appearance at such time as the nature of the case may require. A writ of error from the Supreme Court of Appeals shall lie to any such judgment refusing bail or requiring excessive bail.

§ 19.1-282. A writ of error shall lie in a criminal case to the judgment of a circuit court or the judge thereof, or of a corporation court, or of a hustings court, from the Supreme Court of Appeals. It shall lie in any such case for the accused and if the case be for the violation of any law relating to the State revenue it shall lie also for the Commonwealth. And a writ of error shall also lie for any city or town from the Supreme Court of Appeals to the judgment of any circuit, corporation or hustings court declaring any ordinance of such city or town to be unconstitutional or otherwise invalid, except when the violation of any such ordinance is made a misdemeanor by State statute.

§ 19.1-283. To a judgment for a contempt of court a writ of error shall lie from the Supreme Court of Appeals. This section shall also be construed to authorize a writ of error to a judgment of a circuit court rendered on appeal from a judgment of a court not of record or justice of the peace for contempt.

§ 19.1-284. Any party for whom a writ of error lies may apply therefor on petition, which shall assign errors. With the petition there shall be a transcript of record of so much of the case wherein the judgment complained of is as will enable the Court or judge to whom the petition is to be presented properly to decide on such petition, and enable the Court, if the petition be granted, properly to decide the questions that may arise before it. Upon a suggestion of a diminution of the record a writ of certiorari may be awarded by the Court or judge in vacation.

§ 19.1-285. The petition in a case wherein a writ of error lies from the Supreme Court of Appeals may be presented to the Court or, in the vacation of the Court, to any judge thereof.

§ 19.1-286. The Court or any judge to whom a petition is duly presented, if of opinion that the judgment complained of ought to be reviewed, may allow a writ of error, which may operate as a supersedeas thereto if the Court or judge awarding it so direct, on such terms and conditions as the Court or judge may prescribe.

§ 19.1-287. The denial of a writ of error by a judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, in the vacation of the Court on petition presented to him, shall not prevent the allowance of the writ by the Court, if by it deemed proper, on presentation of the petition to the Court at its next term.

§ 19.1-288. The court from which a writ of error lies shall affirm the judgment, if there be no error therein, and reverse the same in whole or in part, if erroneous, and enter such judgment as the court whose error is sought to be corrected ought to have entered; or remand the cause and direct a new trial; affirming in those cases where the voices on both sides are equal.

§ 19.1-289. §§ 8-482, 8-497.1, 8-499, 8-500 and 14-129 shall apply as well to criminal cases as to civil cases; provided, that in a felony case in the Supreme Court of Appeals, if the plaintiff in error file with the clerk of the Court an affidavit that he is unable to pay or secure to be paid the costs of printing the record in the case, together with a certificate of the judge of the trial court to the effect that he has investigated the matter and is of opinion that the plaintiff in error is unable to pay, or secure to be paid, such costs, the printing shall be done as if the costs had been paid and the clerk shall not be required to account for and pay the same into the State treasury; but if the costs be not paid or secured to be paid and upon the hearing of the case the judgment of the court below be

§ 19.1-290. The judgment of the Supreme Court of Appeals shall be certified to the court to whose judgment the writ of error was allowed, which court, or the clerk thereof in vacation, shall cause the same to be entered on its order book as its own judgment.

§ 19.1-290.1. Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to affect in any way the provisions of §§ 8-1.1 and 8-1.2 of the Code of Virginia or to amend, modify or supersede any rule or amendment thereto adopted by the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia pursuant to such sections.

CHAPTER 12

PUNISHMENT AND EXECUTION OF SENTENCE

§ 19.1-291. The punishment in all criminal cases tried by a jury shall be ascertained by the jury trying the same within the limits prescribed by law.

§ 19.1-292. The term of confinement in the penitentiary or in jail of a person convicted of felony, if that punishment is prescribed, and the amount of the fine, if the felony be also punishable by fine, shall be ascertained by the jury, if there be one, or by the court trying the case without a jury, so far as the term of confinement and the amount of the fine are not fixed by law.

§ 19.1-293. When a person is convicted of petit larceny, and it is alleged in the indictment on which he is convicted, and admitted, or found by the jury or judge before whom he is tried, that he has been before sentenced in the United States for the like offense, he shall be confined in jail not less than thirty days nor more than one year; and for a third, or any subsequent offense, he shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than two years.

§ 19.1-294. When any person is convicted of two or more offenses, and sentenced to confinement, such sentences shall not run concurrently, unless expressly ordered by the court.

§ 19.1-295. When any person is convicted of a combination of felony and misdemeanor offenses and sentenced to confinement therefor, in determining the sequence of confinement, the felony sentence and commitment shall take precedence and such person shall first be committed to serve the felony sentence.

§ 19.1-296. Every person sentenced by a court to confinement in the penitentiary shall, as soon as may be, be conveyed to the penitentiary in the manner hereinafter provided. The clerk of the court in which the person is sentenced shall forthwith transmit to the superintendent of the penitentiary a copy of the judgment and if he fail to do so he shall forfeit one hundred dollars. Upon receiving such copy the superintendent of the penitentiary shall dispatch a guard to the county or corporation with a warrant directed to the sheriff authorizing him to deliver the convict, whose duty it shall be to take charge of the person and convey him to the penitentiary. If because of the number of persons to be conveyed to the penitentiary or because there is reason to apprehend an attempt to rescue, the superintendent shall deem it necessary he may dispatch more than one guard and make provision for the employment by the guard of persons to assist him in the performance of his duty. The superintendent shall be entitled to receive from the State Corporation Commission such certificates of transportation as he may require in executing the provisions of this section, and other expenses incurred by him in the execution thereof he shall pay, the same to be allowed him in the settlement of his accounts;

§ 19.1-297. The Governor shall not grant a pardon in any case before conviction. In any case in which he shall exercise the power conferred on him to commute capital punishment, he may issue his order to the superintendent of the penitentiary, requiring him to receive and confine (and the superintendent shall receive and confine) in the penitentiary, according to such order, the person whose punishment is commuted. To carry into effect any commutation of punishment, the Governor may issue his warrant directed to any proper officer; and the same shall be obeyed and executed.

§ 19.1-298. Omitted.

§ 19.1-299. Upon a conviction in a court of record of the charge of larceny, forgery or uttering or attempting to employ as true such forged writing, knowing it to be forged, the court may, in its discretion, suspend sentence during the good behavior of the person convicted, provided that he has not been previously convicted of a like offense or any felony.

§ 19.1-300. Any court having jurisdiction for the trial of a person charged with a misdemeanor or charged with an offense under chapter 5 (§ 20-61 et seq.) of Title 20 of the Code of Virginia may, if defendant is convicted, and if it is made to appear to the court that in the event of his being sentenced to confinement in jail his dependents may become public charges, may provide in the sentence for the release of such person from confinement on the days he is regularly employed under the supervision of a probation officer or such other suitable person as the court may designate, and under such conditions as it may fix, and require such person to pay such portion of any money earned by him as the court may determine to the court to be used for the support and maintenance of dependents and payment of fines, if any.

§ 19.1-301. Sentence of death, except for insurrection or rebellion, shall not be executed sooner than thirty days after the sentence is pronounced.

§ 19.1-302. The superintendent of the state penitentiary, at Richmond, is hereby authorized and directed to provide and maintain a permanent death chamber within the confines of the penitentiary. The death chamber shall have all the necessary appliances for the proper execution of felons by electrocution. In the death chamber shall be executed all felons upon whom the death penalty has been imposed. Each execution shall be conducted by the superintendent or some assistant or assistants designated by him.

§ 19.1-303. The clerk of the court in which is pronounced the sentence of death against any felon shall, as soon as may be, after such sentence, deliver a certified copy thereof to the superintendent of the penitentiary at Richmond. As soon as practicable thereafter and not less than fifteen days before the time fixed, in the judgment of the court, for the execution of the sentence, the superintendent of the penitentiary shall cause to be conveyed to the penitentiary such condemned felon in the manner now prescribed by law for the conveyance of felons sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary, and the superintendent, in his discretion, may appoint more than one guard to convey the condemned felon, and the expenses of such guard or guards shall be paid in the manner and under the requirements now prescribed by law for the conveyance of convicts to the penitentiary. The superintendent, or the assistants appointed by him, shall, at the time named in the sentence, cause the felon under sentence of death to be electrocuted until he is dead unless a suspension of execution be ordered. At the execution there shall be present the superintendent, or an assistant, the surgeon of the penitentiary or his assistant, and a number of respectable citizens numbering not less than six nor more than twelve. The counsel for the convict and a minister of the Gospel may be present.

§ 19.1-304. The superintendent shall certify the fact of the execution of the condemned felon to the clerk of the court by which such sentence was pronounced, who shall file such certificate with the papers of the case and enter the same upon the records of the case.

§ 19.1-305. Whenever the day fixed for the execution of a sentence of death shall have passed without the execution of such sentence and it shall have become necessary to fix a new date therefor, the court which pronounced such sentence, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall fix another day for such execution. The person to be executed need not be present when such other date is fixed, but a copy of the order fixing the new date of execution shall be promptly furnished by the clerk of the court making the order to the officer in whose custody the person to be executed is, and such officer shall deliver a copy of the order to the person to be executed and, if he is unable to read it, explain it to him, at least ten days before the date fixed for such execution, and make return thereof to the clerk of the court which issued same.

When the day fixed for the execution of a sentence of death has passed without the execution of such sentence by reason of a reprieve granted by the Governor, it shall not be necessary for the court to resentence the convict, but the sentence of death of the court shall be executed on the day to which the convict has been reprieved.

§ 19.1-306. Should the condemned felon, while in the custody of the superintendent of the penitentiary, be granted a reprieve by the Governor, or obtain a writ of error from the Supreme Court of Appeals, or should the execution of the sentence be stayed by any competent judicial proceeding, notice of such reprieve or such writ of error or stay of execution shall be served upon the superintendent of the penitentiary, as well as upon the condemned felon, and the superintendent shall yield obedience to the same. In any subsequent proceeding the mandate of the court having regard to the condemned felon shall be served upon the superintendent of the penitentiary as well as the felon. Should the felon be resentenced by the court then the proceedings shall be as hereinabove provided under the original sentence. Should a new trial be granted such condemned felon after he has been conveyed to the penitentiary, then he shall be conveyed back to the place of trial by such guard or guards as the superintendent may direct, their expenses to be paid as is now provided by law for the conveyance of convicts to the penitentiary.

§ 19.1-306.1. No newspaper or person shall print or publish the details of the execution of criminals. Only the fact that the criminal was executed shall be printed or published.

§ 19.1-307. Upon application of the relatives of the person executed the body after execution shall be returned to their address and at their cost may order the jailer to summon a sufficient guard, and whenever ordered by the court to do so, the sheriff of any county or city sergeant of any city shall summon or employ temporarily such person or persons as may be needed to preserve proper order or otherwise to aid the court in its proper operation and functioning, and for such guard or other service the court may allow therefor so much as it deems proper, not exceeding ten dollars per day for each man, the same to be paid out of the State treasury, except when payment for such guard is otherwise provided under the provisions of § 19.1-309 of the Code of Virginia.

§ 19.1-309. The circuit or corporation court, before certifying any such allowance, shall inquire into the condition of the jail; if it appear that a guard was necessary because of the insecurity of the jail, it shall order the allowance to be certified to the board of supervisors or other governing body of the county or council of the corporation and it shall be chargeable to such county or corporation; but if otherwise, and the guard was necessary, the allowance shall be certified for payment out of the State treasury.

§ 19.1-310. A court may appoint a physician to attend prisoners in its jail and make him a reasonable allowance, not exceeding seventy-five cents per day for each day he attends a patient. When he attends more than one patient a day there may be allowed fifty cents per day for each additional patient. The governing body of any county or city may, in its discretion, supplement such allowance to the extent of two dollars and twenty-five cents per day for the first patient attended on any day. It may also make an allowance, not to exceed twenty-five dollars, as compensation to any physician or analytical chemist for making an analysis to discover poison in any criminal case. Allowances under this section, except the supplemental allowance herein provided for, shall be paid out of the State treasury, except that no allowance shall be made or paid for medicines furnished such prisoner unless the account therefor is certified by the physician for the jail to be correct. When any supplemental allowance is made by the governing body of any county such supplemental allowance shall be paid out of the county treasury, and when clothing is obtained for prisoners worked in the chain gang of any county, city or town, such clothing shall be paid for out of the treasury of such county, city or town.

§ 19.1-311. No compensation shall be allowed hospitals for the treatment of prisoners unless application shall have been made to the superintendent of the penitentiary, or to the superintendent of the State farm, for the admission of prisoners to the hospital wards of such institutions and such applications shall have been refused, unless the disease, wound or accident, from which the prisoner is suffering is of such an emergency kind that immediate treatment in the hospital is necessary, and then only such amounts shall be allowed to the hospitals as shall have been incurred before it is practicable to remove the prisoner from the hospital to one of the institutions above mentioned.

§ 19.1-312. §§ 14-187 to 14-191 inclusive, shall apply to a person attending as a witness, under a recognizance or summons in a criminal case, as well as to a person attending under a summons in a civil case, except that in a criminal case a witness who travels over fifty miles to the place of attendance shall have for each day's attendance one dollar, instead of fifty cents; and a person residing out of this State, who attends a court therein as a witness, shall be allowed by the court a proper compensation for attendance and travel to and from the place of his abode, the amount of the same to be fixed by the court.

§ 19.1-313. Any witness from without the State whose attendance is compelled under the provisions of chapter 10, article 2 of this title shall be deemed to render a service within the meaning of § 19.1-315 and the compensation and expenses of such witness, whether on behalf of the Commonwealth or the accused, may be paid out of the State treasury in accordance with the provisions of such section. But the compensation and expenses of any witness summoned on behalf of an accused shall not be certified to the State treasury as a compensation under such section except in cases when the court or judge thereof is satisfied that the defendant is without means to pay same and is unable to provide the costs incident thereto.

§ 19.1-314. Payment shall not be made out of the State treasury to a witness attending for the Commonwealth in any prosecution for a misdemeanor unless it appears that the sum to which the witness is entitled cannot be obtained:

(1) If it be a case wherein there is a prosecutor and the defendant is convicted, by reason of the insolvency of the defendant, or

(2) If it be a case in which there is no prosecutor, by reason of the acquittal or insolvency of the defendant or other cause.

§ 19.1-315. A sheriff or other officer, for traveling out of his county or corporation but within the State to execute process in a criminal case and doing any act in the service thereof, for which no other compensation is provided, shall receive therefor, out of the State treasury, such compensation as the court from which the process issued may certify to be reasonable. When in a criminal case an officer or any person renders any other service in the State for which no specific compensation is provided, the court in which such case is may allow therefor what it deems reasonable and such allowance shall be paid out of the State treasury from the appropriation for criminal charges on the certificate of the court stating the nature of the service. This section shall not prevent any payment under § 2-199, which could have been made if this section had not been enacted.

But the amount of compensation to officers for execution of process outside of the respective counties of such officers shall not exceed the fees or allowances now provided by law for the execution of process within the county including the provision for the allowance of mileage for officers and prisoners within a county. Not more than eight cents per mile shall be allowed for officers using automobiles for travel, irrespective of the number of guards or prisoners conveyed in such automobiles.

This section shall not be construed to authorize the payment of any additional compensation to a sheriff or other officer who is compensated for his services by a salary exclusively.

§ 19.1-316. No fee to an attorney for the Commonwealth shall be payable out of the State treasury, unless it be expressly so provided.

§ 19.1-317. The certificate required by § 14-96, shall, when the payment is to be to a clerk, be from the court whereof he is clerk, and when it is to be to a sheriff or other officer, from the court in which the prosecution is, or to which a judge of a court not of record shall certify such expense, as hereinafter mentioned. Any other expense incident to a proceeding in a criminal case which is payable out of the State treasury otherwise than under §§ 2-199, 19.1-311, 19.1-313 or 19.1-315 shall be certified by the court. If it be a judge of a court not of record exercising jurisdiction, it shall be certified by such judge to the circuit or corporation court before which he qualified, which court shall certify the same, if it appears to be correct, to the Comptroller. With the certificate of allowance there shall be transmitted to the Comptroller the vouchers on which it is made. The court, in passing upon any account for fees or expenses required to be certified by it under this section, before certifying the § 19.1-318. The entry of such certificate of allowance shall state how much thereof is on account of each person prosecuted.

§ 19.1-319. A judge of a court not of record or justice of the peace before whom there is any proceeding in a criminal case shall certify to the clerk of the circuit court of his county or the corporation court of his city, and a judge or court before whom there is, in a criminal case, any proceeding preliminary to conviction in another court, upon receiving information of the conviction from the clerk of the court wherein it is, shall certify to such clerk all the expenses incident to such proceedings which are payable out of the State treasury.

§ 19.1-320. In every criminal case the clerk of the circuit or corporation court in which the accused is convicted, or, if the conviction be before a court not of record, the clerk to which the judge thereof certifies as aforesaid, shall, as soon as may be, make up a statement of all the expenses incident to the prosecution, including such as are certified under the preceding section, and execution for the amount of such expenses shall be issued and proceeded with; and chapter 14 of this title shall apply thereto in like manner as if, on the day of completing the statement, there was a judgment in such court in favor of the Commonwealth against the accused for such amount as a fine.

§ 19.1-321. If by reason of the failure of a person to present his claim in due time a sum be not included in such execution which would have been included if so presented, such claim, unless there be good cause for the failure, shall be disallowed.

§ 19.1-322. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of any charter or any law to the contrary, any town may provide that any person convicted of violating any ordinance of the town may be charged, in addition to all other costs, fines, fees and charges, the costs of transporting such person so convicted to and from a jail or other penal institution outside the corporate limits of such town designated by the town as a place of confinement for persons arrested for violating the ordinances of the town and required to be held in jail pending trial upon such charge. The cost of such transportation shall be taxed as a part of the costs payable by persons convicted of violating such ordinances and the costs shall be taxed in accordance with the schedules provided in §§ 14-116 and 14-122 of the Code of Virginia.

(2) No officer transporting any person convicted of violating any ordinance of the town, as provided in subsection (1) hereof, shall charge or be paid, nor shall such town receive directly or indirectly, more than the cost of transporting such person when more than one person is transported.

When a fine without corporal punishment is prescribed, the same may be recovered, if limited to an amount not exceeding twenty dollars, by warrant, and if not so limited, by motion for judgment under the Rules of Court. The proceedings shall be in the name of the Commonwealth. No action, suit or proceeding of any nature, however, shall be brought or had for the recovery of a fine or costs due the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, unless within twenty years from the date of the judgment imposing the fine.

§ 19.1-325. Such presentment, indictment or information shall be in the county or city wherein the offense was committed. In every case wherein a jury is so impaneled they shall ascertain the amount of the fine, unless it be fixed by law. Judgment shall be entered for the amount so ascertained.

JAIL SENTENCES IN CONNECTION WITH FINES

§ 19.1-328. If a person sentenced to be confined in jail a certain time and afterwards until he pay a fine and costs of prosecution, fail to pay such fine and costs before the end of such term, he shall continue in confinement until the same be paid or his discharge be ordered by the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, or he be released by reason of the expiration of the limitation for such confinement prescribed by law.

§ 19.1-329. If any person be sentenced to confinement in jail until he pay a fine and the costs of prosecution, or be confined in jail under a capias pro fine, the sheriff of the county or the sergeant of the corporation in whose jail he is confined, may, with the assent in writing of the prisoner, hire him for such length of time, not exceeding three months, as may be agreed on, to any person who will agree to pay the whole fine and costs.

§ 19.1-330. The officer shall take from the hirer an obligation to the Commonwealth, with surety, for the payment of the fine and costs, and return the same forthwith to the clerk's office of the circuit court of the county or corporation court of the city in whose jail the prisoner is confined. § 19.1-332. When a person is confined in jail by order of any court or judge until he pay a fine and the costs of prosecution, or the costs when there is no fine, or under a capias pro fine, on application to the circuit court of the county or corporation court of the city where confined, or to the judge thereof in vacation, such court, or judge in vacation, as the case may be, if to such court or judge it shall appear proper, may order the person to be released from imprisonment without the payment of the fine and costs, or costs when there is no fine, and he shall not thereafter be imprisoned for failure to pay the fine and costs or costs in that case. But the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city shall have five days' notice of such application.

§ 19.1-333. Whenever in any case a person is sentenced to jail to serve out a term of confinement and until he pays a fine and costs, or costs without fine, or fine without costs, and he has served the specific term of confinement, or whenever in any case a person is sentenced to jail until he pay a fine and costs, or costs without fine, or fine without costs, the circuit court of the county in which such judgment was pronounced, or the judge thereof in vacation, or the hustings or corporation court of the city exercising criminal jurisdiction in which such judgment was pronounced, or the judge thereof in vacation, may admit such defendant to bail for his appearance at a future day of such court, or before the judge thereof in vacation, taking surety therefor, the bail to contain a provision that the obligors agree and bind themselves, jointly and severally, to pay such fine and/or costs on the date for his appearance named in such bail, and in default of the payment of such fine and/or costs on the day named in such bail, then the court, or judge in vacation, may without notice to the obligors, enter judgment on such bond in favor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, or city or town if the fine and/or costs were imposed for a violation of a city or town ordinance, and direct that execution be issued thereon forthwith; or, in the discretion of such court or judge in vacation the defendant may be recommitted to jail there to be held until he pay such fine and/or costs or until he serve out the time required by law for the nonpayment of such fine and/or costs.

Upon every such return shall be itemized the fine and costs, or costs, if there be no fine, imposed in each case, or other disposition thereof. Every such county court and municipal court shall, at the time of making said return, pay to the clerk to whom the return is made any fines and costs shown by the return to be due to the Commonwealth, for which the receiving clerk shall issue his receipt on the official form. When the judge of any county court or municipal court acquits the accused he shall certify the costs of the trial and to whom due; and if he returns judgment against the prosecutor for costs he shall so state.

§ 19.1-336. Upon receipt of the warrants under the preceding section, the clerk of the circuit or corporation court shall file and properly index the same and, when necessary, issue execution or other proper process upon those fines and costs, or costs, remaining unpaid as though such fines and costs had been imposed in his court.

§ 19.1-337. It shall be sufficient to bind such surety that the judge before whom such case is tried endorse on the warrant the name of the surety, the amount for which he is bound, and the date of the endorsement; but if no security is given, the defendant may be committed to jail until such fine and cost, or such costs alone, are paid. If security be given and payment is not made to the clerk of the court or other proper collecting officer, the clerk of the court shall issue execution against the person against whom the judgment is rendered as well as against the surety in the same manner as is provided by § 19.1-336; but in case the trial bond is not given as provided in this section, the judge may commit the defendant to jail until the fine and costs are paid, or until the costs are paid, when there is no fine, unless sooner discharged by due course of law.

§ 19.1-339. The circuit or corporation court in which any judgment for a fine is rendered, going, in whole or in part, to the Commonwealth, or for a fine going, in whole or in part, to any county, city or incorporated town upon appeal taken from the decision of a court not of record of such county, city or town, when the same is affirmed, in whole or in part, may, of its own motion or at the instance of the attorney for the Commonwealth, commit the defendant to jail until the fine and costs are paid or until the costs are paid when there is no fine; or the court or the judge thereof in vacation may direct the clerk to issue a capias pro fine either before or after the return of a writ of fieri facias. But, unless so directed, the clerk shall, immediately after the term is ended, issue a writ of fieri facias, returnable within ninety days, on every judgment for a fine rendered at such term, or the court may, for good cause shown, direct a writ of fieri facias to be issued during the term on any such judgment.

§ 19.1-340. If a writ of fieri facias be returned to the clerk's office from which it issued under the provisions of § 19.1-339, unsatisfied in whole or in part, the clerk shall, within five days after the next succeeding term of his court, issue a capias pro fine against the defendant, unless the court, at such term, for good cause, direct that such capias pro fine do not issue; and for any failure of the clerk to perform the duties imposed on him by this or the preceding section, he shall forfeit twenty dollars.

§ 19.1-341. Any writ of fieri facias or capias pro fine on a judgment for a fine may be directed to the sheriff or sergeant of any county or city, who shall be entitled to a commission of five per cent, on the amount collected to be paid by the defendant as other costs are paid.

§ 19.1-341.1. The attorney for the Commonwealth shall superintend the issuing of all executions or judgments for fines going wholly or in part to the Commonwealth in the circuit court of his county or the corporation and circuit court of his city.

§ 19.1-341.2. The clerk of the circuit court of every county and city and the clerk of the corporation court of every city having such court shall, on or before the thirtieth day of January and the thirtieth day of July of each year, submit to the judge of his court and to the attorney for the Commonwealth of his county or city a report of all fines, costs and forfeitures imposed in his court which remain unsatisfied as of the last day of the month preceding the month in which such report is made. And it shall be the duty of the attorney for the Commonwealth to make inquiries into the reasons why such fines, costs and forfeitures remain unsatisfied; and if it appears from such inquiries that any such fines, costs or forfeitures may be satisfied, the attorney for the Commonwealth forthwith shall cause proper proceedings to be instituted for the collection and satisfaction thereof.

§ 19.1-342. A constable or sheriff shall in no case receive any fine or costs imposed by a court not of record, except under process duly issued, but the same may be paid in to the court before he commits the defendant to jail in default of such payment.

§ 19.1-343. When a defendant has been committed to jail by a court for failure to pay a fine and the costs, he may pay the same to the clerk of the court of the county or city in whose jail he is confined.

§ 19.1-344. Although a law may allow an informer or person prosecuting to have part of a fine, the whole thereof shall go to the Commonwealth, unless the name of such informer or prosecutor be endorsed on, or written at the foot of, the presentment at the time it is made, or of the indictment before it is presented to the grand jury, or of the information before it is filed, or of the writ issued in the action, or the process on the warrant, or the notice of the motion before service of such writ, process, or notice.

§ 19.1-345. Every sheriff or other officer receiving money under a writ of fieri facias or capias pro fine shall pay the fine and all costs to the clerk of the court from which such process issued, on or before the return day of such process; and if such sheriff or other officer fail to pay the fine and costs, or fail to return such writ of fieri facias or capias pro fine, he shall, for every such failure, unless good cause be shown therefor, forfeit twenty dollars; and the clerk shall, within ten days from the return day of such process, report the failure to pay such fine and costs, or to return such process, to the attorney for the Commonwealth, who shall proceed at once against such officer in default to recover such fine and costs and the forfeiture aforesaid.

§ 19.1-352. The Governor shall have power, in his discretion, to remit, in whole or in part, fine and penalties, in all cases of felony or misdemeanor, after conviction, whether paid into the State treasury or not, except when judgment shall have been rendered against any person for contempt of court, for nonperformance of or disobedience to some order, decree or judgment of such court, or when the fine or penalty has been imposed by the State Corporation Commission, or when the prosecution has been carried on by the House of Delegates. ernor, the evidence accompanying such application warrants the granting of the relief asked for. But the provisions of the three following sections and § 19.1-357 shall be complied with as a condition precedent to such action by the Governor; provided, that when the party against whom the fine has been imposed and judgment rendered therefor has departed this life leaving a widow and children surviving, the Governor may remit such fine upon the certificate of the judge of the circuit court of the county, or the city court of the city wherein such fine was imposed and judgment rendered, that to enforce the same against the estate, real or personal, of the decedent, would impose hardship upon his widow and children. In any case when the Governor remits, in whole or in part, a fine, if the same has been paid into the State treasury, on the order of the Governor such fine or so much thereof as is remitted shall be paid by the State Treasurer, on the warrant of the Comptroller, out of the fund into which the fine was paid.

§ 19.1-353. Such person or his personal representative, as the case may be, shall file a petition in the clerk's office of the circuit court of the county, or circuit or corporation court of the city, wherein such fine was imposed, or such liability established, at least fifteen days before the term of the court at which the same is to be heard, and shall set forth the grounds upon which relief is asked. Ten days' notice thereof in writing shall be given to the attorney for the Commonwealth of the county or city.

§ 19.1-354. The attorney for the Commonwealth, at or before the hearing of such petition, shall file an answer to the same. He shall cause to be summoned such witnesses and shall introduce all such testimony as may be necessary and proper to protect the interest of the Commonwealth; and the petitioner may cause to be summoned such witnesses and shall introduce all such testimony as may be necessary and proper to protect his interest.

§ 19.1-355. The court wherein such petition is filed shall hear all such testimony as may be offered, either by the petitioner or attorney for the Commonwealth, and after the evidence has been heard shall cause to be made out by the clerk of the court a certificate of the facts proved, and file with the same an opinion, in writing, as to the propriety of granting the relief prayed for.

§ 19.1-356. All proceedings had before the court under the provisions of the three preceding sections shall be according to the course of the common law practice, except that no formal pleadings shall be necessary.

§ 19.1-357. Whenever application shall be made to the Governor by or on behalf of any person desiring to be relieved, in whole or in part, of any such fine or penalty, the petition, answer, certificate of facts, and opinion of the court provided for in §§ 19.1-353, 19.1-354 and 19.1-355, duly authenticated by the clerk of the court, shall accompany the application, which shall be in writing. In all cases in which the Governor shall remit a fine or penalty he shall issue his order to the clerk of the court by which such fine or penalty was imposed; or if such fine was imposed by a court not of record, to the clerk of the court of the county or to the clerk of the corporation court of the city, in which the judge of such court not of record holds office, and such court shall, at its next term, or immediately, if then in session, cause such order to be spread upon the law order book of its court; and the clerk of such court shall immediately, upon the receipt of such order, mark the judgment for such fine or penalty, and costs, or so much thereof as the person may have been relieved of, "remitted by the Governor", upon the judgment lien docket of the court of the county or city in which it may have been recorded. The Governor shall communicate to the General Assembly at each session the particulars of every case of fine or penalty remitted, with his reason for remitting the same.

ENFORCEMENT OF FORFEITURES

§ 19.1-358. If any property be seized as forfeited for a violation of any of the provisions of this Code, and a different mode of enforcing the forfeiture is not prescribed, in order to enforce the same the attorney for the Commonwealth for the county or city wherein the forfeiture was incurred shall file in the clerk's office of the circuit court of his county or corporation court of his city an information in the name of the Commonwealth against such property by name or general designation.

§ 19.1-359. The information shall allege the seizure, and set forth in general terms the causes or grounds of forfeiture. It shall also pray that the property be condemned as forfeited to the Commonwealth and be sold and the proceeds of sale disposed of according to law, and that all persons concerned in interest be cited to appear and show cause why the property should not be condemned and sold to enforce the forfeiture.

§ 19.1-360. If the proceeding be instituted by an informer, he shall sign and swear to the information. The attorney for the Commonwealth also shall sign it, but if the law on which the proceeding is based contains no provisions as to informers, the signature of the attorney for the Commonwealth alone shall be sufficient.

§ 19.1-361. Upon the filing of the information, the clerk shall forthwith issue a warrant directed to the sheriff, sergeant, policeman or constable of the county or city, commanding him to take the property into his possession and hold the same subject to further proceedings in the cause. If from any cause the warrant be not executed, other like warrants may be successively issued until one be executed.

§ 19.1-362. The officer serving the warrant shall take the property into his possession and forthwith return the warrant and report to the clerk in writing thereon his action thereunder.

§ 19.1-363. As soon as the warrant has been executed and returned, the clerk shall issue a notice reciting briefly the filing of the information, the object thereof, the issuing of the warrant and the seizure of the property thereunder, and citing all persons concerned in interest to appear on a day fixed on said notice which date shall not be less than ten days from the date of such notice, and show cause why the prayer of the information for condemnation and sale should not be granted. He shall, at least ten days before the day fixed by the notice for appearance, post a copy of the notice at the front door of the courthouse of his county or city. Such posting shall be sufficient service of the notice on all persons concerned in interest, except as provided in §§ 19.1-363.1 and 19.1-363.2.

§ 19.1-363.1. If the property so seized be a motor vehicle required by the motor vehicle laws of Virginia to be registered, the attorney for the Commonwealth shall forthwith notify the Commissioner of the Division of Motor Vehicles, by certified mail, of such seizure and the motor number of the vehicle so seized, and the Commissioner shall promptly certify to such attorney for the Commonwealth the name and address of the person in whose name such vehicle is registered, together with the name and address of any person holding a lien thereon, and the amount thereof. The Commissioner shall also forthwith notify such registered owner and lienor, in writing, of the reported seizure and the county or city wherein such seizure was made.

The certificate of the Commissioner, concerning such registration and lien shall be received in evidence in any proceeding, either civil or criminal, under any provision of this chapter, in which such facts may be material to the issue involved.

§ 19.1-363.2. The owner of and all persons in any manner then indebted or liable for the purchase price of the property, if such property be a conveyance or vehicle of any kind, and any person having a lien thereon, if they be known to the attorney who files the information, shall be made parties defendant thereto, and shall be served with notice in the manner provided by law for serving a notice, at least ten days before the date therein specified for the hearing on the information, if they be residents of this State; and if they be unknown or nonresidents, or cannot with reasonable diligence be found in this State, they shall be deemed sufficiently served by publication of the notice once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in such county or city, or if none be published therein, then in some newspaper having general circulation therein, and a notice shall be sent by registered mail of such seizure to the last known address of the owner of such conveyance or vehicle.

§ 19.1-364. If the owner or lienor of the seized property shall desire to obtain possession thereof before the hearing on the information filed against the same, such property shall be appraised by the clerk of the court where such information is filed.

The sheriff of the county or the sergeant of the city in which the trial court is located shall promptly inspect and appraise the property, under oath, at its fair cash value, and forthwith make return thereof in writing, to the clerk's office of the court in which the proceedings are pending, upon the return of which the owner or lienor may give a bond payable to the Commonwealth, in a penalty of the amount equal to the appraised value of the conveyance or vehicle plus the court costs which may accrue, with security to be approved by the clerk, and conditioned for the performance of the final judgment of the court, on the trial of the information, and with a further condition to the effect that, if upon the hearing on the information, the judgment of the court be that such property, or any part thereof, or such interest and equity as the owner or lienor may have therein, be forfeited, judgment may thereupon be entered against the obligors on such bond for the penalty thereof, without further or other proceedings against them thereon, to be discharged by the payment of the appraised value of the property so seized and forfeited and costs, upon which judgment, execution may issue, on which the clerk shall endorse, "no security to be taken". Upon giving of the bond, the property shall be delivered to the owner or lienor.

§ 19.1-365. If the property seized under the warrant be perishable or liable to deterioration, decay, or injury by being detained in custody pending the proceedings the court or the judge thereof in vacation may order the same to be sold upon such notice as he in his discretion may deem proper and hold the proceeds of sale to abide the event of such proceedings.

§ 19.1-366. Any person concerned in interest may appear and make defense to the information, which may be done by answer on oath. The fact that the person by whom the property was used in violating the law has not been convicted of such violation shall be no defense. The information shall be independent of any proceeding against such person or any other for violation of law. Unless otherwise specifically provided by law, no forfeiture shall extinguish the rights of any person without knowledge of the illegal use of such property who is the lawful owner or who has a lien on the same which has been perfected in the manner provided by law.

§ 19.1-367. When the case is ready for trial, such issues of fact as are made by the pleadings, or as the court may direct, shall be tried by a jury, unless a trial by jury be dispensed with by consent of parties; in which case, the court shall determine the whole matter of law and fact.

§ 19.1-368. If the forfeiture be established, the judgment shall be that the property be condemned as forfeited to the Commonwealth and further that the same be sold, unless a sale thereof has been already made under § 19.1-365. If such sale has been made, the further judgment shall be against the proceeds. If the property condemned has been delivered to the claimant under § 19.1-364 such further judgment shall be against the obligors in the bond for the penalty thereof to be discharged by the payment of the appraised value of the property, upon which judgment, process of execution shall be awarded and the clerk shall endorse thereon, "No security is to be taken".

§ 19.1-369. Any sale ordered in the cause shall be made for cash, after due advertisement, and shall vest in the purchaser a clear and absolute title to the property sold.

§ 19.1-370. The proceeds of sale, and whatever may be realized on any bond given under § 19.1-364, shall be disposed of by the court according to the rights of the parties.

§ 19.1-371. Expenses and costs incurred in the proceedings shall be paid as the court, in its discretion, shall determine; except that no costs shall be adjudged against the Commonwealth.

§ 19.1-372. For the purpose of review on a writ of error or supersedeas, a final judgment or order in the cause shall be deemed a final judgment or order in a civil case (not in chancery) within the meaning of § 8-462.

§ 19.1-373. Except in cases where the forfeiture incurred is enforceable according to the preceding sections of this article, and except also in other cases where it is otherwise specially provided, whenever any property is forfeited to the Commonwealth by reason of the violation of any law, the court before which the offender is convicted shall order the sheriff of the county, or sergeant of the city, to sell the same. The sale shall be at such time and place, and after such notice at the courthouse door, as in the case of property levied on, and the clerk shall make return to the Comptroller and the officer account for and pay the proceeds of sale as in the case of a pecuniary forfeiture.

sation prescribed shall be subject to such limitations as may be made by general law.

§ 15-384.66. Each year at least two weeks before the urban county board of supervisors must prepare its proposed annual budget, the urban county executive or manager shall perpare and submit to the urban county board of supervisors a budget presenting a financial plan for conducting the affairs of the county for the ensuing year; such budget shall be set up in the manner prescribed by general law. Hearings thereon shall be held and notice thereof given and the budget adopted in accordance with such general law.

§ 15-384.67. No member of the urban county board of supervisors or other officer or employee of the county, or person receiving a salary or compensation from funds appropriated by the county, shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract to which the county is a party, either as principal, surety or otherwise; nor shall any such officer or employee or his partner, agent, servant or employee of the firm of which he is a member purchase from or sell to the county any real or personal property, nor shall he be financially interested, directly or indirectly, in any work or service to be performed for the county or in its behalf. § 15-384.68. All officers and employees of the county shall be paid regular compensation and the fee system as a method of compensation in the county shall be abolished, except as to those officers not affected by the adoption of this form of county organization and government. All such officers and employees shall, however, continue to collect all fees and charges provided for by general law, shall keep a record thereof, and shall promptly transmit all such fees and charges collected to the director of finance, who shall promptly receipt therefor. Such officers shall also keep such other records as are required by §§ 14-145 to 14-163. All fees and commissions, which but for this section would be paid to such officers by the State for services rendered, shall be paid into the treasury of the county.

The excess, if any, of the fees collected by each of the officers mentioned in § 14-145 or collected by any one exercising the powers of and performing the duties of any such officer, over (a) the allowance to which such officer would be entitled by general law but for the provisions of this section and (b) expenses in such amount as shall be allowed by the Compensation Board, shall be paid, one-third into the State treasury, and the other two-thirds shall belong to the county.

Any officer or employee of the county who shall fail or refuse to collect any fee which is collectible and should be collected under the provisions of this section, or who shall fail or refuse to pay any fee so collected to the county as herein provided, shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 15-384.69. (1) Any county having either of the urban county forms of organization and government under this chapter is authorized to establish and prescribe for all employees of the county and, as requisite, officers thereof, the following provisions applicable to such employees:

(e) Other provisions concerning the hours and conditions of employment;

(f) Plans of personnel management and control;

(g) Systems of retirement for all or any classes of officers and employees of the county but the adoption of either of these urban county forms of government shall in no way affect any retirement system in effect in any such county prior to the date of adoption of such form.

Article 5.

Towns

§ 15-384.71. Subsequent to the adoption by a county of either of the forms of county government and organization authorized by this chapter, any town within the county may, in accordance with general law, hold a referendum on the question of whether or not the charter of the town shall be dissolved.

If the majority of voters in any town vote in favor of dissolving its charter, then on the first day of January next following, the charter of such town whether granted by a court or by the General Assembly shall be dissolved. All town liabilities shall be assumed by, and become the obligations of the county, and the county shall own all the corporate properties, franchises and rights of the town. Each town shall become a small district of the district in which it is located; and the existing assets less the liabilities assumed of such town shall be used by the urban county board of supervisors as a factor in establishing service charges within such small district, and existing services provided by the town government shall not be discontinued so long as they are desired by the residents of the then small district.

All claims of whatsoever nature, tort, contract, or otherwise, which exist against a town the moment before such town is dissolved under the provisions hereof shall constitute and be a claim against the county in which such town was located and which has assumed the debts and taken charge of the assets of such town. Suit may be brought against such county for any such claim against the town and it shall be no defense in such proceeding that the defendant is the county; in all such cases the county shall be subject to suit to the same extent and in the same manner as the dissolved town and judgments resulting therefrom may be enforced against the county as judgments are enforced against municipalities generally. Any defense which would be available to the town shall likewise be available to the county.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect any contractual or vested right against a county adopting either of the forms of organization and government herein provided or any such right against a town dissolved in accordance herewith; all such rights shall be enforceable against and collectible from the county as if it were a municipality.

In any town in which a majority of the voters vote against dissolving

After the date of adoption of either of the urban county forms of government, a city contiguous to or within the limits of a county adopting the same may petition, by action of its governing body, to become a part of such county on terms set forth in a resolution adopted by the urban county board of supervisors. A referendum within the petitioning city shall constitute approval of the city becoming a district of the county or a part or parts of one or more districts and action of the urban county board of supervisors shall constitute final approval thereof by the county.

§ 15-384.76. If a majority of the qualified voters voting in an election called and held as hereinbefore provided have voted in favor of service district commissions, the provisions of this article set forth in this section and § 15-384.77 shall be applicable to the county. (a) When either form of county organization and government provided herein shall have been adopted by any county the voters of each district thereof, except those residing in any town, shall elect a district commission of five members. Each member shall be a qualified voter of his district.

(b) The first commission shall be elected at the regular November election next succeeding the adoption of either form provided herein and their successors shall be elected at the regular November election each fourth year thereafter. The members shall take office the following January first and shall serve for four years and until their successors take office.

Approved March 30, 1960

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

SUBDIVISION 1

1. § 1. In addition to all other taxes now imposed by law, every person, firm, corporation, or association, within this State, who sells or stores or receives for the purpose of distribution to any person, firm, corporation, or association within this State, little cigars, cheroots, stogies, cigars, or cigarettes, either or all, shall pay to this State an excise tax as hereinafter provided.

There is hereby levied an excise tax on articles containing tobacco enumerated in this subdivision in the following amounts:

(8) Cigarettes.—Upon all cigarettes made of tobacco, or any substitute therefor, one and one-half mills on each such cigarette.

Whenever in this act reference is made to any manufactured tobacco products, manufactured or imported to sell at a certain price, as the basis for computing the tax, it is intended to mean the ordinary, customary, or usual price paid by the consumer for such tobacco products taxable under this act. When the retail or selling price is referred to in this act as the basis for computing the amount of stamps required on any article, it is intended to mean the retail or selling price of the articles before adding the amount of the tax. When any articles or commodities subject to tax in this act are given as prizes or as premiums, etc., the tax shall be based on the ordinary retail selling price of such articles.

The tax hereby levied shall not apply to free distribution of sample cigarettes in packages containing five or fewer cigarettes; nor to any package of cigarettes customarily donated free of charge by manufacturers of cigarettes to employees in factories where cigarettes are manufactured in this State, when such packages of cigarettes are not taxed by the Federal government.

The tax herein levied shall be paid through the use of stamps herein provided for. Stamps in denominations to the amount of the tax shall be affixed to the box or other container from or in which tobacco products taxed by this subdivision are normally sold at retail. The stamps shall be affixed in such a manner that their removal will require continued application of water or steam; and in case of cigars, and like manufactured tobacco products, where sales are made from the original container, the stamps shall be affixed to the box or container in such a way that the stamps shall be torn in two or mutilated when such containers or boxes are opened for the sale of the tobacco products. In the case of cigarettes, and like products, sold at retail in packages, the required amount of stamps to cover the tax shall be affixed to each individual package or container.

The Department of Taxation shall, by rules and regulations, provide for the manner in which the taxes shall be paid on any unstamped tobacco products as enumerated herein in the hands of wholesalers or retailers on the effective date of this act.

None of the rules and regulations which the Department of Taxation is authorized to promulgate under any provision of this act shall be subject to Chapter 1.1 of Title 9 of the Code of Virginia, the short title of which is "General Administrative Agencies Act".

§ 2. The taxes imposed by this subdivision shall be paid by affixing stamps in the manner and at the time herein set forth. In the case of cigars and like products, the stamps shall be affixed to the box or container in which or from which such products are normally sold at retail. In the case of cigarettes and like products, the stamps shall be affixed to each individual package, bag, box or can. Time allowed for affixing stamps shall be as follows: Every wholesale or retail dealer in this State shall immediately after receipt of any unstamped little cigars, cheroots, stogies, cigars, or cigarettes, cause the same to have the requisite denominations and amount of stamp or stamps to represent the tax affixed as stated herein. The stamping of said little cigars, cheroots, stogies, cigars, and cigarettes, shall actually begin within one hour after receipt of said little cigars, cheroots, stogies, cigars, or cigarettes, in the premises of the wholesale or retail dealer, and said stamping shall be continued with reasonable diligence by the wholesale or retail dealer until all of the unstamped little cigars, cheroots, stogies, cigars, or cigarettes, have been stamped; provided, that any wholesale dealer engaged in interstate business who shall furnish surety bond in an amount and of tenor and solvency satisfactory to the Department of Taxation shall be permitted to set aside such a part of his stock as may be necessary for the conduct of such interstate business without affixing the stamps required by this subdivision. Said interstate stock shall be kept in an entirely separate part of the building, separate and apart from stamped stock.

Every wholesale dealer shall at the time of shipping or delivering any tobacco products as enumerated herein make a true duplicate invoice of the same which shall show full and complete details of the sale or delivery of the taxable article, and shall retain the same subject to the use and inspection of the Department of Taxation or its duly authorized agents for a period of three years. Wholesale and retail dealers shall also keep a record of purchases of all tobacco products enumerated and defined in this subdivision, and hold all books, records, and memoranda pertaining to the purchase and sale of such tobacco products enumerated and defined in this subdivision, open to the inspection of the Department of Taxation or its duly authorized agents at any and all times.

Every wholesale dealer shall furnish to the Department of Taxation a monthly report, between the first and tenth of each month for the preceding month, of all orders for tobacco products enumerated and defined in this subdivision, purchased through said wholesale dealer from without this State on a drop shipment and consigned direct to the person, firm, corporation or association of persons ordering such tobacco products from without this State through such wholesale dealer. If, upon examination of invoices of any wholesale or retail dealer, he is unable to furnish evidence to the Department of Taxation of sufficient stamp purchases to cover unstamped tobaccos as enumerated and defined in this subdivision, purchased by him, the prima facie presumption shall arise that such tobacco products were sold without the proper stamps affixed thereto. Any wholesaler or retailer who fails or refuses to comply with any or all the above provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in jail for a period of six months, or both.

§ 3. Any retail dealer of tobacco products enumerated and defined in this subdivision, purchasing, or receiving such commodities from without the State, whether the same shall have been ordered or purchased through a wholesaler in this State, or by drop shipment or otherwise, shall within twelve hours of receipt of such tobacco products, mail by registered mail a true duplicate invoice of all such purchases or receipts to the Department of Taxation, said invoice carrying the name of the person or firm from whom or through whom such purchases or shipments of the tobacco products were so received, showing kinds and quantities. Any retail dealer failing or refusing to furnish duplicate invoices, in both the manner and time allowed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars for each offense, or imprisonment in jail for a period not exceeding sixty days, or both.

§ 4. All common carriers, contract carriers, buses, and trucks transporting tobacco products may be required under regulations to be prescribed by the Department of Taxation to transmit to the Department of Taxation a periodic statement of such consignments or deliveries of tobacco products showing date, point of origin, point of delivery and to whom delivered, and time of delivery, and all common carriers, buses and trucks shall permit examination by the Department of Taxation, or its agents,

The common carriers, buses and trucks shall permit the examination and investigation of their records of shipment or receipts relating to tobacco products, when and wherever it is deemed advisable and necessary by the Department of Taxation, or its agents, in the enforcement of this subdivision. Inspectors and other duly authorized agents of the Department of Taxation, on proper identification from and authorization by the Department of Taxation, shall make such examination. Any person, firm, corporation, or association of persons, who refuses to transmit to the Department of Taxation the statement hereinabove provided for, or who refuses to permit the examination of his records by the Department or its duly authorized agents, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars for each such offense.

§ 5. It shall be provided by regulations of the Department of Taxation the methods of breaking packages, forms and kinds of containers and methods of affixing stamps that shall be employed by persons, firms or corporations subject to the tax imposed by this subdivision which will make possible the enforcement of payment by inspection, and any person, firm or corporation subject to this tax, engaging in or permitting such practices as are prohibited by regulations of the Department of Taxation or in any other practice which makes it difficult to enforce the provisions of this subdivision by inspection, or if any person, firm or corporation, agent or officer thereof, who shall upon demand of the Department of Taxation, or any officer or agent of the Department of Taxation refuses to allow full inspection of the premises or any part thereof, or who shall hinder or in anywise delay or prevent such inspection when demand is made therefor, or in any way interferes with any agent of the Department of Taxation in the performance of his duties in enforcing this subdivision, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense, or imprisonment in jail for a period not exceeding ninety days, or both.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of every person, firm, corporation, or association of persons, receiving, storing, selling or handling tobacco products enumerated herein in any manner whatsoever, to keep and preserve all invoices, books, papers, cancelled checks, or other memoranda touching the purchase, sale, exchange or receipt of any and all tobacco products enumerated herein for a period of three years. All such invoices, books, papers, cancelled checks or other memoranda shall be subject to audit and inspection by any duly authorized representative of the Department of Taxation at any and all times. Any person, firm, corporation, or association of persons who fails or refuses to keep and preserve the records as herein required, or who upon request by a duly authorized agent of the Department of Taxation fails or refuses to allow an audit or inspection of records as hereinabove provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisonment in jail for a period not to exceed ninety days for each offense.

§ 7. Each and every wholesaler qualifying as such with the Department of Taxation shall be required to file a report between the first and tenth of each month, covering the purchase or receipt by them of all tobacco products enumerated and defined herein, during the preceding month. Said report shall give in detail the different kinds and quantities of tobacco products so purchased or received by them during the preceding month. Any wholesaler failing or refusing to file the above report in the manner and time allowed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon con-

When wholesalers have qualified as such with the Department of Taxation, as provided in section ten of this act, and desire to purchase stamps as prescribed herein for use on taxable tobaccos sold and delivered by them, the Department of Taxation shall allow on such sales of tobacco tax stamps a discount of five per cent.

(d) Tobacco products enumerated herein may be sold by such duly qualified wholesalers, without revenue stamps affixed thereto, when sold and delivered to ships regularly engaged in foreign commerce or coast-wise shipping between points in this State and points outside of this State for resale to or for use or consumption upon such ship or in foreign commerce.

The phrase also includes chain store distributing places licensed as provided by §§ 58-304 through 58-339 of the Code of Virginia.

The phrase "retail dealer", shall include every person, firm or corporation other than a wholesale dealer, as defined in this section, who shall sell or offer for sale any one or more of the articles taxed herein, irrespective of quantity or amount, or the number of sales; and all persons operating under a retail dealer's license.

The word "stamps", as used herein, means the stamp or stamps by the use of which the tax levied under this subdivision is paid and shall be designated Virginia revenue stamps. The Department of Taxation is hereby authorized to provide for the use of any type of stamp which will effectuate the purposes of this Act including but not limited to decalcomania and metering devices.

The Department of Taxation shall design the form and kind of stamps to be used and shall duly adopt and promulgate such form of stamps. Such stamps so adopted and promulgated shall be known and termed as "Virginia revenue stamp", and in any information or indictment, it shall be sufficient to describe the stamps as "Virginia revenue stamps". Provided, however, every wholesaler who desires to qualify as such with the Department of Taxation shall make application to the Department on blanks prescribed for this purpose, which shall be supplied upon request. Said application blanks will require such information relative to the nature of business engaged in by said wholesaler, as the Department deems necessary to the qualifying of said wholesaler, which and when being received by the Department it believes said wholesaler to be qualified, shall issue to said wholesaler a permit qualifying him as a wholesaler, as defined in this subdivision and he shall be allowed the discount on purchases of stamps as set out herein for wholesalers purchasing stamps for their individual use. The Department of Taxation shall not sell any stamps or allow any discount on any sale of stamps to any wholesaler until said wholesaler shall have complied with all of the provisions of this section. § 6-201.22. Shares issued in the name of a trustee for a named beneficiary, when the association has no knowledge or notice of the terms of the trust, shall, in the event of the death of the trustee, be the sole property of the beneficiary and may be withdrawn by him, if he is eighteen years of age or over, without the intervention of a guardian.

§ 6-201.23. Shares may be issued in the name of a minor, and a receipt executed by him shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of the association for the amounts paid to him.

§ 6-201.24. The hypothecation to an association of all or part of such shares signed by any person who is authorized in writing to make withdrawals from the account shall, unless the association has been advised specifically to the contrary, be a valid pledge to the association of those shares and shall not operate to sever the joint ownership of all or any part of such shares.

§ 6-201.25. An association may pay any share balance due a deceased person, or any person under disability, to the personal representative, guardian, curator or committee of such person upon a letter of qualification as such personal representative, guardian, curator or committee, issued by any court of competent jurisdiction of this State, and such letter shall be sufficient authority for such payment. Any association making such payment shall no longer be liable for the amount thereof to any person whomsoever. The presentation of a duly certified letter of qualification as personal representative, guardian, curator or committee shall be conclusive proof of the jurisdiction of the court issuing the same.

§ 6-201.26. When the share balance of a deceased person upon whose estate there has been no qualification does not exceed five hundred dollars, it shall be lawful for the association, after one hundred twenty days from the death of such person, to pay such balance to his next of kin, whose receipt therefor shall be a full discharge and acquittance of the association as to all persons on account of such balance.

§ 6-201.27. Shares issued by savings and loan associations shall not be treated as shares of capital stock for the purpose of computing the franchise tax imposed by § 58-456.

§ 6-201.28. Every association shall build a reserve (viz. net worth) of at least 10% of its total resources; and for the purpose of building this reserve it shall set aside amounts equal to at least 5% of its annual net income during every year that the reserve is less than 10% of its total resources, provided, however, that whenever the reserve of any association at the end of its fiscal year is less than 5% of its share accounts at the beginning of such fiscal year such association shall set aside at such time and at each closing date thereafter an amount at least equal to 25% of its net income or such part of such 25% as may then be sufficient to cause the amount of such reserve account to equal at least 5% of its share accounts at the beginning of said fiscal year. In the case of stock savings and loan associations, the capital stock account, to the extent that the capital has not been impaired, shall be treated as part of the reserve. Provided further that the Commission may temporarily reduce the reserve requirements for an association if it finds such reduction to be in the best interest of the association and its members. An association may retain its undivided profits in such amounts as may from time to time be fixed by resolution of its board of directors.

§ 6-201.29. The assets of an association may be invested in the following ways and in such ways only:

a. In real estate and in equipment necessary for the conduct of its business.

b. In obligations of or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States or any agency thereof or of the State of Virginia or any of its political subdivisions.

c. In stock or obligations of Federal Home Loan Banks; in stock or obligations of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; in obligations of the Federal National Mortgage Association through making non-refundable contributions; and, to the extent of not more than 15% of its total assets, in shares of other State Associations or Federal Associations.

d. In loans fully secured by shares of the association.

e. In loans secured by first liens on improved real estate. No such loan shall exceed $35,000 on each home or combination of home and business property securing the same. No such loan shall exceed ninety per cent of the value of the real estate as appraised by a competent appraiser. Provided that loans insured or guaranteed by a Federal agency may be made on such terms as are acceptable to the insuring or guaranteeing agency. At least sixty per cent of the assets shall be invested in such loans unless, because of exceptional conditions in the real estate market, the Commission permits an association to deviate from this requirement.

Every such loan shall provide that the borrower shall make regular periodic payments of principal and interest, in equal or unequal amounts, the first payment being due not later than twelve months from the date of the first advance in the case of a loan made for the purpose of financing the construction of a home or a combination home and business structure and 60 days from the date of the loan in the case of other loans, until the mortgage indebtedness and the disbursements, if any, made by the association for the payment of taxes, insurance premiums, and other items, together with interest thereon, have been fully paid; provided, however, that no subsequent periodic payment of principal and interest shall be greater than any previous periodic payment of principal and interest, and that no such loan shall be for a longer term than 25 years. Loans insured or guaranteed by a Federal agency may be repayable upon such terms as are acceptable to such agency. The association may compute, charge, and collect interest on monthly balances by computing the same on the preceding monthly balance and adding such interest to that balance plus advances for taxes, insurance, and other lawful charges accruing since the preceding balance, less credits for payments made by the borrower.

f. Up to fifteen per cent of the assets may be invested in secured or unsecured loans to home owners for maintenance, repair, modernization, improvement and equipment of their homes. Such loans shall be payable monthly and shall not be for a term longer than five years and shall not exceed $3,500.

An association may charge and collect in advance the legal rate of interest upon the entire amount of such loan.

g. Up to 20% of the assets may be invested in other loans secured by a first lien on other improved real estate. No such loan shall be for a term longer than 25 years nor in excess of 75% of the value of the real estate as appraised by a competent appraiser.

h. Up to 5% of the assets may be invested in other loans secured by a first lien on unimproved real estate.

§ 6-201.30. Any note evidencing an installment loan made by an association may provide that the entire unpaid balance thereof, at the option of the holder, shall become due and payable upon default in payment of any installment without impairing the negotiability of the note, if otherwise negotiable.

§ 6-201.31. A borrower may anticipate the payment of any loan secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate on any installment due date; but in case of prepayment before maturity, the borrower shall pay such an amount for the privilege as has been agreed upon, but in no event in excess of a sum equal to two per centum of the amount of such prepayment.

§ 6-201.32. (a) State Associations and Federal Associations, as defined in § 6-201.4 (6) and (7), may purchase from each other or participate with each other in loans on improved real estate. An association may participate in the making of or purchase a participation in a loan on improved real estate made by a savings and loan association that is not authorized to do business in Virginia, not to exceed 50% of the amount of the loan, irrespective of where the security for such loan is located, provided that the aggregate amount of such interest in all such loans shall not exceed 20% of the association's assets. An association may sell a participation in a loan made or to be made by it on improved real estate to a savings and loan association that is not authorized to do business in Virginia, provided that the loan is collected and serviced by the Virginia association. An association that is not authorized to do business in Virginia shall not be deemed to be doing business in Virginia solely because of such participation.

(b) An association may purchase any loan it may legally make.

(c) An association shall not engage in the mortgage brokerage business; but an association may sell any loan made by it provided that it is sold without recourse against the association.

§ 6-201.33. An association may not make a loan to a director, officer or employee of the association or to any attorney regularly serving the association in his capacity as such, or to any partnership in which any such director, officer, employee or attorney has any interest, nor to a corporation in which any such person is a stockholder except that a loan may be made to a corporation in which no such person owns more than 15% of the total outstanding stock and in which the stock owned by all such persons does not exceed 25% of the total outstanding stock. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit an association from making a loan on the security of the shares of such persons in the association or on the security of a first lien on the home or combination of home and business property owned and occupied by such director, officer, employee or attorney.

§ 6-201.34. The affairs of every association shall be managed by a board of directors of not less than five persons, a majority of whom shall be residents of this State. Every director shall be the owner in his own name, and have in his personal possession or control, shares or shares of stock in the association of which he is a director and for which has been paid into the treasury of the association not less than five hundred dollars, and such shares or shares of stock must be unpledged (except as required to be pledged to a Federal Home Loan Bank) and unencumbered at the time of his becoming a director and during the whole of his term as such. The office of any director violating the provisions of this section shall immediately become vacant.

§ 6-201.35. The board of directors of every association shall meet at least once in each month. A majority of the whole board shall be necessary for the lawful transaction of business, except that the members or stockholders, by by-law, may fix any number not less than five as a quorum; provided however, that associations with total assets of less than $500,000 may meet once in every three months unless the Commission for good cause requires them to meet monthly.

§ 6-201.36. The directors of each association shall require a bond with corporate surety from each of the active officers and employees of the association as an indemnity for any loss the association may sustain as a result of his fraud, dishonesty, theft or embezzlement; provided that in lieu of individual bonds a blanket bond with corporate surety covering all active officers and employees of the association may, with the approval of the board of directors, be obtained. The Commission shall annually examine all such bonds and pass on their sufficiency and either the board of directors or the Commission may require new or additional bonds at any time. The corporate surety shall have a license issued by the Commission.

§ 6-201.37. The directors of every such association shall, at least once in each calendar year, cause an examination to be made of the association, and review the internal controls of the association. A statement of the results of such examination and review shall be recorded with the proceedings of the board.

§ 6-201.38. A mutual savings and loan association shall give notice of its meetings of members as required by § 13.1-214, and, in addition, a copy of the notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place in each office of the association during the fourteen days preceding the date of the meeting.

§ 6-201.39. (a) Every member shall have the right to inspect such books and records of an association as pertain to his loan or savings account. Otherwise, the right of inspection and examination of the books and records shall be limited to the Commission or its duly authorized representatives, to persons duly authorized to act for the association, and to any federal instrumentality duly authorized to make such inspection. The accounts and loans of members shall be kept confidential by the association, its directors, officers and employees and by the Commission and its agents and representatives. No other person shall have access to the books and records of the association or shall be given a partial or complete list of members except upon express authority of the board of directors.

(b) If any member desires to communicate with the other members of the association with reference to any vote or question to come before a meeting of members, the association shall promptly furnish, upon request, a statement of the approximate number of members of the association and an estimate of the cost of preparing and mailing such communication. The requesting member may then submit the communication to the Commission which, if it finds that the communication should be considered by the members, shall direct the association to forthwith prepare and mail the same to the members, upon the requesting member's or members' payment of the expenses of preparation and mailing.

§ 6-201.40. Before any association may begin business, it shall obtain from the Commission a certificate of authority to do so; and prior to the issuance of such certificate, the Commission shall ascertain that (1) all applicable provisions of law have been complied with; (2) shares to the value of at least $50,000 have been purchased by members who have promised in writing not to withdraw any shares for at least one year, or shares of stock to the value of at least $50,000 have been purchased by stockholders, and the purchase price has been paid into the treasury of the association in cash; (3) regulations governing directors of the association have been complied with; (4) there is public need for savings and loan facilities or additional such facilities in the community where the savings and loan association is proposed to be located; (5) the officers and directors of the proposed association are of (i) moral fitness, (ii) financial responsibility, and (iii) business ability.

Any interested person may appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals from any order of the Commission granting or denying such certificate of authority. If a certificate is finally denied, the association shall return to the purchasers the amounts they have paid for shares or shares of stock, less such sums as have been necessarily and prudently expended in seeking to obtain a certificate; and the directors individually, jointly and severally, shall be liable for any failure of the association so to do. This liability may be enforced by a suit in equity instituted by one or more of the purchasers on behalf of all against the association and one or more of its directors.

§ 6-201.41. The main office of a savings and loan association is the office at which it first commences to do business. No savings and loan association may establish a branch office nor may it engage in business in more than one place, except that the Commission, when satisfied that the public convenience and necessity will be served, may authorize an association to establish a branch or branches.

The Commission may authorize the removal of a main or branch office to another location when it is satisfied that the new location will serve the public convenience and necessity better than the old location.

§ 6-201.42. Two or more mutual associations or two or more stock associations may consolidate or merge, subject to the approval of the Commission, when the Commission finds that the merger or consolidation will promote the best interests of the members and the convenience of the public. The order approving the consolidation or merger shall specify which office is to be the main office and which office or offices may be operated as branch offices.

§ 6-201.43. A mutual State Association may convert into a Federal Association as follows:

(1) At any meeting of the members called and held in accordance with the Virginia Nonstock Corporation Act to consider such action, the members, by an affirmative vote of those holding and voting two-thirds of the votes present in person or by proxy, may resolve to convert the association into a Federal Association;

(2) A copy of the minutes of the meeting duly certified by the president or vice-president and the secretary or assistant secretary of the State Association shall be transmitted to the Commission;

(3) Thereafter, the State Association shall take such action as is necessary under federal law to make it a Federal Association;

(4) It shall file with the Commission a certified copy of the charter issued to it by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, or a certificate of the Board showing the organization of the State Association as a Federal Association; and the association shall thereupon cease to be a State Association.

(5) No State Association shall convert into a Federal Association until it has been in operation as a State Association for a period of at least five years.

§ 6-201.44. When such conversion becomes effective, the State Association shall cease to be a Virginia corporation and all its property shall by operation of law and without any further act or deed continue to be vested in it under its new name as a Federal Association and under its federal charter; and the Federal Association shall have, hold and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held and enjoyed by it as a State Association. Such Federal Association, at the time of the taking effect of the conversion, shall become and continue responsible for all of the obligations of the State Association including taxes and other liabilities created by law or incurred by it before becoming a Federal Association to the same extent as though the conversion had not taken place.

§ 6-201.45. A Federal Association doing business in this State may become a State Association as follows:

(1) It shall take such action as will effect its dissolution as a Federal Association on a specified date;

(2) Its directors, before its dissolution becomes effective, shall organize a corporation under this chapter and the Virginia Nonstock Corporation Act; and

(3) The new corporation shall apply for a certificate of authority to do business under § 6-201.40.

§ 6-201.46. The association shall transact no business as a State Association other than that relating to its organization until its certificate of authority to do business has been granted and its dissolution as a Federal Association has become effective.

§ 6-201.47. As soon as the certificate of authority to do business has been granted and its dissolution as a Federal Association has become effective, all the property of the Federal Association shall by operation of § 6-201.48. No person except corporations chartered and conducting the savings and loan business under the authority of the laws of this State, or corporations hereafter incorporated under the laws of this State for such purposes, shall engage in the savings and loan association business in this State; but nothing in this Chapter shall prevent any person from lending money on real estate or personal security or collateral, or from guaranteeing the payment of bonds, notes, bills and other obligations, or from purchasing or selling stocks and bonds. No savings and loan association shall be incorporated in this State with authority to conduct its business outside of this State, nor shall any savings and loan association incorporated under the laws of any other State be authorized to do business in this State.

§ 6-201.49. (a) No person not engaged in the business of a savings and loan association in this State under the provisions of this chapter shall use any sign having thereon any assumed or corporate name containing the words "savings and loan", "building and loan", or other words indicating that its office is the office of a savings and loan association; nor shall any such person use or circulate any written or printed material having thereon any assumed or corporate name or word or words indicating that the business of such person is that of a savings and loan association.

(b) The use of any of these terms in the name of any other corporation or in connection with any other business is not prohibited when additional words show clearly and definitely that the corporation is not, and that the business is not that of, a savings and loan association.

(c) Any person violating the provisions of this section, either individually or as a partner or as a director or officer of a corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 6-201.50. The Commission is authorized and directed to examine the accounts, books and papers of any person who it has reason to believe is doing the business of a savings and loan association without legal authority so to do, and the refusal to submit such accounts, books and papers shall be a misdemeanor.

§ 6-201.51. Every person who does the business of a savings and loan association without authority of law, and every officer and agent who knowingly participates therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 6-201.52. Whoever, directly or indirectly, wilfully and knowingly makes or transmits to another, circulates, or counsels, aids, procures or induces another to make, transmit or circulate any false or untrue statement, rumor or suggestion derogatory to the financial condition, solvency or financial standing of any savings and loan association doing business in this State, or who knowingly counsels, aids, procures or induces another to make, transmit or circulate any false or untrue statement, rumor or suggestion derogatory to the financial condition, or of derogatory character with respect to the earnings or management of the business, of any such association, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 6-201.53. No association shall, without the written approval of the Commission, make any representation, oral or written, that any of its shares are insured or guaranteed unless such shares are insured or guar-

§ 6-201.54. The Commission shall have supervision over all savings and loan associations incorported under the laws of this State and the Commission shall, not less than once in each year and at such other times as in its discretion it deems necessary, without previous notice, examine each such association.

A copy of the report of all examinations shall be furnished to the association and such report shall be presented by the president to the directors at their next meeting.

§ 6-201.55. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of such supervision and examination the Commission shall, on the first day of July of each year, assess against every such association fees as follows: A minimum fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) which shall cover the first fifty thousand dollars of assets or less, to which shall be added in the case of each association, according to its total assets, as shown by its statement of financial condition made to the Commission as of the next preceding December thirty-one, additional fees as follows: for the amount by which its total assets exceed fifty thousand dollars and do not exceed one million dollars, two dollars fifty cents on each ten thousand dollars or fraction thereof; for the amount by which its total assets exceed one million dollars and do not exceed three million dollars, one dollar on each ten thousand dollars or fraction thereof; and for all assets over three million dollars, one dollar on each twenty thousand dollars or fraction thereof. All fees so assessed shall be paid into the State treasury on or before the thirty-first day of July following. The Commission shall mail the assessment to each association on or before the tenth day of July of each year, and give notice thereof to the Comptroller, and it shall be the duty of the Comptroller to furnish the Commission with the names of the associations which fail to pay the assessment on or before July thirty-first.

Before investigating an application for a certificate of authority pursuant to § 6-201.40 the Commission shall charge a fee of two hundred and fifty dollars.

Before investigating an application for authority to establish a branch pursuant to § 6-201.41, the Commission shall charge a fee of one hundred dollars. But no fee shall be charged for investigating an application for authority to change the location of an existing main office or branch office.

§ 6-201.56. The officers, directors and employees of every association shall, upon the demand of the person designated to make any examination under the provisions of this chapter, give to such examiner full access to all money, books, papers, notes, bills and other evidences of debt of the association and shall disclose fully and truly all of its indebtedness and liability, and shall furnish the Commission with all information which it deems necessary to a full investigation into the affairs of the association.

The Commission is empowered to examine under oath any and all of the directors, officers, clerks, and employees of the association touching any matter or thing connected with the operation of the association. Any examiner is authorized to administer oaths to the persons examined.

§ 6-201.57. Such statements shall be made and published in accordance with forms prescribed by the Commission, certified under oath by the president or treasurer of the association, and attested by at least three of its directors. Insofar as practicable, the reports required by this section shall conform to those required of associations insured by any instrumentality of the Federal government.

Every association shall make such other reports as the Commission may from time to time require.

§ 6-201.58. The Commission may require an association to have an audit made of its books, records and methods of operation, whenever it appears to the Commission that the system of internal controls is not adequate or that the association is engaging in dangerously unsound practices or that the financial condition of the association makes it necessary.

§ 6-201.59. The Commission shall prepare and make available to each member of the board of directors of every association a statement describing generally their duties and responsibilities. The statement shall include a brief outline of the examining procedure employed by the Commission, an explanation of the distinction between an examination and an audit, and any information which the Commission deems necessary to apprise the directors of the necessity for an adequate system of internal controls.

§ 6-201.60. If the Commission finds: (1) that the laws of this State are not being fully observed by an association, or (2) that the association has failed to comply with the lawful orders of the Commission, or (3) that the reserve of the association is insufficient for the protection of shareholders, the Commission shall give immediate notice thereof to the officers and directors of the association; and, if necessary to conserve the assets of the association and protect the interests of its shareholders, the Commission may, after reasonable notice to the association and opportunity for it to be heard: (1) close the association for a period not exceeding sixty days, which period may be further extended for a like period or periods as the Commission deems necessary; (2) require the officers and directors of the association to liquidate, insofar as is required, its outstanding loans; (3) require that all lawful orders of the Commission be complied with; (4) require the association to make reports daily or at such other times as it may require as to the results achieved in carrying out its orders; or (5) if the Commission determines that a receiver should be appointed, it may close the doors of the association and apply to the proper court for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of its business and assets and to wind up its affairs. Proceedings for the appointment of a receiver of an association shall not be entertained by any court except on the application of the Commission.

§ 6-201.61. The Commission may impose, enter judgment for, and enforce by its process, a fine of not more than one thousand dollars against any association or against any of its directors, officers or employees for violating any lawful order of the Commission; and may remove from office any director or officer who a second time violates any such order but in all cases the defendant shall have an opportunity to be heard and to introduce evidence, and the right to appeal as in other cases.

§ 6-201.62. Any officer or agent of such an association who knowingly makes a false statement of the condition of the association to the Commission shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than ten years, or both.

§ 6-201.63. An association may remain closed on any one or more or all Saturdays as the association by resolution of its directors may from time to time determine. Any Saturday on which an association shall remain closed shall, as to such association, constitute a legal holiday, and any act

Such tax shall be paid by the person who manufactures the beer.

(a-1) In lieu of the tax imposed by paragraph (a) of this section, there is hereby levied for the period beginning July one, nineteen hundred sixty and ending June thirty, nineteen hundred sixty-two, on all beer manufactured in Virginia an excise tax at the rate of four dollars per barrel of thirty-one gallons, and a tax at the same rate on such beer in containers of more or less than thirty-one gallons, but on such beer in bottles of not more than seven ounces each the tax shall be 1⅞ cents per bottle, and on such beer in bottles of more than seven ounces each but not more than twelve ounces each, the tax shall be 2½ cents per bottle; and on such beer in bottles of more than twelve ounces each the tax shall be at a rate of 2-1/12 mills per ounce per bottle. § 3. Powers and Authority of District.—The district shall have and may exercise all of the powers and authority conferred upon the cities and counties of the Commonwealth by Articles 1 and 2 of Chapter 3 of Title 5 of the Code of Virginia as heretofore or hereafter amended and shall be subject to all of the limitations and restrictions thereof; provided, however, the powers of eminent domain hereby granted the district shall be subject to the provisions of § 25-233 of the Code as fully and to the same extent as though the district were a corporation possessing the power of eminent domain.

§ 4. Governing Body of District.—The governing body of the district shall be the board of supervisors of the county.

§ 5. Issuance and Sale of Bonds.—

(a) The governing body of the county in which the district is located shall have power, subject to the conditions and limitations of this section, to issue from time to time bonds of such district in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary for the acquisition, construction and improvement of an airport and incidental facilities and in such form as the governing body may prescribe. Such bonds shall be payable in ten equal annual installments, shall bear interest at the annual rate of Three (3%) Per Cent with installments of principal and interest payable on the first day of January of each year, and may be redeemable at such time or times and upon such notice as the board may prescribe and stipulate upon the face of the bonds when issued. They shall be in such denominations as the board may prescribe, signed by its chairman, and countersigned by its clerk under its seal.

(b) As and when funds are needed for the acquisition or construction of an airport and incidental facilities, such bonds may from time to time be issued and sold at either public or private sale at such price not less than par and accrued interest as the board may determine. All bonds thus issued shall be delivered to the treasurer of the county, who shall deliver same to the purchaser upon payment of the purchase price. The proceeds shall be deposited by the treasurer in the same manner as other funds of the county and shall be used only for the purpose for which issued as directed by order of the board.

(c) In appropriating the proceeds of the sale of the bonds the board may in its discretion either specify in detail how they shall be used for the acquisition and construction of an airport or make a general appropriation for that purpose to the county or to a joint airport committee or commission established under § 5-24 of the Code of Virginia, provided that the proceeds from the sale of bonds may not be used for the maintenance or operation of the airport.

§ 6. Payment of Bonds.—

(a) The net revenue derived from the operation of the airport shall be set aside by the board to pay the interest on the bonds issued hereunder and to create a sinking fund to pay the principal thereof.

(b) Should such net revenue be insufficient for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds, the board shall, to the extent necessary, levy an annual tax upon all the property in the district subject to local taxation to pay such interest and principal.

(c) The Circuit Court of the county of Bath, or the judge thereof in vacation, upon the petition of a majority of the members of the governing body of said county, shall make an order requiring the judges of election at the precinct or precincts at which the qualified voters living in the said airport district vote, at a time not more than thirty days from the date of such order, which date shall be designated therein, to open a poll and take the sense of the qualified voters of the airport district on the question of whether the governing body of the county shall issue bonds of the airport district in the manner and for the purposes set forth in the preceding section of this act. The maximum amount of bonds to be voted upon for issuance at one time or from time to time at said election shall be as determined by the governing body of the county in its petition requesting the election.

(d) The election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by law for the conduct of regular elections and the ballots shall be printed and voted and the returns made and canvassed and the results certified in accordance with the provisions of § 24-141 of the Code of Virginia.

(e) If it shall appear from the report of the commissioners of election that a majority of the qualified voters of the airport district voting on the question are in favor of issuing the bonds, the Circuit Court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall enter of record an order requiring the governing body of the county to proceed at its next meeting, which may be a regular meeting or a special meeting, to carry out the wishes of the voters as expressed at the election.

§ 7. Liability and Compensation of Treasurer.—The treasurer of the county and his sureties shall be liable for the amount received from the sale of bonds and collection of taxes herein authorized as though same were a county levy. As compensation for his services in the sale of bonds and disbursement of the proceeds, the treasurer shall receive ⅛ of 1% of the amount coming into his hands, which shall be paid by the purchaser of the bonds. For his services in the collection and disbursement of the district tax levy, the treasurer shall be compensated as if the same were a county levy.

2. The board of supervisors of Bath County is hereby empowered and authorized to appropriate and transfer to the credit of the district hereinabove created any and all funds that may have been donated to the county for the purpose of the acquisition and construction of an airport within said district.

3. This act shall not become operative unless and until the board of supervisors of Bath County shall adopt a resolution that the establishment of such district is needed to promote the agricultural and industrial development of the county and the health, safety, welfare, convenience and prosperity of the inhabitants thereof and that the fee simple owners of all property in the district have filed with the board written consent thereto.

4. An emergency exists and this act is in force from its passage.

An Act to amend and reenact § 46.1-357 of the Code of Virginia, relating to procedure and conditions for issuing operators' and chauffeurs' licenses to certain persons.

[S 121]

Approved March 31, 1960

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. That § 46.1-357 of the Code of Virginia be amended and reenacted as follows:

§ 46.1-357. (a) No operator's license shall be issued to any person under the age of eighteen years except as hereinafter provided and no chauffeur's license shall be issued to any person under the age of eighteen years except that:

(1) An operator's license may be issued to a minor over the age of 15 years and under the age of eighteen years upon proper application therefor and upon satisfactory evidence that the minor is mentally, physically and otherwise qualified to drive a motor vehicle with safety. The application must be signed by the father and the mother of the applicant, except that if there be only one surviving parent or one parent has sole custody of the minor, as indicated by an appropriate statement on the application, or if in any case the Commissioner determines that for good cause it is not feasible to secure the signature of both parents, it shall be sufficient that the application be signed by the surviving parent, or parent having sole custody of the minor, or the parent whose signature can be obtained, otherwise by the guardian having custody of such minor or in the event a minor under the age of eighteen years has no father, mother or guardian, then an operator's license shall not be issued to the minor unless his application therefor is signed by the judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court of the city or county in which the applicant resides. Any father and mother, surviving parent, parent having custody, or, in the discretion of the Commissioner, either parent, in case both are not present within the State, or guardian, as the case may be, may thereafter file with the Division a written request that the license of said minor so granted be cancelled. Thereupon, the Division shall cancel the license of said minor and such license shall not thereafter be reissued by the Division until a period of six months has elapsed from the date of cancellation. The minor shall be required to state in his application whether or not he has been convicted of an offense triable by, or tried in, a juvenile and domestic relations court. If it appears that such minor has been adjudged not innocent of the offense alleged the Division shall not issue a license without the written approval of the judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court making an adjudication as to such minor or the like approval of a similar court of the county or city in which the parent, guardian, or employer respectively of the child resides.

(2) Each operator's license issued pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (1) hereof shall contain thereon a suitable legend that such license must be revalidated by the Division of Motor Vehicles within twelve months from the date of original issuance and each succeeding twelve-month period thereafter until the holder thereof attains the age of eighteen years, unless such license is sooner revoked, suspended or cancelled in accordance with other provisions of law. The absence of such evidence of revalidation appearing on such license shall be considered sufficient to prohibit and make unlawful the operation of any motor vehicle in this State by the licensee if such operation occurs after twelve months from the date of issue or last revalidation stamp appearing on such license. The holder of each such operator's license issued pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (1) hereof must apply in person to any point designated by the Division for the examination of operator's or chauffeur's licenses and must be accompanied by a parent or guardian from whom the original consent for the issuance of such license was obtained and such consent shall be reaffirmed by such person at the time of appearance; provided, however, the Division may waive this requirement for good cause shown. The Division, upon receipt of application for revalidation, shall examine the driving record of each such applicant and may revalidate the license or take such other action as may be appropriate in accordance with any other provision of law.

(3) The Division upon receiving from any person over the age of fifteen years an application for a temporary instruction permit may in its discretion issue such a permit entitling the applicant while having such a permit in his immediate possession, to drive a motor vehicle upon the highways for a period of ninety days and to students in a public or parochial school driver training course which has been approved by the State Department of Education, for a period of 180 days, when accompanied by a licensed operator or chauffeur who is actually occupying a seat by the driver.

(b) No minor under the age of eighteen years shall drive a motor vehicle on the streets and alleys of any city in this State if prohibited from so doing by a proper city ordinance.

Any such lapsed appropriation shall be applied to the payment of any indebtedness incurred in financing the project concerned, and if there be no such indebtedness shall be available for appropriation in the next capital budget.

§ 17.02. There shall be a city planning commission which shall consist of seven members appointed by the Council. The failure of the commission to act within sixty days from the date of the official submission to it shall be deemed approval. The widening, extension, narrowing, enlargement, vacation or change in the use of streets and other public ways, grounds and places within the city, as well as the acquisition by the city of any land within or without the city for public purposes, or the sale of any land then held by the city, shall be * *submitted to the planning commission for its approval. munity in Virginia of his selection, but his selection shall be from one approved by the State Health Commissioner and by the State Board of Health, for a period of years equal in number to the years which he has been a beneficiary of such scholarship, provided that one year's internship in any rural hospital in the State of Virginia selected by the State Health Commissioner and approved by the State Board of Health or in any institution operated by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals shall be considered equivalent to one year's practice of medicine in a rural community. The foregoing shall apply only to contracts made or entered into prior to July 1, 1954.

(b) Before any scholarship is awarded under the provisions of § 23-35.1 (b), the applicant must sign a written contract, under which he agrees to pursue the dental course of the school awarding the scholarship, or the dental course at the school at which the scholarship is awarded, until his graduation and, upon graduating shall promptly begin and thereafter engage continuously in the general practice of dentistry in some mental institution, or in the public health service or as an employee of the State Health Department in the State of Virginia, for a period of years equal in number to the years which he has been a beneficiary of such scholarship; provided that if the Commissioner of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals certifies that no suitable vacancy exists in any State mental institution, then the obligation of such contract may be discharged by compliance with the conditions set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Each recipient, when such scholarship is awarded, shall be required to insure his life, for the benefit of the school awarding the scholarship, in a sum equal at least to the value of each scholarship awarded him, the insurance policy to contain a specific provision that the school beneficiary shall not be changed without the consent of the beneficiary. Upon cancellation of each note executed by the recipient as hereinbefore provided, the school beneficiary shall consent to such change in the beneficiary of the corresponding insurance policy as may be designated by the recipient. Upon the failure of the recipient to discharge his obligation either by service or payment, as herein required, or by reason of his death or by any other cause, the policy or policies and any and all proceeds derived therefrom shall become the property of the school beneficiary. All premiums on the insurance policy or policies shall be paid by the recipient of the scholarship.

(d) After July 1, 1954, no scholarship shall be awarded under the provisions of § 23-35.1 (a) unless and until the applicant shall have signed a written contract under the terms of which he agrees to pursue the medical course of the school awarding the scholarship, or the medical course at the school for which the scholarship is awarded, until his graduation and upon graduation and completing a term not to exceed two years as an interne at some hospital or institution approved by the school, shall promptly begin and thereafter engage continuously in the general practice of medicine in a rural community of Virginia for a period of years equal to the number of years which he has been a beneficiary of such scholarship. As used herein the terms "general practice of medicine" and "rural community" shall conform to definitions thereof promulgated by the State Health Commissioner. The State Health Commissioner may, in his discretion, direct that all or any portion of the obligations imposed by such contract be discharged by appointment and service in the public health service of the State or by service in any institution operated by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals. may be relieved of his obligation to practice in a rural section or in a mental institution, as the case may be, if, at the end of two scholastic years, he has demonstrated a peculiar and unusual ability and aptitude in a special branch of the medical sciences and, in the opinion of the faculty, would be a loss to the field of medical research and science if he did not go into that branch of medical science for which he has demonstrated extraordinary ability. In such case, upon certificate of a faculty committee, the contract shall provide that he may be released from his obligation and continue his course without a scholarship, and shall be under no obligation to engage in general practice in a rural section or in a mental institution of Virginia for a period equal to that during which he has received such scholarship; provided that he makes satisfactory arrangements for reimbursing the State for the amount he has received on account of such scholarships. Any such contract made and entered into after July one, nineteen hundred fifty-four shall have a clause under which the holder may be relieved of his obligation to practice medicine in a rural community or a mental institution or to serve in the public health service of the State as the case may be if, at any time the holder fails to maintain a scholastic standard at least equal to the standard required of the general student body in such school or if the holder, at any time, becomes permanently disabled so as not to be able to engage in the practice of medicine or if at any time the holder demonstrates a peculiar and unusual ability and aptitude in a special branch of the medical sciences and, in the opinion of the faculty or the State Health Commissioner would be a loss to the field of medical research and science if he did not go into that branch of medical science for which he has demonstrated extraordinary ability. In such case, upon certificate of a faculty committee or the State Health Commissioner the contract shall provide that the holder shall be relieved of his obligation to engage in the general practice of medicine, or to serve in the public health service of the State or to practice in a mental institution for a period equal to that during which he has been a beneficiary of such scholarship. Any applicant, upon being so relieved from the obligations imposed by such contract shall arrange to reimburse the State within a reasonable time for the amount he has received on account of such scholarship plus interest on such amount computed at the prevailing rate charged on student loans at the school attended by the applicant. Provided, however, if such applicant, or any applicant who for any reason repays all or any part of the amount received of such scholarships, after reimbursing such amount plus interest to the State, later fulfills the terms of his contract by completing his studies and engaging in general practice in a rural section as provided in § 23-35.3 or in a mental institution of Virginia or service with State Health Department for a period equal to that during which he received such scholarship, such applicant shall have reimbursed to him, from the general fund of the State treasury, the amount of the scholarship and interest previously repaid to the State. This reimbursement shall be made on any contract whether heretofore or hereafter made under the provisions of this section.

Any contract made under this chapter may be terminated after two years in school after notice, upon repayment of the entire loan with interest at the rate charged on student loans.

§ 58-131.10. Valuation of property owned or rented.—Property owned by the corporation is valued at its original cost plus the cost of additions and improvements. Property rented by the corporation is valued at eight times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rate is the annual rental rate paid by the corporation less any annual rental rate received by the corporation from sub-rentals.

§ 58-131.11. Average value of property determined how.—The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the value at the beginning and ending of the tax period, but the Department of Taxation may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the corporation's property.

§ 58-131.12. Payroll factor.—The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid or accrued in this State during the tax period by the corporation for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid or accrued everywhere during the tax period. § 58-131.13. Compensation is in this State, if, etc.—Compensation is paid or accrued in this State if: (a) the employee's service is performed entirely within the State; or (b) the employee's service is performed both within and without the State, but the service performed without the State is incidental to the employee's service within the State; or (c) some of the service is performed in the State and (1) the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the State, or (2) the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any State in which some part of the service is performed, but the employee's residence is in this State.

§ 58-131.14. Sales factor.—The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the corporation in this State during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the corporation everywhere during the tax period.

§ 58-131.15. Sales of tangible personal property are in this State, if, etc.—Sales of tangible personal property are in this State if: (a) the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser or for his account within this State regardless of the f. o. b. point or other conditions of the sale; or (b) the property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place in this State and the corporation is not taxable with respect thereto in the State of the purchaser by reason of the fact that such sale is not attributable or assignable to the State of the purchaser under the apportionment formula of such State, or would not be so attributable or assignable if such State had adopted the net income tax law of this State.

§ 58-131.16. Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this State, if, etc.—Sales, other than sales of tangible personal

§ 58-131.17. Motor carriers; apportionment of net apportionable income.—Motor carriers of property or passengers shall apportion their net apportionable income to this State by the use of the ratio of vehicle miles in this State to total vehicle miles of the corporation everywhere. For the purposes of this section the words "vehicle miles" in the case of motor carriers of property shall mean miles traveled by vehicles (whether owned or operated by the corporation) hauling property for a charge or traveling on a scheduled route; and in the case of motor carriers of passengers the same shall mean miles traveled by vehicles (whether owned or operated by the corporation) carrying passengers for a fare or traveling on a scheduled route.

§ 58-131.18. Taxable years to which §§ 58-131.1 through 58-131.17 applicable.—The foregoing §§ 58-131.1 through 58-131.17 shall apply with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1961.

§ 58-134. Reports by corporations and partnerships.—Every corporation and partnership organized under the laws of this State, or * having income from sources in this State, shall on or before April fifteenth of each year make a report to the Department of Taxation; provided, that corporations and partnerships, whose accounting period is a fiscal year, as herein defined, shall make a return on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of such fiscal year. Such reports shall be made on forms prescribed by the Department of Taxation and shall contain such information as may be necessary for the proper enforcement of this chapter.

Receivers, trustees in dissolution, trustees in bankruptcy, and assignees, operating the property or business of corporations must make returns of income for such corporations. If a receiver has full custody of and control over the business or property of a corporation, he shall be deemed to be operating such business or property, whether he is engaged in carrying on the business for which the corporation was organized or only in marshaling, selling, or disposing of its assets for purposes of liquidation.

This section, as hereby amended, shall apply with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1959.

§ 58-148. Revision of assessments against corporations.—If any application for revision be filed with the Department of Taxation by a corporation against which taxes have been assessed under this chapter within three years from December thirty-first of the year in which such taxes shall have been assessed and if it shall be made to appear to the Department by evidence submitted to it or otherwise that any such amount included taxes or other charges which could not have been lawfully demanded or that payment has been illegally made or exacted of any such amount or if it appears that the tax as originally assessed was less than should have been exacted, the Department shall resettle the same according to law and the facts by increasing or diminishing the taxes and other charges and adjust the accounts accordingly and may, in its discretion, release or modify the penalty imposed for failure to report as provided in this chapter, if any penalty was imposed, and shall send notice of its determination thereon to the corporation forthwith. If it appears from such reassessment that such corporation shall have paid an excess of tax under this chapter for the year for which such reassessment is made, the Department shall credit such corporation with such amount, which shall be

Time of payment of corporation income taxes; penalties for nonpayment.—The tax hereby imposed on corporations shall be paid to the State Treasurer within thirty days after notice of the tax has been given as provided in this chapter; but no tax on a calendar year return shall be deemed to be due hereunder before June first of each year. If such tax be not so paid or, in the case of additional taxes, if not paid within thirty days after notice of such additional tax has been given as provided herein, the corporation liable to such tax shall pay, in addition to the amount of such tax, or additional tax, five per centum of such amount plus one per centum for each month the tax or additional tax remains unpaid. But the Department of Taxation, upon submission to it of satisfactory proof that the failure to pay such taxes, or additional taxes, within the time prescribed in this chapter, was not wilful or evasive, may modify the exaction to not less than one per centum for each month following the due date of the tax.

§ 58-418. On all capital as defined by * §§ 58-410 through 58-417, there is hereby annually levied a tax of * sixty-five cents on every one hundred dollars of the actual value thereof.

[S 238]

Approved March 31, 1960

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. § 1. The General Assembly, mindful of the need for a literate and informed citizenry, and being desirous of advancing the cause of education generally, hereby declares that it is the policy of this Commonwealth to encourage the education of all of the children of Virginia. In furtherance of this objective, and to afford each individual freedom in choosing public or private schooling, the General Assembly finds that it is desirable and in the public interest that scholarships should be provided from the public funds of the State for the education of the children in nonsectarian private schools in or outside, and in public schools located outside, the locality where the children reside; and that counties, cities and towns, if the town be a separate school district approved for operation, should be authorized to levy taxes and appropriate public funds to provide for such scholarships.

§ 3. The governing body of each county, city or town, if the town be a separate school district approved for operation, is authorized to appropriate funds to provide local scholarships in such amount as they may deem proper, not less than the amount specified in this Act, for the education of children residing therein, in nonsectarian private schools located in or outside, and in public schools located outside, such county, city or town.

(b) Nor shall any such policy or contract be so issued or delivered unless it contains an endorsement or provisions undertaking to pay the insured all sums which he shall be legally entitled to recover as damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle, within limits which shall be no less than the requirements of § 46.1-1(8), as amended from time to time, of the Code herein. Such endorsement or provisions shall also provide for no less than five thousand dollars coverage for injury to or destruction of the property of the insured in any one accident but may provide an exclusion of the first two hundred dollars of such loss or damage.

(c) As used in this section, the term "bodily injury" shall include death resulting therefrom; the term "insured" as used in subsections (b), (d), (f), and (g) hereof, means the named insured and, while resident of the same household, the spouse of any such named insured, and relatives of either, while in a motor vehicle or otherwise, and any person who uses, with the consent, expressed or implied, of the named insured, the motor vehicle to which the policy applies and a guest in such motor vehicle to which the policy applies or the personal representative of any of the above; and the term "uninsured motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle as to which there is no (i) bodily injury liability insurance and property damage liability insurance both in the amounts specified by § 46.1-1(8), as amended from time to time, or (ii) there is such insurance but the insurance company writing the same denies coverage thereunder, (iii) there is no bond or deposit of money or securities in lieu of such bodily injury and property damage liability insurance and (iv) the owner of such motor vehicle has not qualified as a self-insurer under the provisions of § 46.1-395. A motor vehicle shall be deemed to be uninsured if the owner or operator thereof be unknown; provided that recovery under the endorsement or provisions shall be subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth.

(d) If the owner or operator of any motor vehicle which causes bodily injury or property damage to the insured be unknown, the insured or someone on his behalf, in order for the insured to recover under the endorsement, shall report the accident as required by § 46.1-400, unless such insured is reasonably unable to do so, in which event the insured shall make such report as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances.

(e) If the owner or operator of any vehicle causing injury or damages be unknown, an action may be instituted against the unknown defendant as "John Doe" and service of process may be made by delivery of a copy of the motion for judgment or other pleadings to the clerk of the court in which the action is brought and service upon the insurance company issuing the policy shall be made as prescribed by law as though such insurance company were a party defendant. This subsection shall not apply to any cause of action arising prior to the effective date of this amendment.

(f) Any insurer paying a claim under the endorsement or provisions required by paragraph (b) of this section shall be subrogated to the rights of the insured to whom such claim was paid against the person causing such injury, death or damage to the extent that payment was made; provided that the bringing of an action against the unknown owner or operator as John Doe or the conclusion of such an action shall not constitute a bar to the insured, if the identity of the owner or operator who caused the injury or damages complained of becomes known, from bringing an action against the owner or operator theretofore proceeded against as John Doe, provided that any recovery against such owner or operator shall be paid to the insurance company to the extent that such insurance company paid the named insured in the action brought against such owner or operator as John Doe, except that such insurance company shall pay its proportionate part of any reasonable costs and expense incurred in connection therewith including reasonable attorney's fees. (h) The provisions of paragraph (a) and (b) of this section shall not apply to any policy of insurance to the extent that it covers the liability of an employer under any workmen's compensation law, but no provision or application of this section shall be construed to limit the liability of the insurance company, insuring motor vehicles, to an employee or other insured under this section who is injured by an uninsured motor vehicle.

Copies of the document shall be served with the request unless copies have already been furnished. Each of the matters of which an admission is requested shall be deemed admitted unless, within a period designated in the request, not less than ten days after service thereof or within such shorter or longer time as the court may allow on motion and notice, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the party requesting the admission either (1) a sworn statement denying specifically the matters of which an admission is requested or setting forth in detail the reasons why he cannot truthfully admit or deny those matters or (2) written objections on the ground that some or all of the requested admissions are privileged or irrelevant or that the request is otherwise improper in whole or in part, together with a notice of hearing the objections at the earliest practicable time. If written objections to a part of the request are made, the remainder of the request shall be answered within the period designated in the request. sheriff, town and city sergeants and town and city deputy sergeants, at the time of such injury or death, and the payment of the allowance shall not extend beyond the period of disability resulting from such injury; provided, that the governing body of a county having a population of more than ninety-nine thousand but less than one hundred thousand and being contiguous to three cities of the first class may provide that the allowance being paid any such person who dies while entitled to receive the same may be continued to be paid the widow of such person. In case death results from the injury, the allowance may be made for the dependents as defined in Title 65. In counties, cities and towns which have established retirement or pension systems for injured, retired or superannuated officials, employees, members of police or fire departments, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, town and city sergeants and town and city deputy sergeants, or for the dependents of those killed in line of duty, the agencies provided for the administration of such systems shall determine the existence of such injury or cause of death before any appropriation to pay such allowance is made and shall determine the extent of and period of disability resulting from such injury and the cause in case of death. All sums paid to any such official, employee, policeman, fireman, sheriff or deputy sheriff, town and city sergeants and town and city deputy sergeants, as compensation under Title 65 and all sums paid to the dependents of such official, employee, policeman, fireman, sheriff or deputy sheriff, town or city sergeant and town or city deputy sergeant, if he is killed, and all sums paid under any retirement or pension system shall be deducted from the allowance made under this section in such installments as the agency determines. If the agency determines that any official, employee, policeman, fireman, sheriff or deputy sheriff, town or city sergeant and town or city deputy sergeant, who suffered injury in the line of duty is engaged or is able to engage in a gainful occupation, then the allowance shall be reduced by the agency to an amount which, together with the amount earnable by him, equals the allowance. Should the earning capacity of the official, employee, policeman, fireman, sheriff or deputy sheriff, town or city sergeant and town or city deputy sergeant, be later changed, such allowance may be further modified, up or down, provided the new allowance shall not exceed the amount of the allowance originally made nor an amount which, when added to the amount earnable by him, exceeds such allowance.

[H 324]

Approved March 31, 1960

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. That the Code of Virginia be amended by adding thereto §§ 33-57.2, 33-59.1, 33-60.1, 33-60.2, 33-60.3, 33-62.1, 33-63.1, 33-65.1, 33-67.1 and 33-67.2, and that §§ 33-58, 33-59, 33-64 as amended, 33-65 and 33-67 be amended and reenacted, as follows:

§ 33-57.2. The State Highway Commissioner, through his duly authorized officers, agents, or servants, may enter upon any land in the Commonwealth for the purposes of making examination and survey thereof, with a view to ascertainment of its suitability for highway purposes, or for any other purpose incidental thereto. Such officers, agents, or servants shall exercise care to protect any improvements, growing crops, or timber in making such examination or survey.

In the event that the Commissioner and any landowner affected cannot agree as to the amount of damage, if any, sustained by reason of the entry upon land for the purposes herein stated, the Commissioner shall institute condemnation proceedings, as hereinafter provided in this chapter, for the purpose of determining the amount of such damage, if any.

§ 33-58. Whenever any public utility company owns any land or any easement, right of way or other interest in land which the Commissioner deems necessary and intends to acquire for any highway project and such land, easement, right of way or other interest in land owned by the public utility company is devoted to a public use, the Commissioner may acquire by gift, purchase or by the exercise of the power of eminent domain additional land or * easement, right of way or interest in land adjacent to or approximately adjacent to such land needed and proposed to be acquired for such highway project and may then convey the same to the public utility company for use by it in lieu of the land, easement, right of way or other interest in land theretofore owned by it but needed by the Commissioner for such highway project. The condemnation of such land, easement, rights of way or other interest in land to be conveyed to any public utility company shall be governed by the procedure prescribed by this article and may be carried out at the same time if against the same property owner and if against the same landowner or in the same proceedings in which land is condemned for highway purposes. The Commissioner may, under the same procedure and conditions prescribed by this article, with respect to property needed for highway purposes, enter upon and take possession of such property to be conveyed to any public utility company * in the manner provided in §§ 33-70.1 through 33-70.11 of the Code, and proceed with the relocation of the installations of the public utility company in order that the construction of the highway project may be carried out without delay.

other facilities are not removed by such utility companies within sixty days from the date of the taking by the Commissioner, the Commissioner is hereby vested with the power to remove and relocate such facilities at his own cost.

§ 33-59. Proceedings for condemnation under this article shall be instituted and conducted in the name of the State Highway Commissioner and the procedure shall * be in accordance with the provisions of this article.

§ 33-59.1. No proceedings shall be taken to condemn land or other property, nor any interest therein, until a bona fide but ineffectual effort has been made to acquire the same from the owner or owners thereof by purchase, except where consent cannot be obtained because of the incapacity of one or more owners, or one or more of them will not or cannot convey legal title or because such owner, or owners, be unknown or cannot with reasonable diligence be found within this State.

§ 33-60.1. The proceedings for such condemnation shall be by petition for the appointment of commissioners to the circuit court of the county, or the court of any city which is vested with jurisdiction of eminent domain proceedings, in which the land, property and rights, or the major portion thereof sought to be acquired is located, or to the judge of such court in vacation. The petition shall set forth with reasonable particularity a description and designation of the interests, rights and property intended to be taken, the name or names of the owners whose property is to be taken or affected, and such other facts, if any, as may be deemed necessary by the Commissioner to give full information to the court and all persons in interest and shall be certified by oath of the Commissioner or by his duly authorized agent or attorney.

§ 33-60.2. There shall be filed with such petition a plat of the project plan, with a profile showing the cuts and fills, together with the grade of the proposed highway.

§ 33-60.3. Upon or after the filing of the petition as provided for hereinabove, the Commissioner shall give twenty-one days notice to the owner or owners or the tenant or tenants of his intention to apply to the court for the appointment of commissioners to ascertain what will be a just compensation for the land or for the interest or estate therein, proposed to be condemned and to award damages, if any, resulting to the adjacent or remaining property of the owner by reason of the taking. The Commissioner may, in his notice provided for herein, also give notice that grounds of defense shall be filed, if the Commissioner be of the opinion that grounds of defense are necessary or desirable.

Such notice shall be served on the owner or owners or the tenant or tenants of the freehold.

§ 33-62.1. Within twenty-one days from the service of the notice provided for in § 33-60.3 the owner or owners may file, or if notified so to do by the Commissioner as hereinabove provided, shall file, in writing, grounds of defense, such grounds of defense to include valuations of the land and interest to be taken and appraisal of any damages which may result to the residue by reason of the taking.

Should the owner fail to file such grounds of defense as hereinabove provided, such failure shall not preclude the owner from appearing on the date set for the appointment of commissioners nor from presenting evidence as to valuation and damage and to otherwise protect his rights, but such failure shall preclude such owner from any other defense by way of pleas in bar, abatement, or otherwise. Provided, however, for good cause shown, the time for filing such grounds of defense may be extended by the court.

§ 33-63.1. Upon or after the expiration of twenty-one days from the return date of the notice for appointment of commissioners as provided for in § 33-60.3, the court or the judge thereof in vacation, shall, upon motion of the Commissioner or the owner summon nine disinterested freeholders, or five disinterested freeholders if the parties so agree, who shall be residents of the county or city wherein the land or the greater portion thereof to be condemned is situate. If nine are summoned, the Commissioner and the landowner shall each have two peremptory challenges and the remaining five, or the original five if only five are summoned, shall be appointed, any three or more of whom may act, and shall fix the value of the land taken and damages, if any, which may accrue to the residue, beyond the enhancement in value, if any, to such residue, by reason of the taking. Before executing their duties, the commissioners shall take an oath before some officer authorized by the laws of this State to administer an oath, that they will faithfully and impartially ascertain what will be the value of the land taken, and the damages, if any, which may accrue to the residue, beyond the enhancement in value, if any, to such residue, by reason of the taking.

§ 33-64. Upon the selection of the commissioners, the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall direct them, in the custody of the sheriff or one of his deputies, to view the land described in the petition with the landowner and the State Highway Commissioner, or any representative of either party, and none other, unless otherwise directed by the court; and, upon motion of either party, the judge shall accompany the commissioners upon their view of the land. Upon completion of the view, the court or the judge in vacation shall hear the testimony in open court on the issues joined. When the commissioners shall have arrived at their conclusion they shall make their report in writing to the court, or to the judge thereof in vacation. The report may be confirmed or set aside forthwith by the court, or the judge, as the case may be, provided that when the report is so filed and before the court or judge passes thereon, either party shall have the right * to file written exceptions to the report, which shall be filed not later than ten days after the rendering of the report by the commissioners. The court or the judge, as the case may be, shall have the same power over the commissioners' reports as it now has over verdicts of juries in civil actions.

Upon hearing of exceptions to the commissioners' report the court, or the judge in vacation, shall not recall and question the commissioners as to the manner in which their report was determined unless there be an allegation in such written exceptions that fraud, collusion, corruption or improper conduct entered into the report. If such allegation is made the judge shall summon the commissioners to appear and he alone shall question them concerning their actions. If the court be satisfied that fraud, collusion, corruption or improper conduct entered into the report of the commissioners, the report shall be set aside and new commissioners appointed to rehear the case.

If the court be satisfied that no such fraud, collusion, corruption or improper conduct entered into the report of commissioners, or no other cause exists which would justify setting aside or modifying a jury verdict in civil actions, the report shall be confirmed.

§ 33-65. All costs of the proceedings in the trial court under this article which are fixed by statute shall be taxed as any other suit in equity and shall be borne by the * Commissioner. The court may in its discretion tax as a cost a fee for a survey for the owner, such fee not to exceed fifty dollars.

§ 33-65.1. The commissioners appointed shall, for every day or portion thereof they may be employed in the performance of their duties, receive compensation in an amount to be fixed by the court at not more than twenty dollars per diem, regardless of the number of cases heard on any particular day, to be paid by the State Highway Commissioner. The persons summoned who appear, but are not appointed to serve as commissioners, shall be paid an amount to be fixed by the court not to exceed five dollars for each day they are summoned to appear.

§ 33-67. Upon the return of the report of the commissioners * appointed in such proceedings and the confirmation, alteration or modification thereof in the manner provided in this article, the sum so ascertained by the court as compensation and damages, if any, to the property owners may be paid * into court or to the clerk thereof, upon which title to the property and rights condemned shall vest in the Commonwealth of Virginia in fee simple, or to such extent as may be prayed for in the petition, unless such title shall have vested in the Commonwealth pursuant to the provisions of §§ 33-70.1 through 33-70.11 of the Code, and the Commissioner or his agent shall have the right to enter upon the construction upon, or use of, the property and rights condemned as may be authorized by the report.

§ 33-67.1. The clerk of the court wherein condemnation is had, shall make and certify a copy of so much of the orders, judgments and proceedings in the case as shall show such condemnation, including therein a plat and description of the land, or the estate or interest in the land, condemned, and shall record the same in his deed book; provided, that such plat may be recorded in the State Highway Plat Book in the clerk's office, unless such plat be already of record; in either case the same shall be indexed in the names of the parties. In the event any portion of the land lies in two or more counties or cities, the clerk shall certify a copy of the proceedings above mentioned to the clerk of the court of each county or city and such clerks shall record and index the same as above provided. The fees of the clerk for recording shall be the same as for recording a deed, and such fees shall be paid by the Commissioner.

§ 33-67.2. Upon the award being paid into court or to the clerk thereof, and the court being satisfied that the persons having an interest therein are before the court, the court shall make such distribution of such money as to it may seem proper, having due regard to the interest of all persons therein, and in what proportions such money is properly payable.

If it shall appear that the petition for the appointment of commissioners states the person or persons or classes of persons, who, in the opinion of the Commissioner, are vested with the superior right or claim of title in the land or estate or interest therein condemned, or in the proceeds of the award of commissioners, and that the record does not disclose any denial or dispute, by any person or party in interest, of such statement in the petition, the court may direct that the fund, after the payment therefrom of any taxes, be disbursed and distributed in accordance with the statement in the petition, among the persons entitled thereto; except that with respect to any persons appearing to be infants, insane or under any other legal disability, the court may inquire into their rights or claims, independent of any statement in the petition, and any order for distribution shall conserve and protect the right of such parties in and to the fund. The cost of a commissioner in chancery appointed by the court to assist in making the proper distribution in cases of legal disability as herein set forth may be taxed as a cost of the proceeding, to be paid by the State Highway Commissioner.

If it shall appear to the court that there exists a controversy among claimants to the fund, or to the ownership of the land subject to the condemnation, the court shall enter an order setting a time for hearing the case and determining the rights and claims of all persons entitled to the fund or to any interest or share therein. In order to enable the court in determining a proper disposition of the fund, the court may appoint a commissioner in chancery to take evidence of the conflicting claims. No costs incident to or arising out of a trial or a determination of such issues

Upon a determination by the court of the rights and claims of the persons entitled to the fund, judgment shall be entered directing the disbursement among the persons entitled thereto. Any party believing himself aggrieved thereby may apply for writ of error as provided in § 33-66 of the Code.

(a) The word "Authority" shall mean The State Education Assistance Authority created by this act, or if the Authority shall be abolished, the board, body, commission or agency succeeding to the principal functions thereof or on whom the powers given by this act to the Authority shall be conferred by law.

(b) The word "obligations" shall mean those evidences of debt which the Authority may buy, sell, endorse or guarantee under the provisions of this act.

(c) The words "act" or "undertaking" shall mean the official act of the Authority in connection with the acquisition or disposition of all or any part of obligations or interest therein which the Authority is authorized to buy or sell under § 2 of this act.

No act or undertaking of the Authority shall be deemed to constitute a debt of the Commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof or a pledge of the faith and credit of the Commonwealth or of any such political subdivision, but shall be payable solely from the funds of the Authority. All such acts and undertakings shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the Commonwealth nor the Authority shall be obligated to pay the same or the interest thereon except from revenues of the Authority and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the Commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such acts and undertakings.

All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be payable solely from funds provided under the provisions of this act and no liability or obligation shall be incurred by the Authority hereunder beyond the extent to which moneys shall have been provided under the provisions of this act.

Immediately after such appointment, the directors shall enter upon the performance of their duties. The board shall annually elect one of its members as chairman and another as vice-chairman, and shall also elect annually a secretary, or a secretary-treasurer, who may or may not be a member of the board. The chairman, or in his absence, the vice-chairman, shall preside at all meetings of the board. In the absence of both the chairman and vice-chairman, the board shall appoint a chairman pro tempore, who shall preside at such meetings. Four directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the Authority, and no vacancy in the membership of the board shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the Authority. The members of the board shall be entitled to reimbursement for their expenses incurred in attendance upon the meetings of the board or while otherwise engaged in the discharge of their duties. Each member of the board shall also be paid the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for each day or portion thereof during which he is engaged in the performance of his duties. Such expenses and compensation shall be paid out of the treasury of the Authority upon vouchers signed by the chairman of the board or by such other person or persons as may be designated by the board for the purpose.

§ 4. The Authority is hereby authorized and empowered:

(c) To acquire, hold and dispose of personal property in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties;

(d) To make and enter into all contracts and agreements necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the execution of its powers under this act;

(e) To employ, in its discretion, consultants, attorneys, accountants, and financial experts, superintendents, managers and such other employees and agents as may be necessary in its judgment, and to fix their compensation to be payable from funds made available to the Authority by law;

(f) To receive and accept from any federal or private agency, corporation, association or person grants to be expended in accomplishing the objectives of the Authority, and to receive and accept from the Commonwealth, from any municipality, county or other political subdivision thereof and from any other source aid or contributions of either money, property, or other things of value, to be held, used and applied only for the purposes for which such grants and contributions may be made;

(g) To sue and to be sued; to have a seal and to alter the same at its pleasure; and to make and from time to time amend and repeal by-laws, rules and regulations not inconsistent with law to carry into effect the powers and purposes of the Authority;

(h) To do all other acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this act; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to empower the Authority to engage in the business of banking or insurance.

§ 5. (a) Title to any property acquired by the Authority shall be taken in the name of the Authority.

(b) The Commonwealth hereby consents, subject to the approval of the Governor, to the use of any other lands or property owned by the Commonwealth, which are deemed by the Authority to be necessary for its purposes.

(c) The Authority may establish such offices in State-owned or rented structures as it deems appropriate for its purposes.

§ 6. With the funds available to the Authority, for purposes other than the payment of personnel and the lease or rental of offices or equipment, the Authority may acquire from any bank or other lending institution of this State a contingent interest not exceeding eighty per centum of any individual obligation; the total contingent interest of the Authority on all such obligations shall not exceed at any one time a sum equal to twelve and one-half times the total funds which the Authority can employ to acquire such contingent interests. When the Authority acquires any such contingent interest, it may require the payment to it of a portion of the interest payable upon any such obligation. In each such acquisition, the Authority shall provide that at such time as the obligation becomes delinquent, the bank or other lending institution shall notify the Authority forthwith and shall transfer forthwith to the Authority, by assignment or otherwise, an interest in such obligation equal to the contingent interest of the Authority therein. The bank or other lending institution and the Authority shall forthwith take such steps as may be necessary to recover the balance due upon any such obligation; any such recovery shall be apportioned between the Authority and the bank or other lending institution as their respective interests may appear.

§ 7. The Authority shall prescribe the terms, conditions and limitations upon which it will acquire a contingent or direct interest in any obligation and such terms, conditions and limitations shall include, but without limiting the generality hereof, the interest rate payable upon such obligations, the maturities thereof, the terms for payment of principal and interest, applicable life or other insurance which may be required in connection with any such obligation and who shall pay the premiums thereon, the safekeeping of assets pledged to secure any such undertaking, and any and all matters in connection with the foregoing as will protect the assets of the Authority.

§ 8. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to the end that its beneficial purposes may be effectuated.

§ 9. The appropriation made to the Authority under this act shall be used exclusively for the purpose of acquiring contingent or vested rights in obligations which it may acquire under this act.

§ 10. Each and every application and provision of this act is severable and if any provision or application hereof is held invalid by a court from which no appeal may be taken, the remaining provisions and applications of this act shall remain in full force and effect.

2. There is hereby appropriated to The State Education Assistance Authority from Item 358 of the Appropriation Act of nineteen hundred sixty for the second year of the biennium the sum of fifty thousand dollars. The State Treasurer shall transfer such sums upon his books to the credit of The State Education Assistance Authority to be available exclusively for the acquisition of contingent or direct interests in obligations which the Authority may acquire under this act.

(b) Before any license issued under this chapter is so revoked or suspended, thirty days' written notice must be given the licensee of the date set for hearing of the complaint and he must be furnished with a copy of the complaint and shall be entitled to be represented by legal counsel at the hearing. The notice shall be given by the Board by registered mail.

(c) If a license is revoked as herein provided, a new application for license may be considered by the Board if, when, and after the conditions upon which revocation was based have been corrected and satisfactory evidence of this fact has been furnished. A new license may then be granted after proper inspection has been made and all provisions of this chapter and applicable rules and regulations made thereunder have been complied with and recommendation to such effect has been made by the Commissioner upon basis of an inspection by any authorized inspector or agent of the Board.

(d) Suspension of a license shall in all cases be for an indefinite time and the suspension may be lifted and rights under the license fully or partially restored at such time as the Commissioner determines, upon basis of such an inspection, that the rights of the licensee appear to so require and the interests of the public will not be jeopardized by resumption of operation.

§ 37-258.2. Any person aggrieved by the refusal of the Board to issue a license or by its revocation or suspension of a license may, within thirty days after receipt of notice of such action or within a reasonable time after its failure to take action upon a completed application for a license, obtain a review by any court having equity jurisdiction in the county or city in which such private institution, hospital or home is or is proposed to be located and a copy of the petition for review shall be filed with the Board. Within five days after receipt of the copy, the Board shall transmit to the court all of the original papers pertaining to the matter to be reviewed, and the matter shall be thereupon heard by the court or judge in vacation as promptly as circumstances will reasonably permit. The court may enter such orders pending the proceeding as are deemed necessary or proper in accordance with the principles of equity jurisprudence and procedure. The hearing may be upon the record so transmitted, but the court may hear such additional evidence as it deems proper, and upon the conclusion of the hearing, the court may affirm, vacate or modify the order appealed from. Costs may be ordered to be paid as the court or judge deems proper in accordance with principles of equity. Any party to the proceeding may appeal from the decision of the court to the Supreme Court of Appeals, in the same manner as appeals are taken from courts of equity generally.

§ 37-258.3. In case any such private institution, hospital or home is being operated in violation of the provisions of this chapter or of any applicable rules and regulations made under such provisions, the Board, in addition to other remedies, may institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent such unlawful operation and to restrain, correct or abate such violation or violations. Such action or proceedings shall be instituted in a court of record having equity jurisdiction in the county or city where such private institution, hospital or home is located, and such court shall have jurisdiction to enjoin such unlawful operation or such violation or violations.

§ 37-259. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to authorize or require a license of a person to establish, * maintain and operate, or to have charge of, any private institution, hospital or home for the care or treatment of persons by the practice of the religious tenets of any church in the ministration to the sick and suffering by mental or spiritual means without the use of any drug or material remedy, whether

§ 37-260. Any person violating any provision of this chapter or any applicable rule and regulation made under such provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and each day, or part thereof, of continuation of any such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

parks, playgrounds, reservations, highways or parkways, or parts thereof or rights therein, of any person, copartnership, association, public service, public utility or other corporation, or of the county, deemed necessary or convenient for the construction or the efficient operation of the project or necessary in the restoration, replacement or relocation of public or private property damaged or destroyed, whenever a reasonable price cannot be agreed upon or whenever the Authority cannot agree on the terms of purchase or settlement with the owner or owners because of the incapacity of such owner or owners or because of the inability to agree on the compensation to be paid or other terms of settlement or purchase, or because such owner or owners are nonresidents of the Commonwealth, or are unknown, or are unable to convey valid title to such property. Such proceedings shall be in accordance with and subject to the provisions of any and all laws of the Commonwealth applicable to the exercise of the power of eminent domain in the name of the State Highway Commissioner and subject to the provisions of § 25-233 of the Code of Virginia, 1950, as fully as if the Authority were a corporation possessing the power of eminent domain; provided, however, that title to any property condemned by the Authority shall immediately vest in the Authority, and the Authority shall be entitled to the immediate possession of such property upon the deposit with the clerk of the court in which such condemnation proceedings are originated, of the total amount of the appraised price of the property and court costs and fees as provided by said laws, notwithstanding that any of the parties to such proceedings shall appeal from any decision in such condemnation proceedings. Whenever the Authority shall make such deposit in connection with any condemnation proceeding, the making of such deposit shall not preclude the Authority from appealing any decision rendered in such proceedings. Upon the deposit with the clerk of the court of the appraised price, any person or persons entitled thereto may, upon petition to the court, be paid his or their pro rata share of 90% of such appraised price. The acceptance of such payment shall not preclude such person or persons from appealing any decision rendered in such proceedings. If the appraisement is greater or less than the amount finally determined by the decision in such proceeding or by an appeal, the amount of the increase or decrease shall be paid by or refunded to the Authority.

The terms "appraised price" and "appraisement" as used in this section mean the value determined by two competent real estate appraisers appointed by the Authority for such purposes.

The acquisition of any such property by condemnation or by the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be and is hereby declared to be a public use of such property.

(c) Title to any property acquired by the Authority shall be taken in the name of the Authority.

(d) In any eminent domain proceedings the court having jurisdiction of the suit, action or proceeding may make such orders as may be just to the Authority and to the owners of the property to be condemned and may require an undertaking or other security to secure such owners against any loss or damage by reason of the failure of the Authority to accept and pay for the property, or by reason of the taking of property occupied by such owners, but neither such undertaking or security nor any act or obligation of the Authority shall impose any liability upon the Commonwealth or upon any county, or other political subdivision of the Commonwealth.

(e) If the owner, lessee or occupier of any property to be condemned or otherwise acquire shall refuse to remove his property therefrom or give up possession thereof, the Authority may proceed to obtain possession in any manner provided by law.

(f) The Commonwealth hereby consents to the use of any lands or property owned by the Commonwealth, including lands lying under water, which are deemed by the Authority to be necessary for the construction or operation of the project.

§ 6. Revenue Bonds.—The Authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance, at one time or from time to time, of revenue bonds of the Authority for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of the project. The principal of and the interest on such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided for such payment. The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date or dates, as may be determined by the Authority, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the Authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Authority prior to the issuance of the bonds. The Authority shall determine the form and the manner of execution of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the Commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act or any recitals in any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, all such bonds shall be deemed to be negotiable instruments under the laws of the Commonwealth. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, as the Authority may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and for the interchange of registered and coupon bonds. The Authority may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or negotiated sale, and for such price, as it may determine will best effect the purposes of this Act.

The proceeds of the bonds shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the project, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the Authority may provide in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust agreement hereinafter mentioned securing the same. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue, by error of estimates or otherwise, shall be less than such cost, additional bonds may in like manner be issued to provide the amount of such deficit, and, unless otherwise provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust agreement securing the same, shall be deemed to be of the same issue and shall be entitled to payment from the same fund without preference or priority of the bonds first issued. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue shall exceed such cost, the surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund for such bonds.

Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the Authority may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The Authority may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Bonds may be issued under the provisions of this Act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the Commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by this Act.

§ 7. Trust Agreement.—In the discretion of the Authority any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the Authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the Commonwealth. Such trust agreement or the resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds may pledge or assign the tolls and other revenues to be received, but shall not convey or mortgage the project or any part thereof. Such trust agreement or resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the Authority in relation to the acquisition of property and the construction, improvement, maintenance, repair, operation and insurance of the project, the rates of toll to be charged, and the custody, safeguarding and application of all moneys. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth which may act as depositary of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the Authority. Any such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and of the trustee, and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. In addition to the foregoing, any such trust agreement or resolution may contain such other provisions as the Authority may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust agreement or resolution may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of the project.

§ 8. Revenues.—The Authority is hereby authorized to fix, revise, charge and collect tolls for the use of the project and the different parts or sections thereof, and to contract with any person, partnership, association or corporation desiring the use of any part thereof, including the right of way adjoining the paved portion, for placing thereon telephone, telegraph, electric light or power lines, and to fix the terms, conditions, rents and rates of charges for such use. Such tolls shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate of tolls from the project as to provide a fund sufficient with other revenues, if any, to pay (a) the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating such project and (b) the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same shall become due and payable, and to create reserves for such purposes. Such tolls shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any commission, board, bureau or agency of the Commonwealth or of any municipality, county or other political subdivision of the Commonwealth. The tolls and all other revenues derived from the project, except such part thereof as may be necessary to pay such cost of maintenance, repair and operation and to provide such reserves therefor as may be provided for in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust agreement securing the same, shall be set aside at such regular intervals as may be provided in such resolution or such trust agreement in a sinking fund which is hereby pledged to, and charged with, the payment of the principal of and the interest on such bonds as the same shall become due, and the redemption price or the purchase price of bonds retired by call or purchase as therein provided. Such pledge shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made; the tolls and other revenues or other moneys so pledged and thereafter received by the Authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the Authority, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any trust agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the Authority. The use and disposition of moneys to the credit of such sinking fund shall be subject to the provisions of the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or of such trust agreement. Except as may otherwise be provided in such resolution or such trust agreement, such sinking fund shall be a fund for all such bonds without distinction or priority of one over another.

§ 9. Trust Funds.—All moneys received pursuant to the provisions of this Act, whether as proceeds from the sale of bonds or as revenues, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this Act. The Authority shall, in the resolution authorizing the bonds or in the trust agreement securing such bonds, provide for the payment of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds and the revenues to be received to a trustee, which shall be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the Commonwealth, which shall act as trustee of the funds, and hold and apply the same to the purposes of this Act, subject to such regulations as this Act and such resolution or trust agreement may provide. The trustee may invest and reinvest such funds in such securities as may be provided in the resolution authorizing the bonds or in the trust agreement securing such bonds.

§ 10. Remedies.—Any holder of bonds issued under the provisions of this Act or of any of the coupons appertaining thereto, and the trustee under any trust agreement, except to the extent the rights herein given, may be restricted by such trust agreement, may either at law or in equity, by suit, action, injunction, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the Commonwealth or granted by this Act or under such trust agreement or the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this Act or by such agreement or resolution to be performed by the Authority or by any officer or agent thereof, including the fixing, charging and collection of tolls.

§ 11. Exemption from Taxation.—The exercise of the powers granted by this Act shall be in all respects for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Commonwealth, for the increase of their commerce, and for the promotion of their safety, health, welfare, convenience and prosperity, and as the operation and maintenance of the project by the Authority will constitute the performance of essential governmental functions, the Authority shall not be required to pay any taxes or assessments upon the project or any property acquired or used by the Authority under the provisions of this Act or upon the income therefrom; and the bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free and exempt from taxation by the Commonwealth and by any municipality, county or other political subdivision thereof.

§ 12. Revenue Refunding Bonds.—The Authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance of its revenue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any bonds then outstanding which shall have been issued under the provisions of this Act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds, and, if deemed advisable by the Authority, for the additional purpose of constructing improvements, extensions or enlargements of the project. The issuance of such bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and obligations of the Authority in respect of the same, shall be governed by the provisions of this Act in so far as the same may be applicable.

§ 13. Transfer to Commonwealth.—When all bonds issued under the § 14. Act Liberally Construed.—This Act, being necessary for the welfare of the Commonwealth and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof.

§ 15. Constitutional Construction.—The provisions of this Act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this Act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this Act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein.

CHAPTER 508

An Act to amend and reenact §§ 58-425, 58-426, 58-427, 58-434, 58-435, 58-440 and 58-441 of the Code of Virginia, relating to intangible personal property taxes.

[H 426]

Approved March 31, 1960

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. That §§ 58-425, 58-426, 58-427, 58-434, 58-435, 58-440 and 58-441 of the Code of Virginia be amended and reenacted as follows:

§ 58-425. Extension of time for filing returns.—The Department of Taxation may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing intangible returns whenever in its judgment good cause exists and shall keep a record of every such extension. Except in case of a taxpayer who is abroad no such extension shall be granted for more than six months. Whenever the time for filing a return be extended, interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month or fraction thereof from the time the return was originally required to be filed to the time of payment shall be charged and collected. If any taxpayer, who has been granted an extension of time for filing his return, fails to file his return within the extended time and to pay the full amount of the tax as shown on the face of the return at the time of filing, and the accrued interest, his case shall be treated the same as if no extension had been granted.

§ 58-426. Blank forms of returns to be furnished by Department of Taxation.—Blank forms of returns for intangible personal property shall be supplied by the Department of Taxation to the commissioners of the revenue, who shall mail or deliver them to the taxpayers not later than January fifteenth of each year. *

§ 58-427. Commissioner of revenue to obtain returns; audit and assessment.—Every commissioner of the revenue shall obtain a return of intangible personal property from every taxpayer within his jurisdiction who is liable to file such a return with him; but this duty of the commissioner of the revenue to obtain such return shall in no manner diminish the obligation of the taxpayer to file a return without being called upon to do so by the commissioner of the revenue or any other officer. Each commissioner of the revenue shall audit returns of taxpayers as soon as * practicable after they are made to him and shall assess the amount of taxes, or the amount of additional taxes, as the case may be, which appears to be due; but such auditing shall not be done in such manner or at such time in any case as will result in any delay on the part of the commissioner of the revenue in complying with §§ 58-440 and 58-441.

§ 58-434. Forwarding to and audit of returns by Department.—As soon as the returns of intangible personal property have been received by the commissioner of the revenue and entered upon the assessment * sheets or forms, the commissioner of the revenue shall forward such returns to the Department of Taxation; provided, however, that the Department of Taxation may authorize the commissioner of the revenue to retain such returns for such length of time as may be necessary to enable him to review them under § 58-427 and to use them in ascertaining delinquents. As soon as practicable after each such return is received by the Department it shall examine and audit it.

§ 58-435. Assessment and payment of deficiency; penalties; application for correction.—If the amount of tax computed by the Department shall be greater than the amount theretofore assessed, the excess shall be assessed by the Department and a bill for the same shall be mailed to the taxpayer and advice thereof given to the Comptroller. The taxpayer shall pay such additional tax to the State Treasurer within * thirty days after the amount of the tax as computed shall be mailed by the Department aforesaid. In such case, if the return was made in good faith and the understatement of the amount in the return was not due to any fault of the taxpayer, there shall be no * penalty * on the additional tax, because of such understatement, but interest shall be added to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month or fraction thereof from the time the said return was required by law to be filed until paid. * If the understatement is * false or fraudulent with intent to evade the tax a penalty of one hundred per centum shall be added * together with interest on the tax * at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month or fraction thereof from the time the said return was required by law to be filed until paid. * Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the taxpayer from applying to the circuit court of the county or the corporation or hustings court of the city wherein he resides for a correction of the assessment made by the Department of Taxation with right of appeal in the manner now provided by law.

§ 58-440. * Intangible personal property assessment sheets or forms.—The Department of Taxation shall prescribe and furnish assessment sheets or forms for the use of every commissioner of the revenue in making assessments of intangible personal property. These assessment sheets or forms shall be made out in as many copies as may be prescribed by the Department of Taxation. The original and, if the Department of Taxation so prescribes, one copy of each such sheet or form shall be delivered to the treasurer of the county or city; one copy shall be sent the Department of Taxation, and one copy shall be retained by the commissioner of the revenue. The commissioner of the revenue shall make out these assessment sheets or forms daily as and when returns are received, or in the case of additional assessments, as and when made, and shall continue so to make out such sheets or forms daily until all returns so received by him have been assessed on such sheets or forms; and the commissioner of the revenue shall each day deliver the original and, if the Department of Taxation so prescribes, one copy of each such sheet or form so made out that day to the treasurer of the county or city. Within ten days after the close of each month the commissioner of the revenue shall transmit to the Department of Taxation its copy of the assessment sheets or forms showing assessments made throughout such month. Intangible personal property shall not be entered on the personal property book.

§ 58-441. When, * where and how taxes on intangible personal property payable * and collectible.— Each taxpayer liable for intangible personal property tax shall pay the same to the treasurer of the county or city with whose commissioner of the revenue the taxpayer files his return at the time fixed by law for filing the return. The full amount of the tax payable as shown on the face of the return shall be so paid.*

If any payment is not made in full when due, there shall be added to the entire tax or to any unpaid balance of the tax, as the case may be, a penalty of five per cent of the amount thereof, and the entire tax or any unpaid balance of the tax, as the case may be, together with such penalty, will immediately become collectible, and interest upon such tax or any unpaid balance of the tax, as the case may be, and on the accrued penalty, shall be added at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month or fraction thereof from one month after the tax or any unpaid balance of the tax, as the case may be, was originally due until paid; but in the case of an additional tax assessed by the commissioner of the revenue under the provisions of § 58-427, if the return was made in good faith and the understatement of the amount in the return was not due to any fault of the taxpayer, there shall be no penalty on the additional tax because of such understatement, but interest shall be added to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month or fraction thereof from the time the said return was required by law to be filed until paid.

In every case the taxpayer may make payment to the treasurer of the county or city by attaching to his return when he files it with the commissioner of the revenue a check or money order for the proper amount made payable to the order of "Treasurer of the County of.....", or "Treasurer of the City of.....", as the case may be; and the commissioner of the revenue shall transmit all such checks and money orders to the treasurer at the time he delivers to the treasurer the assessment sheets or forms showing the assessments, or if memorandum assessments are made, at the time such memorandum assessments are certified to the treasurer. In those counties in which a director of finance performs the duties of a county treasurer, checks or money orders shall be made payable to the order of "Director of Finance of the County of .....". If any check be not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the taxpayer by whom such check was tendered shall remain liable for the payment of the tax and for all legal penalties and interest the same as if such check had not been tendered.

If the taxpayer on filing his return desires to pay in currency or coin, the commissioner of the revenue with whom the return is filed shall forthwith prepare a memorandum assessment on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the Department of Taxation and a copy of such memorandum assessment shall be immediately certified to the treasurer who shall receive the currency or coin from the taxpayer and give his receipt therefor. Memorandum assessments shall be subsequently entered by the commissioner of the revenue on the prescribed assessment sheets or forms; and the Department of Taxation may prescribe and furnish forms for making memorandum assessments in all additional cases in which, in the opinion of the Department, the same may be necessary to facilitate the assessment and collection of intangible personal property taxes.

Each county and city treasurer shall proceed promptly to collect all intangible personal property taxes for the tax year that have been assessed by the commissioner of the revenue and remain unpaid after the time fixed by law for payment and shall continue his efforts so to collect until the close of the then current calendar year. The collection of such taxes shall be enforced by legal process to the extent collection cannot be accomplished otherwise, and all remedies available to the treasurer for the collection of other taxes shall apply to the collection of intangible personal property taxes. Forms of necessary tax bills and receipts shall be prescribed by the Department of Taxation.

Within thirty-one days after the close of such calendar year the treasurer shall transmit to the Department of Taxation in such form as the Department of Taxation may prescribe such information and data as may be required by such Department with respect to all assessments made by the commissioner of the revenue during such calendar year as the treasurer was unable to collect. The Department of Taxation, upon receiving and examining the same, shall certify to the Comptroller the necessary information to enable the Comptroller to give such treasurer proper credit on the Comptroller's books for all unpaid items, and such treasurer shall not receive any of such taxes after he has transmitted such information and data to the Department of Taxation, but the same shall be paid directly into the State treasury. § 58-978 shall not apply with respect to the intangible personal property taxes covered by this paragraph.

The Department of Taxation shall have power to issue warrants for the collection of such taxes in the same manner and with the same effect as in the case of warrants issued for the collection of taxes assessed by such Department; and all provisions of law applicable to such warrants shall be applicable to the warrants issued for the collection of taxes under

If the oysters are going to a shucking or packing house located in the Commonwealth of Virginia for their use, then the tax shall be collected from the shucking house or packer. The tax shall be paid by such shucking house or packer between the first and tenth day of each month immediately following that in which such oysters are shucked, barrelled, packed or marketed.

All purchasers, planters, packers or shippers shall keep an accurate and complete itemized daily record of oysters barrelled, packed, shucked or marketed by them in a book to be kept for that purpose, which book will also indicate the number of bushels of oysters, before shucking, which came from public grounds and the number which came from private grounds. This book shall at all times be open for inspection by the Commissioner or any employee designated by him to inspect the same; and a failure to keep such a record shall be unlawful and shall be punishable as hereinafter provided.

§ 28-103. It shall be the duty of the oyster inspector in whose district a cargo of oysters is to be loaded, or a police-boat captain in the area, to inspect such oysters as they are loaded and to see that all measurements are a full measure of oysters as defined in § 28-188; and that they are properly culled; and when such oysters are loaded to collect the inspection tax, * bushel tax and/or the out-of-State tax, whichever one or more of these taxes will be due and payable to the Commonwealth. The inspector or police-boat captain shall furnish the owner, master or operator of such boat, vessel or motor vehicle a receipt showing the date, the destination, the number of bushels and the amount of each tax paid. This receipt is to be carried in the possession of the master or operator of the boat, vessel or motor vehicle and must be exhibited when requested by any oyster inspector or police-boat captain, a copy of which receipt shall be sent to the office of the Commission of Fisheries.

§ 28-108. Records to be kept by transporters.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of transporting shellfish within the State, either within the State or to a point outside of the State by truck, boat or otherwise, shall keep an itemized daily record of the number of bushels and/or gallons of oysters so transported. Such record shall be carried on the boat, truck or other vehicle and open at all times for inspection by the auditor of the Commission of Fisheries, any inspector or deputy inspector of the Commission of Fisheries, or any person so designated by the Commissioner of Fisheries.

§ 28-110. Carrying oysters out of State, or buying for that purpose.—(1) Permit required.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to carry, or attempt to carry, or to buy for the purpose of carrying out of this State, any oysters taken from the natural rocks, beds, or shoals in the waters of this Commonwealth until he has first obtained for each cargo a permit to do so from the inspector from whose district the cargo is to be taken, or from the captain of one of the oyster police boats, and has paid to the inspector or police-boat captain the required tax per bushel on the number of bushels in the cargo. Such permit shall be signed by the Commissioner of Fisheries and countersigned by the inspector or police-boat captain; and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to grant such permit, and designate the tax to be paid of not more than * three cents per bushel on each bushel of oysters, whenever after examination by him of the seed areas he shall ascertain that it will not injure or deplete the seed areas to grant such permits, and that the supply of seed oysters is in excess of demand for seed oysters by planters in the State of Virginia; and provided that the Commissioner shall have power to cease granting of such permits whenever he shall ascertain that the seed areas are becoming depleted, and that to continue to grant such permits would seriously injure the same.

(2) Penalty for violation.—Any person violating the provisions of this section, shall upon conviction thereof be confined in the penitentiary for one year or, at the discretion of the jury, may be confined in jail not exceeding one year, and fined not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(3) Forfeiture of boats, oysters, etc.—All boats and vessels, motor vehicles and other conveyances together with their tackle used in violating this section, and all oysters found thereon, shall be forfeited to the Commonwealth, in proceedings as provided for the enforcement of forfeitures.

(4) Aiding or abetting violation of section.—If any oyster inspector or other person shall knowingly aid and abet, or shall collude with any person in the violation of this section, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be confined in jail not exceeding six months and fined not exceeding five hundred dollars, either or both.

low water mark, who has not had as much as one-half acre of ground already assigned him on such front, or whose lease has terminated and is not to be renewed, may make application for planting ground to the inspector for the district in which the land lies, who shall assign to him such ground, wherever such owner may designate in front of his land, not exceeding in area one-half acre, to be not less than one hundred and five feet wide at its narrowest width, the same to be surveyed, platted, marked, assigned and recorded, in all respects as provided for assignments to persons in the next succeeding section. The one-half acre hereinabove mentioned shall begin at low water mark. For assigning to riparian owners, the surveyor shall receive fees as provided in § 28-124(7) of the Code of Virginia. Such owner shall have the exclusive right to the use thereof for the purpose aforesaid, such assignment to pass with the land to any subsequent owner. If any portion of such waterfront be assigned to a riparian claimant, which at the time is occupied by others with oysters actually planted thereon, the person occupying the same shall have eighteen months in which to remove such oysters, and such riparian claimant shall pay all survey and assignment and recording charges, incurred in connection with the transfer of said riparian oyster-planting ground.

This section, so far as the quantity of land to be assigned to and held by riparian owners is concerned, shall not apply to the counties of Northampton and Northumberland, but section six of chapter two hundred and fifty-four, acts eighteen hundred and eighty-three and eighteen hundred and eighty-four, shall continue in force as to such counties, but nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing a rental of less than one dollar and fifty cents per acre for riparian owners in the above-named counties of the land assigned them as such riparian owners; provided, that nothing in such section which restores to riparian owners in such counties one-fourth of their respective waterfronts, suitable for planting oysters, shall be so construed as to permit the owners of waterfronts to compel occupants of such fronts to remove their oysters from any fourth of such shores, if the residue of the shore be already in his, the landowner's possession, or be unoccupied; and provided, further, that this section shall not apply to riparian lands located in the city of Norfolk, Virginia, or to any owner of land located in said city, and having a waterfront.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the erection by riparian landowners of wharves, landings or other structures as otherwise permitted by law.

§ 28-124. Public oyster-planting grounds.—(1) Grounds comprising. —The residue of such waterfront in excess of what is already assigned or is reserved for the riparian owners, and the residue of the beds of the bays, rivers, creeks, and shores of the sea other than those within the limits of navigation projects adopted and authorized by the Congress and those required for the disposal of materials dredged incident to the maintenance of such projects, and other than natural oyster beds, rocks or shoals, as defined by law and included in the Baylor survey, may be occupied for the purpose of planting or propagating oysters thereon.

(2) Eligible applicants; provisions of section incorporated in lease.— Application for assignment of oyster-planting ground may be made by any resident of the State, or by any firm, or corporation chartered under the laws of this State for the purpose of oyster culture and the oyster business; and it shall be lawful for nonresidents to be stockholders in such a firm or corporation provided such firm or corporation employ only resident labor in planting, cultivating, selling and marketing the oysters grown on the ground or land so occupied, and provided its principal place of business for selling and marketing such oysters be maintained within this State; and the provisions of this section shall be incorporated in any lease of oyster ground to any such firm or corporation, and the violation thereof shall forfeit the lease.

(3) Application for assignment.—All applications for assignment of oyster-planting grounds shall be made in writing to the inspector of the district wherein the ground lies, in duplicate. The application shall state as near as may be the number of acres applied for and definite location, with the name of one or more prominent points or objects adjacent to such ground. A duplicate copy of this application shall be immediately forwarded to the office of the Commission of Fisheries by the inspector. It shall be the duty of any resident, firm or corporation desiring to obtain a location for planting or propagating oysters to apply to the inspector of the district in which such land lies to have the location ascertained, designated, surveyed and assigned.

(4) Publication of notice of application.—No assignment shall be made of any piece of ground containing more than ten acres until notice of application has been published once a week for at least four weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein the ground lies; and if no newspaper be published in the county, then it shall be published once a week for at least four weeks in some newspaper having general circulation therein. This provision is in addition to the sixty-day posting of the application required.

(5) Posting notice of application.—Notice of the application shall be posted by the inspector for not less than sixty days at the courthouse of the county in which the ground lies, and at two or more prominent places in the vicinity of such ground.

(6) Survey and marking of ground.—Sixty days after posting of the notice of application, the inspector shall notify the county surveyor, or such surveyor as may be designated by the Commission of Fisheries, to proceed to survey the ground, conforming to the rules and regulations of the Commission of Fisheries, and make a plat in duplicate of the same. The surveyor shall forward the plat of survey to the office of the Commission of Fisheries to be approved by the engineer of the Commission within thirty days, before same is assigned by the inspector. The ground shall be marked at the expense of the applicant, at the time the survey is made, and at the direction of the surveyor, with suitable stakes, smooth and free from snags and spurs; provided that where the War Department of the United States Government forbids the use of such stakes on account of interference with navigation, such other markers, as may be permitted by the War Department and approved by the Commission of Fisheries, may be used instead of stakes; and such suitable stakes or other markers, as aforesaid, shall be kept by the lessee in their proper places at all times during the continuance of such lease, so as to conform accurately to the survey. Should such stakes or other markers be removed, rot down, or be carried away, the lessee shall replace them in their proper places; and if he fails to do so within thirty days after being notified by the inspector of the district in which the ground lies, the lessee shall have no claim against any person for trespassing on the ground in any manner.

(7) Fees of surveyor.—Any applicant for oyster-planting ground shall pay an application fee of twenty-five dollars and in addition shall pay to the surveyor for his services five dollars for the first five acres or less; one dollar per acre or fraction thereof for each acre more than five and up to and including ten acres; fifty cents per acre or fraction thereof for each acre more than ten and up to and including thirty acres; twenty-five cents per acre for each acre and fraction thereof more than thirty acres up to and including fifty acres, and ten cents per acre for all over fifty acres; and for drawing plat of ground (which shall be in duplicate), one dollar per corner for each corner up to and including four corners, and fifty cents per corner for all additional corners over four. The surveyor shall have the same privileges and rights as to the collection of his fees as does the inspector.

(8) Restrictions on assigned acreage and applications.—No assignment, except in Chesapeake Bay, shall exceed two hundred and fifty acres. No applicant, after having had as much as two hundred and fifty acres of oyster ground assigned to him, shall again make application for another assignment of oyster grounds within six months from the day his assignment was recorded and completed as the statutes hereinafter provide. If an assignment be not made within six months after the expiration of the notice required by statute to be posted for sixty days, such application shall, upon the expiration of the six months, lapse and become null and void, unless an extension is allowed by the Commission, of not more than ninety days, provided, however, that in cases where a protest has been filed with the Commission against the granting of an application, the application shall not lapse until the Commission has finally acted upon the application.

(9) Restriction on acreage owned or operated.—No person, firm or corporation shall own or operate more than three thousand acres of oyster grounds in the waters of this State other than the Chesapeake Bay; and should ground in excess of three thousand acres be acquired by original assignment to the assignee, or be assigned to him or them by a lawful holder of such oyster ground, or as heir or distributee, or by devise or bequest, he or they shall, nevertheless, have a right to lawfully hold the same for and during the period of one year and shall have a legal right to assign the same. Should no assignment be made within one year, the oyster-planting ground so acquired, in excess of three thousand acres, shall revert to the Commonwealth of Virginia, and may be applied for by any person having a legal right to do so.

(10) Application for planting ground in Chesapeake Bay; acreage allowed; annual rental.—Application for planting ground in Chesapeake Bay in waters from fifteen feet or more in depth shall be made to the Commission of Fisheries, which shall have the right to accept or reject any such application as it may deem best for the public interests; and the number of acres to be assigned to any applicant shall not exceed five thousand acres, provided that such assignment shall not interfere with the established fishing rights. Any such application, surveying, and marking shall conform to the law pertaining to oyster-planting grounds. The annual rental per acre in the Chesapeake Bay, in waters from fifteen feet or more in depth, shall be such an amount per acre as the Commission of Fisheries may designate, but in no case shall it be less than * seventy-five cents per annum per acre.

(11) Application for other planting grounds.—After notice of an application has been posted and/or published for sixty days as hereinbefore required, the ground surveyed, and plat made in duplicate, the inspector shall assign the ground to the applicant; provided that, if in the judgment of the Commission of Fisheries it shall be wise to do so; and further provided that the applicant pay to the inspector the surveying charges as provided in paragraph (7), if the survey is made by an agent of the Commission of Fisheries, and the annual rental * and in addition, ten dollars for services and recording fees. When these provisions have been met, the inspector shall then assign the ground to the applicant, and no person, firm, or corporation shall be considered a lawful renter of oyster-planting ground until he shall have first complied with these provisions.

(12) Payment of annual rental to inspector; penalty for default.—Such an applicant shall pay to the inspector the annual rental for such ground at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per acre or any fraction thereof, per annum, except as provided for in the Chesapeake Bay, and for bathing ground *; such rental to be due on the first day of September of each year after the date of assignment; and if not paid on or before December fifth, a five per centum penalty shall be added to the annual rental charge, and the inspector may proceed to levy for rental and penalty.

(13) Duration of assignment; renewal of lease.—Each assignment shall continue in force for a period of twenty years from the date of assignment; but in so far as the rate of rent is concerned, those assignments or renewals of leases for oyster ground, wherever located within the State, made during the period from July 1, 1960, to July 1, 1962, the present amount of annual rental, for all ground, shall only be effective until July 1, 1962, and will be subject to continuation or adjustment at that time, but any and all other rights conveyed by any such contract of lease shall continue for the full term of the lease. This provision shall be so stipulated in each assignment or renewal; and if such applicant shall hold such ground for the full period of twenty years and at the expiration thereof decide to continue to hold the same and to have the lease renewed, then, provided such ground is still open to lease under the then existing law, such applicant shall have prior right over all others for a renewal of the lease of the ground; subject to any such laws or regulations as the General Assembly may enact or prescribe, and to such rental as may be then fixed by law. The interest in such ground shall be construed as a chattel real, and at the death of the renter pass into the hands of the personal representatives for the benefit of any creditors or heirs of the decedent. Should any lessee of oyster-planting ground have his ground, or any portion thereof resurveyed or should he reassign any or all of the ground, such resurvey or reassignment shall not be construed to be a twenty-year renewal of his lease, or as a new assignment of such ground, but shall be deemed to be a continuation of the original assignment, subject to all the limitations and conditions under which such ground was originally assigned.

(14) Possession gives no preference as to assignment.—Any person, firm or corporation in possession of any oyster-planting ground which has not been assigned according to law shall have no preference as to having the same assigned to him, but such ground shall be open to the first applicant.

(15) Recordation of plat and assignment.—The plat and assignment, as soon as practicable after completion, and after such ground shall have been assigned to the applicant, shall be filed for record by the inspector in the office of the Commission of Fisheries, and in the office of the clerk of the county by the Commissioner of Fisheries. The county clerk shall forthwith record the assignment and plat in a well-bound and substantial book, such recording to be indexed in the name of the assignee, and thereupon at once a written memorandum shall be posted by the clerk of the court at the front door of the courthouse, stating the name of the assignee, the date of recordation, the number of acres assigned, and the general location of the ground. The clerk of the court shall receive the said plat and assignment and record the same, and shall be paid by the Commission for his services a fee of six dollars for each assignment. After the same has been recorded, the assignee is entitled to withdraw the original from the clerk's office.

(16) Monthly reports of assignments.—Each inspector shall send in to the office of the Commission of Fisheries not later than the fifth of each month all assignments made by him during the preceding month, such assignments to be reported on blanks provided the inspector by the Commission, and these forms to state the name of applicant to whom assigned, the waters where, the number of acres, the date of assignment, and the address of the applicant.

(17) State guarantees rights of renter subject to right of fishing.—To any person, after having complied with all requirements, as set forth in the statutes necessary to have ground assigned to him, the State will

No person exercising such right of fishing shall use any device which is fixed to the bottom, or which, in any way, interferes with such renter's rights, or damages such bottoms, or the oysters planted thereon.

(18) Abandonment without liability for future rent.—The lessee of any oyster-planting ground, the rent of which is to be paid to the following September of any year, may abandon his or her holdings at any time without being liable for the payment of the rent for the following year, provided they notify the inspector, deputy inspector or the Commission of Fisheries in writing of their intention so to do before September first. Such notice, when received by the inspector or deputy inspector, shall be immediately forwarded by such inspector or deputy inspector to the office of the Commissioner.

§ 28-136. Oyster barrelers, shuckers, buyers and packers.—(a) Tax graduated by amount of oysters handled.—Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of shucking or packing oysters in this State shall pay a license tax for the privilege of transacting such business, to be graduated by the amount of oysters barreled, shucked or packed by him during the period for which his license is granted.

(b) Barrelers.—Every person engaged in buying oysters for marketing in barrels shall pay a yearly license tax, beginning January first of each year, to be graduated as follows: (1) For any number of barrels under one hundred bought and marketed, * three dollars and fifty cents; (2) for one hundred barrels and over, up to two hundred and fifty, * six dollars and seventy-five cents; (3) for two hundred and fifty barrels and over, up to five hundred, * eight dollars and twenty-five cents; (4) five hundred barrels and over, * eleven dollars and twenty-five cents.

(d) Reports required of licensees.—To ascertain the amount of oysters marketed it shall be the duty of such person, firm or corporation, on the first day of January of each year, or within ten days thereafter, to make report in writing, under oath, to the oyster inspector for the district for which he was licensed, showing the amount of oysters actually shucked or packed or sold in barrels by him during the next preceding twelve months.

(e) Report of violation; penalty.—Each inspector shall report every oyster packer who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this section. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section, or making a false report, shall pay a fine of not less than thirty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars for each offense.

(f) Tax in lieu of other taxes on capital.—The sum imposed under and by virtue of this section shall be in lieu of all taxes for State purposes on the capital actually employed in such business. The word "capital" shall include moneys and credits actively used in carrying on the business, including goods, wares and merchandise on hand, and all solvent bonds, demands, and claims made and contracted in the business during the preceding year. Real estate shall not be held to be capital, but shall be assessed and taxed as other specific property.

(g) Other property listed and taxed.—All other property held by such person, firm or corporation shall be listed and taxed as other property.

(h) Collection and disposition of license tax.—The sum required by this section to be paid when the license is taken out shall be collected in the same manner that the amounts required to be paid for other licenses under the oyster laws of the State are collected, and shall be accounted for as part of the oyster fund.

§ 28-137. Taking oysters, clams, scallops and mussels by hand or with tongs.—(1) Application for license.—Any resident of this State who shall be duly qualified, and desires to take or catch oysters, clams or scallops from the natural oyster beds, rocks, shoals or any other waters of the Commonwealth, or water under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth, not leased for planting purposes, by hand or with ordinary or patent tongs, or any instrument allowed by law other than a scrape or dredge, shall first apply in writing to the inspector for a license.

(2) License taxes.—The license taxes shall be as follows:

(a) For each pair of patent tongs, * fifteen dollars and seventy-five cents.

(b) For each person taking oysters or clams by hand, or with ordinary tongs, * five dollars and twenty-five cents.

A license issued for patent tongs shall entitle the holder, without the payment of an additional license tax, to use ordinary tongs while not using patent tongs. When such person shall have paid to the inspector the amount of license required of him, the inspector shall register such person, and shall issue to him a license, which shall entitle him during the season for which such license shall be issued to take or catch oysters, clams or scallops from the natural oyster rocks, beds or shoals, or any other water of the Commonwealth or within the jurisdiction thereof, for the period during which he is not prohibited by law from working on any such natural rocks, beds or shoals.

If any person is found oystering, clamming or scalloping upon the natural rocks, beds, shoals or other waters of the Commonwealth not assigned for shellfish culture without having been so licensed, or after having his license revoked, or if he violates any provision of this section, such person shall be fined not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars.

Five dollars of each license to take oysters with patent tongs and two dollars of each license to take oysters with ordinary tongs shall be segregated for the replenishment of the public rocks, beds, and shoals of the Commonwealth.

The license issued under the above provisions of this section shall entitle the holder to take either oysters, clams or scallops from the waters of this Commonwealth, or from waters under the jurisdiction of this Commonwealth, for and during the open oyster season; and shall, in addition thereto, permit the holder of such license to take or catch clams or scallops during the season prohibited by law for the taking of oysters, from the public clamming bottoms of the Commonwealth.

(3) Tax for taking clams.—For each person desiring to take or catch only clams by hand or with ordinary tongs the license tax shall be * three dollars and seventy-five cents and for any person desiring to use patent tongs for the purpose of taking clams only, he shall pay to the inspector a specific tax of * eight dollars and twenty-five cents for each pair of such tongs to be used; provided, that these licenses for the taking

(4) Possessing oysters while taking clams.—If any person shall have in his possession any oysters while taking or catching clams or scallops under the preceding subsection during the season in which it is unlawful to take or catch oysters from the natural rocks, beds or shoals, he shall be prima facie guilty of violating the law of taking or catching of oysters therefrom during the prohibited season, and upon conviction, the penalty shall be not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

(5) Taking clams in certain areas.—It shall be unlawful to take or catch clams at any time, or by any means, in Pocomoke Sound above a line drawn from Drum Bay Point, in the county of Accomack, and running a north-northwest course to the line between the State of Maryland and Virginia, except upon such grounds in those waters as may be set aside for public clamming or scalloping purposes by the Commission of Fisheries.

(6) Restriction on size of clams.—It shall be unlawful for any person to ship any clams measuring less than one and seven-sixteenths inches in length from hinge to mouth, or to take or catch clams under such size other than for seed or planting purposes.

(7) Digging mussels.—Any person desiring to dig mussels from the natural oyster rocks, beds and shoals shall pay an annual license of three dollars and fifty cents, provided that if he holds a license to take or catch clams or oysters he may dig mussels under the same license.

(8) Oysters and clams for household use exempted.—This section shall not apply to the taking or catching of oysters or clams for immediate household use but not for planting or for sale.

(9) Penalty for violation.—Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

§ 28-137.1.—Tax on oysters taken from the public rocks; disposition of revenues.—(1) There is hereby imposed a tax on all oysters taken from the public rocks. The tax shall be at the rate of * three cents per bushel. The tax shall apply to the bushel before shucking.

(2) The person taking such oysters shall be liable for the payment of the tax and all persons buying such oysters in this State shall collect such tax and pay the same to the Commission of Fisheries, hereinafter referred to as Commission. The Commission is authorized to adopt such regulations as may be required for the administration of the tax.

(3) The proceeds of the tax shall be expended by the Commission in a shell planting program so as to rehabilitate the oyster industry.

(4) The tax due hereunder if not paid may be collected as are other State taxes in proceedings to collect the same when delinquent.

§ 28-141. When small oysters are adhering so closely to the shell of the marketable oysters as to render removal impossible without destroying the young oyster, then it shall not be necessary to remove it.

In the inspection of oysters under this section, the law enforcement officer shall take at least one bushel of oysters at random. If as many as one Virginia oyster gallon measure of undersized unshucked oysters and/or shells are found per bushel inspected, it shall constitute a violation of this section. In the inspection of seed oysters taken from the James River seed area, or any other area designated as seed area by the Commission of Fisheries, if as many as one and one-half Virginia oyster gallon measure of shells are found per bushel inspected, it shall constitute a violation of this section. In the taking of the bushel of oysters, for the inspection, two five-eighths tomato baskets may be used for the bushel measure.

This section only applies to oysters taken, by any catcher, from the natural rocks and shall not apply to oysters which have been purchased by a buyer and in the buyer's possession.

Any person violating any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, in addition thereto, the entire cargo shall be confiscated and the violator shall be required to scatter such cargo of oysters on the public rocks under the supervision of an inspector and at the expense of the violator; and for failure or refusal to throw such entire cargo of oysters and shells back on the public rocks when ordered to do so by an inspector or his deputy or employee of the Commission of Fisheries, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

§ 28-142. Taking, buying or selling unculled oysters.—It shall be unlawful for any person to take, buy, sell or possess oysters under the prescribed size, and shells so taken from the natural rocks, beds and shoals.

Any person violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 56-338.52. Except as otherwise provided in § 56-338.51, no person shall engage in the business of a special or charter party carrier of passengers by motor vehicle on any highway within the State unless such person has secured from the Commission a certificate authorizing such business.

§ 56-338.53. If a proper objection is filed with the Commission before said date, the Commission may, in its discretion, fix a time and place for a hearing upon such application and the objection thereto, and if the Commission shall then find the proposed operation justified it shall issue a "C" certificate to the applicant. The Commission may issue a "C" certificate subject to such terms, limitations and restrictions as the Commission may deem proper. If the Commission shall find the proposed operation is not justified, the application shall be denied.

§ 56-338.54. The public convenience and necessity to be served by special or charter party carriers is to provide economical, comfortable and convenient transportation for special or charter parties and in the issuance of all types of certificates authorized by this chapter the Commission shall consider all facts bearing on that purpose, including existing means of transportation, the character of the applicant, and the kind and location of the equipment he proposes to use. The Commission shall issue no more certificates than the public convenience and necessity require, and shall place such restrictions upon such certificates as may be reasonably necessary to protect any existing motor carrier, whether such carrier is operating under certificates issued by the Commission under this chapter or under chapters 12 or 12.3 of this Title or otherwise, but the Commission shall not deny a certificate solely on the ground that the applicant may render special or charter party service originating at the same point or points as such other motor carriers.

§ 56-338.55. In addition to the grounds upon which a certificate issued to a common carrier other than a special or charter party carrier may be revoked, a certificate issued under this chapter may also be revoked, after notice and hearing, for failure to furnish economical, comfortable and convenient transportation or for failure to observe the requirements of this chapter or the rules and regulations hereunder as are prescribed by the Commission. A certificate shall be revoked whenever the holder requests in writing that it be revoked.

§ 56-338.56. Any such certificate may not be sold, transferred or leased.

§ 56-338.57. No certificate shall be issued to a foreign corporation or to a person who has not been a resident of Virginia for at least sixty days preceding the filing of an application therefor.

§ 56-338.58. No special or charter party carrier shall charge more or less than the fixed rate and/or charge for the type of vehicle involved set out in said carrier's published tariff which shall be on file with the Commission.

§ 56-338.59. No holder of a certificate under this chapter shall engage in special or charter party service through any broker, except in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and the Commission's rules and regulations hereunder.

§ 56-338.60. The Commission shall have the power to prescribe from time to time reasonable rules and regulations for the control and operation of charter party carriers, including their rates and charges, and may require reports from such carriers in respect thereto.

§ 56-338.61. Any person, other than a nonresident or a foreign corporation or a person exempted by § 56-338.51 who was lawfully engaged in the business of a special or charter party carrier as herein defined within this State on January one, nineteen hundred sixty, shall be issued an "A", "B" or "C" certificate, as requested by such person, if application for such certificate is made to the Commission within sixty days from July one, nineteen hundred sixty or within such additional time, not to exceed ninety days as the Commission may prescribe.

§ 56-338.62. Every person, upon filing with the Commission an application for a certificate, shall deposit with the Commission as a filing fee the sum of twenty-five dollars for either an "A" or a "B" certificate and the sum of ten dollars for a "C" certificate; and for the issuance of a duplicate certificate the sum of three dollars; such fees are to be paid for the purpose of defraying the expenses of administering the provisions of law with respect to the issuance of such certificates.

§ 56-338.63. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter all provisions of law applicable to common carriers of passengers shall apply to special or charter party carriers.
